Dr. D. H. Stewart, P.S.E.A. President Is Speaker Here

Makes Address To County Branch Of P.S.E.A. On Thursday Night

"SCHOOL SYSTEM IS FACING CRISIS"

DR. D. H. STEWART

In a stirring address before the members of the Lawrence County branch of the P. S. E. A., Dr. D. H. Stewart, president of the Pennsylvania State Education association spoke on the grave situation which confronts the schools in Pennsylvania, which may result in a breakdown of our educational system. Dr. Stewart spoke at a dinner meeting of the county branch, held in Union High school, Thursday evening.

Following the dinner, which was served at tables most attractively decorated by the art and domestic science teachers at Union, Arthur Gibson, president of the county branch, and principal at West Pittsburg took over as toastmaster.

Reports of the delegates to the 1948 state and district conventions were given by Assistant County Superintendent, R. F. Conway; S. G. McCullough, of Mt. Jackson schools, and Arthur Gibson.

Shortage Of Teachers

Dr. Stewart, who is superintendent of schools in Dormont, stated that the school system in Pennsylvania is confronted by its greatest crisis in history. The need for elementary teachers is most critical, he explained, due to the fact that not enough teachers are being trained in the state schools to meet even the normal demand for replacement, to say nothing of the need for teachers to meet the increased enrollment which is beginning to show up among pupils now just starting to school. This need, during the past few years, has been met by calling in former teachers, but that the bottom of the barrel has been scraped, and there is nothing left.

Dr. Stewart also stated that many of the teachers being trained in Pennsylvania Teachers Training schools are finding employment in neighboring states, where higher pay and better working conditions are to be found.

He urged the teachers to encourage pupils who are preparing to become teachers to enter the elementary field, where the opportunity will be the greatest during the next few years.

Dr. Stewart also explained the Truman's Program To Aid Backward Areas To Be Presented To U.N.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Feb. 25.—(INS)—The United States will present to the United Nations today the initial outline of President Truman's "bold new program" designed to aid backward areas of the world.

Assistant U. S. Secretary of State Willard Thorp is prepared to reveal to the economic and social council of 18 nations the blueprint for helping underdeveloped areas under consideration, as the first concrete step in implementing President Truman's proposal.

It is understood that as a first principle, President Truman has decided that the United Nations will be used as the major vehicle through which the program is to be carried out.

Caution On Hasty Plunge

Thorp will caution against a hasty plunge into a bewildering task of raising living standards and production levels in retarded areas of the world. He will stress the need for careful organizational measures to be discussed and blueprinted by U. N.

President Threatens To 'Barnstorm' Country For His 'Fair Deal' Program

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—President Truman, in a fighting mood today, threatens to "barnstorm" the country for support of his "fair deal" program if Congress fails to pass the legislation.

Mr. Truman's slashing Jefferson-Jackson day dinner address made it plain that he will "stump" the nation from coast-to-coast if necessary to arouse public support for enactment of his platform.

The chief executive's speech was reminiscent of his "give 'em hell" campaign last fall. He charged "special interests," "lobbies," and "pressure groups" with fighting the measures for which the people voted in November.

To Carry Out Pledges

He said that all of the pledges he made during the campaign will be carried out and declared:

Clergymen Face Bulgarian Trial

Fifteen Protestant Clergymen Accused Of Espionage For U. S. And Britain

SOFIA, Feb. 25.—(INS)—The Communist-dominated Bulgarian government placed on trial today 15 leading Protestant clergymen accused of espionage on behalf of the United States and Great Britain.

The proceedings in Sofia's great white marble palace of justice paralleled closely the recent trial and conviction of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty in Budapest.

7,000 Word Indictment

They began with the reading of a 7,000 word indictment, to which most of the defendants already are said to have pleaded guilty, and followed with interrogation on certain specific points.

The hushed courtroom was crowded with government and church officials and representatives of the press.

An American press secretary—Mary Johnston—two British legation observers and representatives of the foreign and domestic press were on hand as the hearings got underway.

The three-man tribunal which will hand down a verdict on the 15 high-ranking clergymen was headed by Constantine Undjiev, a veteran jurist.

One of the two state prosecutors is Dimiter Georgiev, supreme prosecutor for Bulgaria.

The hearings in the ceremonial hall of the Sofia palace of justice are expected to last about ten days.

To Reopen Hearings On Marshall Plan Aid For Britain

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(INS)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted today to reopen public hearings on the Marshall plan Monday for a review of Britain's aid requirements.

The action was taken in the light of a statement by British Foreign Undersecretary Christopher Mayhew Wednesday that Britain's economic recovery was virtually complete.

The committee decided to call Foreign Aid Chief Paul G. Hoffman and Thomas K. Finletter, his mission chief to Great Britain, to "review" their estimate that Britain should have 940 million dollars in Marshall plan funds for the second year of the program.

Chairman Connally (D) Tex., announced the decision, which was made on a motion by Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich. Vandenberg said the committee decided to have a "showdown" on the Mayhew statement.

Barnstorming Threat Brings Repercussions

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(INS)—President Truman's warning to the Democratic Congress that he will barnstorm the country for support of his "fair deal" program if it fails of enactment brought varied repercussions today.

First congressional reaction to Mr. Truman's fighting Jefferson-Jackson day dinner address in which he threatened to take the stump in behalf of his platform was sharply divided along party lines.

Republicans commented sardonically on the president's address. Sen. Brewster (R) Maine, observed:

"Mr. Truman was pretty tough on his Democratic Congress. It may nose out the 80th Congress for Mr. Truman's title of 'the worst'.

"We Republicans also have been critical of the Democrats for not getting out some of the legislation. Mr. Truman said it could be enacted in 15 days. It now has been 60 days with nothing done.

"Incidentally, I thought Mr. Truman was a little ungrateful—the Congress did at least raise his salary."

House Majority Leader McCormack (D) Mass., said:

"President Truman is a man of his word, and he will carry out his program. I am satisfied that the House will cooperate with him and I am confident that the Senate will cooperate as well."

Sen. Cain (R) Wash.: "As I understand it, everyone, Republican or Democrat, who opposes Mr. Truman's program in part or in whole represents 'special interests'. Common sense would deny the validity of any such assumption. If Mr. Truman is not satisfied with the

General Motors Makes Some Price Reduction As Wages Are Reduced

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(INS)—A drop in the government's cost-of-living index for the fourth straight month today brought a wage cut for 341,000 General Motors workers and a price decrease on the company's passenger cars and Chevrolet trucks.

This is the first reduction in the retail price of automobiles since the end of the war.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics in its monthly report said retail prices declined three-tenths per cent between mid-December and mid-January but are still 1.2 per cent higher than a year ago.

Scale Adjusted

The General Motors wage scale, under a contract which became operative last June 1 with the CIO United Auto Workers Union, is adjusted quarterly in line with the government's cost-of-living index.

As a result of the latest price dip, hourly wages for 270,000 GM hourly-rate employes will be cut two cents while the cost of living adjustments for 68,000 salaried personnel will be reduced $10 for March, April and May.

General Motors followed by announcing price cuts ranging from $10 to $40 on all its passenger cars and Chevrolet trucks.

GM President C. E. Wilson, explaining the first downward adjustment in car prices since the war, said the price cuts were formulated to "pass along to consumers the savings resulting from both the downward adjustment of wage and salary payments and the lowered cost of certain items."

Labor Party In Britain Plans New Program

By-Election Result Taken As Indication Of Victory In General Elections Of 1950

LONDON, Feb. 25.—(INS)—Britain's laborite government, heartened by its latest by-election victory over the conservatives, today charted a course for the crucial general elections of 1950, and further nationalization of Britain's industries.

A select group of the labor party's high command will meet in secret session today on the Isle of Wight, off the southern coast of England. Practically the entire cabinet, including Prime Minister Attlee and Foreign Secretary Bevin will be on hand to discuss the party's future plans.

The feeling in labor circles is that yesterday's by-election triumph in London's South Hammersmith—their 31st consecutive victory since 1945—augurs well for the next general balloting.

Laborite candidate Tom Williams defeated conservative Anthony Fell by a majority of 1,613 votes. Although this was 1,845 votes less than the laborite majority in 1945, the party is already hailing it as a "glorious victory."

Dr. Anna Strong Appears Before Federal Jury

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—(INS)—Dr. Anna Louise Strong, American writer deported from Russia as a "spy", went today before the New York federal grand jury investigating pre-war Communist espionage.

The 64-year-old Nebraska-born writer appeared at the federal building accompanied by her lawyer, O. John Rogge, and both conferred with Thomas Donegan, special assistant U. S. attorney general before going before the grand jury.

After she entered the jury rooms, Rogge—former assistant U. S. attorney general—told newsmen:

"She will cooperate fully. She has nothing to hide".

Dr. Strong arrived in New York by plane yesterday and immediately was handed a summons to appear before the grand jury.

Asked where Dr. Strong is staying in New York, Rogge said:

"That's one question I won't answer. After she leaves here I want her to get fully rested. She had a doctor last night to give her something to make her sleep".

Rogge declared that he met Dr. Strong for the first time yesterday. The writer was surrounded by photographers when she entered the federal building. About 40 spectators were on hand.

France May Take Action Against Leader Of Reds

(BULLETIN)

PARIS, Feb. 25.—(INS)—The French government moved today to prosecute two top French Communists on charges of placing their allegiance to Russia above their loyalty to France.

Backed by an overwhelming anti-Communist vote of confidence, the government ordered a judicial investigation of statements by the Communists that Frenchmen must support the red army in the event of war between France and Russia.

PARIS, Feb. 25—(INS)—The French government, backed by a resounding anti-Communist vote of confidence, today considered legal action against Communist chief Maurice Thorez.

The national assembly last night voted 386 to 182 in support of a resolution censuring Thorez for his appeal that French workers collaborate with the Soviet army in the event of another war.

The resolution marked a notable victory for Premier Henri Queuille. Only the Communist bloc of deputies voted against the resolution, which empowered the government to take action against Thorez.

Promises Legal Action

Queuille, leader of France's middle-of-the-road coalition government, promised legal action against the burly Communist leader, but did not indicate what exact form it would take. He said that the ministry of justice has been ordered to start proceedings.

Thorez touched off the latest governmental squabble on Tuesday when he suggested that the workers of France react toward the Red army in the same manner as did the peoples of eastern Europe. He intimated that the Soviet forces would come not as invaders, but as "liberators," fighting against aggressive powers.

Centrist and right-wing quarters angrily protested his remarks, some comparing them to an outright appeal for civil war.

Chapin Arrives To Make Report About Hungary

U. S. Minister To Hungary Says Police Terror In Country Increasing

WAS NOT ALLOWED AT CARDINAL'S TRIAL

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—(INS)—Selden Chapin, U.S. minister to Hungary, charged today that the Communist-run Hungarian government is resorting to "increasing and very considerable police terror" to keep the country's reaction to its policies in check.

He said Hungary's police terror has been increased to smother public indication and anger over the trial and life imprisonment of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty.

Chapin, whose recall was demanded by the Budapest government, returned home today aboard the liner Queen Mary for consultations with Secretary of State Acheson.

"Annoyed And Troubled"

Chapin described the present Hungarian regime as a "small group of power hungry men carefully trained in the Moscow school and owing allegiance only to the Kremlin."

He said the Hungarian government is "annoyed and troubled" by the "amorphous and repressed" character of Hungarian public reaction.

The diplomat asserted that because of its uncertainty the government is currently pushing a "hysterical press campaign" and holding public meetings to justify its action in the Mindszenty case.

Chapin, who was assigned to Budapest in June 1947, said he will report to the state department in Washington on Monday on the "circumstances" which he said prompted Secretary of Acheson to order his return for consultations.

Accompanied by his wife, Chapin said the Hungarian people are "not responsible for the present regime

French Police Raid Offices Of Red Newspapers

PARIS, Feb. 25.—(INS)—French police raided offices of three Communist newspapers today and the government moved to prosecute two top Communists on charges of placing their allegiance to Russia above their loyalty to France.

The police swept into the offices of the Communist weekly "Regards", the semi-military newspaper "France D'Abord" and the newspaper "Hier Et Aujourdhi".

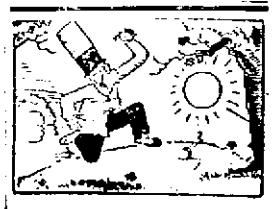

The last newspaper is published by a concern called "Editions Sociales" which is headed by the wife of Charles Hilsum, president and general manager of the Commercial Bank of Northern Europe.

This bank, it was recalled, was accused by government officials of subsidizing the Communist-led miners strike last year. It holds the bank deposits of the French Communist party, many of its leaders, and a number of "front" organizations.

By-Election Result Taken As Indication Of Victory In General Elections Of 1950

LONDON, Feb. 25.—(INS)—Britain's laborite government, heartened by its latest by-election victory over the conservatives, today charted a course for the crucial general elections of 1950, and further nationalization of Britain's industries.

A select group of the labor party's high command will meet in secret session today on the Isle of Wight, off the southern coast of England. Practically the entire cabinet, including Prime Minister Attlee and Foreign Secretary Bevin will be on hand to discuss the party's future plans.

The feeling in labor circles is that yesterday's by-election triumph in London's South Hammersmith—their 31st consecutive victory since 1945—augurs well for the next general balloting.

Laborite candidate Tom Williams defeated conservative Anthony Fell by a majority of 1,613 votes. Although this was 1,845 votes less than the laborite majority in 1945, the party is already hailing it as a "glorious victory."

Dr. Anna Strong Appears Before Federal Jury

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—(INS)—Dr. Anna Louise Strong, American writer deported from Russia as a "spy", went today before the New York federal grand jury investigating pre-war Communist espionage.

The 64-year-old Nebraska-born writer appeared at the federal building accompanied by her lawyer, O. John Rogge, and both conferred with Thomas Donegan, special assistant U. S. attorney general before going before the grand jury.

After she entered the jury rooms, Rogge—former assistant U. S. attorney general—told newsmen:

"She will cooperate fully. She has nothing to hide".

Dr. Strong arrived in New York by plane yesterday and immediately was handed a summons to appear before the grand jury.

Asked where Dr. Strong is staying in New York, Rogge said:

"That's one question I won't answer. After she leaves here I want her to get fully rested. She had a doctor last night to give her something to make her sleep".

Rogge declared that he met Dr Strong for the first time yesterday. The writer was surrounded by photographers when she entered the federal building. About 40 spectators were on hand.

France May Take Action Against Leader Of Reds

(BULLETIN)

PARIS, Feb. 25.—(INS)—The French government moved today to prosecute two top French Communists on charges of placing their allegiance to Russia above their loyalty to France.

Backed by an overwhelming anti-Communist vote of confidence, the government ordered a judicial investigation of statements by the Communists that Frenchmen must support the red army in the event of war between France and Russia.

PARIS, Feb. 25.—(INS)—The French government, backed by a resounding anti-Communist vote of confidence, today considered legal action against Communist chief Maurice Thorez.

The national assembly last night voted 386 to 182 in support of a resolution censuring Thorez for his appeal that French workers collaborate with the Soviet army in the event of another war.

The resolution marked a notable victory for Premier Henri Queuille. Only the Communist bloc of deputies voted against the resolution, which empowered the government to take action against Thorez.

Promises Legal Action

Queuille, leader of France's middle-of-the-road coalition government, promised legal action against the burly Communist leader, but did not indicate what exact form it would take. He said that the ministry of justice has been ordered to start proceedings.

Thorez touched off the latest governmental squabble on Tuesday when he suggested that the workers of France react toward the Red army in the same manner as did the peoples of eastern Europe. He intimated that the Soviet forces would come not as invaders, but as "liberators," fighting against aggressive powers.

Centrist and right-wing quarters angrily protested his remarks, some comparing them to an outright appeal for civil war.

UNDERSECRETARY NAMED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(INS)—President Truman today nominated Michael J. Galvin of Boston, Mass., to be undersecretary of labor.

Galvin is an attorney, associated with a law firm in Boston.

Chapin Arrives To Make Report About Hungary

U. S. Minister To Hungary Says Police Terror In Country Increasing

WAS NOT ALLOWED AT CARDINAL'S TRIAL

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—(INS)—Selden Chapin, U.S. minister to Hungary, charged today that the Communist-run Hungarian government is resorting to "increasing and very considerable police terror" to keep the country's reaction to its policies in check.

He said Hungary's police terror has been increased to smother public indication and anger over the trial and life imprisonment of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty.

Chapin, whose recall was demanded by the Budapest government, returned home today aboard the liner Queen Mary for consultations with Secretary of State Acheson.

"Annoyed And Troubled"

Chapin described the present Hungarian regime as a "small group of power hungry men carefully trained in the Moscow school and owing allegiance only to the Kremlin."

He said the Hungarian government is "annoyed and troubled" by the "amorphous and repressed" character of Hungarian public reaction.

The diplomat asserted that because of its uncertainty the government is currently pushing a "hysterical press campaign" and holding public meetings to justify its action in the Mindszenty case.

Chapin, who was assigned to Budapest in June 1947, said he will report to the state department in Washingotn on Monday on the "circumstances" which he said prompted Secretary of Acheson to order his return for consultations.

Accompanied by his wife, Chapin said the Hungarian people are "not responsible for the present regime

French Police Raid Offices Of Red Newspapers

PARIS, Feb. 25.—(INS)—French police raided offices of three Communist newspapers today and the government moved to prosecute two top Communists on charges of placing their allegiance to Russia above their loyalty to France.

The police swept into the offices of the Communist weekly "Regards", the semi-military newspaper "France D'Abord" and the newspaper "Hier Et Aujourdhi".

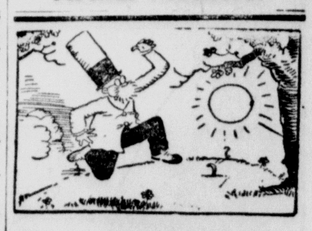

The last newspaper is published by a concern called "Editions Sociales" which is headed by the wife of Charles Hilsum, president and general manager of the Commercial Bank of Northern Europe.

This bank, it was recalled, was accused by government officials of subsidizing the Communist-led miners strike last year. It holds the bank deposits of the French Communist party, many of its leaders, and a number of "front" organizations.

Now Joe Magnettic is highly athletic, he tosses a ball with a vim, and back on the sand lots he powdered the ball, and reports were good about him. So the big league scout had him sign his name and he's headed now for a camp, convinced that DiMaggio's just a bum, and Musial only a tramp. But soon he'll know what the big league is, and just what it takes to play, when those sharpshooting fellows get through with him, and it's 38 today.

Burns Fatal To Seventh Ward Man

Carl D. Hutchinson Dies In Hospital Late Thursday Afternoon

Carl D. Hutchison, aged 56 years, of 406 North Liberty street, succumbed in the New Castle Hospital at 3:15 p.m., Thursday as a result of burns about the entire portion of his body, which he suffered about 9:15 a.m., Thursday, when his bed clothing caught fire from a cigaret he was smoking.

Mr. Hutchison had been paralyzed on his right side, and was also blind, as the result of a stroke suffered some months ago, and it is believed that he was unaware that the bedclothing was afire because of this condition, until he was critically burned.

A former fireman for the Pennsylvania railroad, Mr. Hutchinson was born in Polk, Pa., April 7, 1893 and had resided in New Castle for the past 26 years. He was a member of the Mahoning Methodist church and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Dorothea Barge Hutchinson; two sons, Howard F., of this city and Edward P., of Canton; one daughter, Mrs. Richard Biddle of this city, two grandchildren and two brothers, L. R. Hutchinson of Franklin, and Charles A. Hutchinson, of Warren, Pa.

The body has been removed to the W. S. Caskey funeral home, 101 West Madison avenue where funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Rev. J. L. Petrie, pastor of the Mahoning Methodist church officiating.

Burial will take place in Sandy cemetery, Polk, Pa.

Friends will be received at the funeral home anytime after 7 o'clock this evening while the family will be present from 7 to 9 tonight and 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 Saturday evening.

PLAN HOUSING CONFERENCE HERE

"1949 Economy Housing Program" and what it means to the entire community. This meeting is a part of a broad national program and will be held at The Castleton hotel, March 10. It will be an affair beginning at 12:00 noon luncheon.

Discussing the program, Oakley W. Heselbarth, Director of the Federal Housing Administration for western Pennsylvania, said:

"I can do no better than emphasize what Raymond M. Foley, Housing and Home Finance Administrator, and Franklin D. Richards, FHA Cmmissioner, have pointedly said many times. This is that 'the construction of safe, livable homes at prices reasonably related to the incomes and financial resources of the vast majority of the people is a national necessity.'

"We all know that private enterprise with government support can and will meet this necessity and provide new housing in the lower-priced field on a scale commensurate with the great need. It is the hope of all of us to produce lower-cost homes in a volume never before attained. Every means at the disposal of the Federal Housing Administration is directed toward this objective. But it is a task for all. When we realize that there will always be a market for lower-priced homes, we get some grasp of what a tremendous undertaking it is, and that it cannot be accomplished overnight. We must all work toward the success of this program which is not only the '1949 Economy Housing Program' but one that must be continuing for many years to come."

TRUMAN'S PROGRAM TO BE PRESENTED TO U. N.

is calculated to allay current fears in the United States that the president's program, in its immediate concept, will call for an outlay of billions of dollars and consequently future tax increases.

The Truman program is fated to run rapidly into heavy opposition by the Soviet bloc. Recent allusions to this program by Thorp immediately drew fire from both the Russian and Polish delegates.

Some U. N. observers anticipate that the bitter battle provoked between East and West by the Marshall Recovery Plan will now be extended to the president's plan.

Patricia Jelm Helbig, 28, is shown in court at Cleveland, Ohio, where she is fighting action by her former husband, Charles Jelm, 27, to set aside their divorce decree that would result in her being married to two men. The pretty Akron, Ohio, socialite divorced Jelm last March and married his erstwhile pal and fraternity brother, Jack Helbig, 28, with whom she allegedly admitted intimacies while she was still married to Jelm. Jelm contends that his ex-wife continued to live with him six months after she was granted a divorce.

progress of Congress he should take it up with the Democratic leaders who are in control of the program."

Sen. Wiley (R) Wis., former Senate Judiciary Chairman: "The president's thought of a post-campaign report to the nation might prove to be a two-edged sword. It would give an opportunity for the opposition to tell the facts that were not told in the last campaign."

Other comment:

Rep. Mitchner (R) Mich., member of the House Republican policy committee—"There is no reason why the president can't express his views to the country. I wonder, however, if it ever occurred to him that one could outstretch himself. Members of the Congress will reflect the sentiments of the people."

Rep. Sabath (D) Ill., chairman of the House Rules Committee—"It's a speech right from the shoulder. Without any hesitation the president reiterated the pledges and the promises made by the party. Naturally he expects Congress will carry out the wishes of the vast majority of the American people. I'm for the president's plan to take the issues to the country. When the people are informed they will go after their senators and congressmen."

PRICE DECREASE FOR SOME AUTOS IS ANNOUNCED

the March cost-of-living adjustment was an indication that prices are on the way down.

The General Motors corporation this morning announced tags on its 1949 models will be marked down $10 to $40. The announcement was made shortly after GM workers were told their wages will be cut two cents an hour because of the drop in the cost-of-living.

UAW officials welcomed the pay decrease. T. A. Johnston, assistant director of the UAW-CIO GM department, said in a prepared statement that "GM workers accept the March cost-of-living adjustment not as a 'pay cut' but as an indication that prices are on the way down."

Johnston added the union is "well aware that economic security depends on bringing about a balance between purchasing power and prices—and prices have a long way to go down."

Johnston issued his statement inu the absence of UAW President Walter P. Reuther who is taking a three-week vacation imposed by doctors treating his wounded arm.

and the vast majority of the people are still very friendly to the United States."

The veteran diplomat, who is a native of Erie, Pa., said he heard many Communist sympathizers in Hungary refer to the United States as an "enemy country."

Referring to the Mindszenty trial, Chapin declared:

"I don't think we can discount the use of drugs or other physical pressure on the Cardinal or his subordinates. I have no evidence he was under the influence of drugs at the trial, but there are all kinds of pressures which can be used on a man today under such a regime."

The minister whom the Communist-dominated government sought to link with the alleged Mindszenty plot to overthrow the government, recalled that he was not allowed to attend the trial, and added:

"No Hungarian speaking person I had confidence in were allowed to attend."

Chapin declared the state department will decide whether he returns to Hungary.

He refused to elaborate on what has happened in Hungary until he has had a chance to report to Washington. He said he will "give a fuller story" after he chacks in with his superiors.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved husband and father, Lawrence Fontaniello, who passed away one year ago today, Feb. 25, 1948.

"Quickly and suddenly came the call, his sudden death surprised us all. It was a bitter grief, a shock severe, to part with one we loved so dear. They say time heals all sorrow and helps one to forget, but time so far has only proved how much we miss him yet. God give us strength to fight it and courage to bear the blow, but what it meant to lose him, no one will ever know."

Soviet Schedules War Maneuvers In Airlift Lanes

BERLIN, Feb. 25.—(INS)—Soviet officials today scheduled air-to-air firing and fighting maneuvers in the airlift corridors, and drew immediate verbal protests from the U. S., Britain and France.

The Russians announced that air-to-air shooting practice would be held at "airlift altitudes' in the Buckeburg-Berlin corridor, through which most of the British transports fly.

The Soviets also scheduled fighter operations by Yak and PO-2 planes at five airfields near the western airlanes. These were also described as taking place at altitudes used by the airlift planes.

PRESIDENT MAY BARNSTORM U. S. FOR HIS PROGRAM

around the country to tell the people how their government is getting on.

"If we keep the people fully informed, I am confident that they will support the Congress and the president in our fight against the special interests."

It was the "special interests" that Mr. Truman assailed time and again during his campaign which carried him criss-cross 30,000 miles of the United States on a special train.

He warned of making another such tour to arouse the people if his legislative program bogs down in Congress.

Mr. Truman delivered his main address at a $100-a-plate dinner at the Stataler Hotel. Earlier, he spoke extemporaneously at the Mayflower Hotel. Six thousand Demoratic leaders and workers attended the two dinners.

Threatens To Ask For Draft Law For Doctors, Dentists

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(INS) — Defense Secretary Forrestal threatened today to ask Congress for a draft of doctors and dentists unless more civilian medical men volunteer for military service.

Forrestal also said doctors and dentists might be held in the service "beyond their normal time" unless there are more volunteers.

He told a news conference that he has undertaken an "intensive campaign" to get volunteers from the 15,000 men who were educated as physicians and dentists during the war but did not serve in the armed services.

MILD RECOVERY IN STOCK MARKET

String Of Consecutive Declining Sessions Is Ended During Morning

NEW YORK, Feb 25.—(INS)—The stock market staged a mild recovery in early dealings today, ending a string of five consecutive declining sessions.

Among the industrial issues to chalk up small fractional gains were Chrysler up ⅜ at 51⅞; U. S. Steel up ⅛ at 70½; American Woolen up ⅝ at 35⅛, and International Paper up ⅛ at 45½.

Laggards included such prominent stocks as General Motors, Union Carbide, General Electric and Anaconda which dropped fractions.

Curtiss Wright was an outstanding strong spot, opening ⅝ higher on a block of 5,000 shares and then extending its rise to 9¼ for a net gain of ½.

Rails also favored the upside after their recent prolonged selloff.

Southern Pacific gained ⅛ to 39⅝, Rock Island was up ⅛ at 28½ and Southern Railway was up ⅜ at 35.

Standard Oil of New Jersey showed up best in the oils with a gain of ⅜ to 66.

The bond market ruled irregular, with rails mostly lower.

Commodities did little. Wheat gained up to ⅜, and corn was up ⅛. Cotton eased 25 cents a bale.

Titans Ready For Struggle With Pitt Five At Farrell

The Farrell High school gym will be the scene of the outstanding collegiate cage game in the tri-state area Saturday night when Westminster meets Pitt. The contest is technically a home game for the Titans but this will be the fourth time the game has been played on the spacious Farrell court.

Indications are that 1,000 of Westminster's 1200 students will make the 14 mile trip to Farrell. The game has become a highlight for the Titans. A special fleet of buses will convey the students.

Planning Strategy

Coach Grover C. Washabaugh is hearing down on his team to get ready for Pitt. He has not divulged what strategy he will use in an effort to stop Pitt's famed figure eight offense. The Titans simply jammed up the arena around the foul line in the first game at Pitt, February 12. The strategy paid off until the last five minutes when the Pittites reverted to a fast break. They overcame a five point deficit to win by a nine point margin.

The contest is certain to be splashed with color. It was in the Westminster tilt at Pittsburgh that Carlson had Bimbo Cecconi climb on the shoulders of a big center to work a pivot play. There is always a possibility that Pitt will sit in back court if the Titans clog up the foul line area which leave the figure eight with no place to unwind. Three times the Skyscraper boys threatened this in the first meeting.

Undecided On Lineup

Washabaugh has not definitely decided what lineup he will start but it seems certain that Dick Fuhrer, 6-ft. 1-in. husky from East Brady will start at forward. Fuhrer looked good against Pitt in the first game and this won him a starting berth in the last three tilts.

A development in the Thiel game Tuesday night may have crystallized Coach Grover C. Washabaugh's contemplated plan of adopting the two-platoon system which W.J. is using successfully.

New Team Clicks

After removing his regulars in the third quarter, Washabaugh had a team on the floor which was composed of Ed. Halas, center; Clyde Shaffer and Johnny Abraham, forwards, and Pat King and Harry Abraham, guards. This quintet rolled up 27 points against Thiel and worked smoothly together. Halas and King, both 6-ft. 3-in., supplied the necessary height and the others furnished the speed.

Mehalic and Jacobs will officiate.

He's Still Hoping

MICKEY OWEN, former major league catcher who was suspended with several others when he jumped to the Mexican league two years ago, works out with the bar bells in a Springfield, Mo., gym, hoping to get back in baseball soon. Owen told newsmen he "hopes Gardella loses his suit against baseball." (International)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25.—(INS)—Final entries are due Saturday for the fifth annual Penn-Ohio Collegiate Association swimming championships to be held at Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh on Saturday, March 5.

Member colleges of the organization include Allegheny, Case, Carnegie Tech, Edinboro, Lock Haven, Slippery Rock, Washington & Jefferson, and Westminster.

Westminster and Slippery Rock have dominated the meets in previous years, each school capturing the championship two years.

PULASKIS TRIM EPWORTH 89-55

Led by young Frank Presnar, former Union High star, the K. Pulaskis banged the Epworth team of the church league for an 89-55 defeat at the K. P. hall last night. Presnar in his first game with the Pulaskis since ending his high school career scored 18 points.

Joey Danish with 16, Ryejaz with 15 and Louie Plonka with 14 were winners. Morgan, Wainio and Stokes led the Epworths. The Pulaskis led at the half 34 to 32, and made a runaway of the game in the final two periods.

Sunday the Pulaskis will play a strong team as yet not announced, according to Al Gonet, newly elected president of the Pulaski Sports club.

It will no doubt be a crackerjack ball game Saturday and will pack the East Brook High gym to capacity.

Maley, former Southern Methodist star, played for the Boston Yanks before joining the Packers. He was signed as a free agent. Maley told Coach Johnny Michelosen he believed he would fit into the Steelers' single wing better than the T of Boston and Green Bay.

BREACH OF PRINCIPLE

It has not been revealed whether something more than usual was bothering Senator Claude Pepper, Florida's gift to the United States Senate, when Ira Mosher, former president of the National Association of Manufacturers, was testifying before the Senate Labor Commmittee. Nor has he explained his outrageous statement that "it was the poor people whose sons went to the battlefield, and a lot of manufacturers' sons who stayed home and got rich.'

Mr. Mosher, it happens, lost three members of his family during the war. Later, the Senator tried to ease the situation by stating that he had only made a generalization. This, of course, only served to compound his indiscretion.

By coincidence, on the same day, a naval officer, Capt. Ross A. Dierdoff, was relieved of duty and reprimanded officially for making a derogatory remark about Senator Harley M. Kilgore of West Virginia. According to news accounts, the Senator had made a slurring remark about the Captain's superior officer, and the Captain's rejoiner was that Senator Kilgore was a "politician not fit for the Admiral to wipe his shoes on." To anyone knowing service traditions, it is obvious that the Captain dug his own grave as far as his Navy future was concerned.

The obvious generalization here is that Senators can and do indulge in shocking lapses of propriety, and get away with it. That is not the spirit of congressional immunity, but that is what it has come to mean. The naval officer needs no defense, nor does Mr. Mosher.

But it does seem that the two Senators have left themselves open to charge of an unforgivable breach of principle. It's something that should be viewed with resentment and dismay.

SIAMESE KITE

Georgraphical outline of Siam, with its hulking upper section, and its long trailing tail that slants down toward the Indies, makes it look for all the world like a kite. Now the winds of politics and ideologies are making it act like one.

It is the only free country, outside of Burma, in the southeast Asia but it has the misfortune to be bounded on the south and east by European colonial possessions. Communists for years have been making political hay in these countries by urging the natives to revolt against their "exploiters." Since the victory of the red general, Mao Tse-Tung, in the north, the red star in Burma, Malaya and French Indo-China has been on the ascendant. It is Siam's hard luck to be in the middle.

Siam's Premier Songgram has now declared a state of emergency and closed the border between his country and Malaya because of communist pressure. Indications are that he has as much to worry about within the country as without. Of the estimated 2,000,000 Chinese in Siam, half are said to be communist sympathizers. Bangkok, the capital, has long been considered by the British to be the point from which the communist drive in southeast Asia has been directed.

They consider it significant that the only Russian legation in the whole area bounded on the north by China, and on the west by India, is at Bangkok.

Meanwhile, Premier Songgram and 20-year-old King Phumiphon watch nervously while the winds increase in intensity. The storm may come from the east, where the Indo-Chinese rebel leader, Ho Chi Minh, is reported to have joined forces wtih Generalissimo Mao—or from Malaya, or from Burma. The kite rides uneasily. At any time it may fall.

UNDIGNIFIED, UNWORTHY

Says the Philadelphia Inquirer:

The startling language employed by President Truman to indicate his feelings toward a radio commentator may have been a slip of the tongue, but it represents a grave lack of judgment and a resentment of criticism definitely not in keeping with high public office.

Some people will sympathize with the President's impatience toward critics who tell him how to run his office, whom to fire and whom to keep among his top associates. But being President entails exposure to criticism and any President can benefit on occasion if his reaction to criticism, whatever its source, is not warped by emotion.

As for the barracks-room language Mr. Truman used, it was shockingly undignified and unworthy of the Presidency. Addressed to a relatively small gathering, it was nevertheless certain to be disseminated to the country, and to the world. Mr. Truman appeared to forget that he is President, that this casual vulgarity would give offense to millions of American citizens and arouse puzzlement among foreign peoples unacquainted with the coarser phases of the American idiom.

It is possible that by now Mr. Truman regrets his error. For his own good and the Nation's, he should remember that the critics are sometimes right, and, right or wrong, he should not allow them to make the President of the United States forget himself and the dignity of his office.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

For the first time since its tragic eclipse in the second world war, the French fleet emerges as a vast potential in world peace and security today.

In a move that may presage a new era in shipbuilding and reconstruction, France put forward the virtues and values of her most important strategic areas in Algeria as integral segments of the western defense area that should be written into the North Atlantic pact.

They are the North African cities of Algiers, Oran and Constantine, all bases of vast importance in the last war and still of great tactical value in the construction of a closely-knit fabric of western protection against aggression.

Algiers and Oran are fine ports and Constantine, a magnificent ancient city situated on a high plateau, is ringed around with airfields.

Defense Bases

Defense bases such as these, along with Toulon, Marseille and Casablanca lost much of their importance when so much of the French fleet was scuttled in 1942 to keep it from falling into German hands and other important units destroyed or damaged by Allied fire.

Recurrent financial crises have prevented the French government from carrying out the rebuilding and new construction that has been planned.

But the blueprints are there, not only to complete work on the damaged battleships Richelieu and Jean Bart but to build new component parts of a highly mobile fleet which would diminish Britain's heavy duties in the Mediterranean in event of emergency.

Many military observers see a lamentable short-sightedness in allowing the French fleet to lie fallow in any degree particularly as so many of its units are comparatively modern and were subjected to little or no battle use before being put out of action.

She has a fine aircraft carrier, the Arromanches, formerly the British-Colossus, and another 18-000 tonner on the ways when funds are available for building. She has many smaller escort carriers and auxiliaries.

Many Destroyers

Perhaps most important and in view of the difficult lessons of convoy learned the hard way during the war, France possesses many destroyers, frigates and sloops which are invaluable.

There is reason to believe that the sudden bid for North African participation in the Atlantic pact definitely is a prelude to a request for United States financial assistance in fleet refurbishment.

On traditional grounds, Great Britain opposes Algerian memberships on the grounds this means extension of the pact to "colonial" areas.

This is disputed by the French, who point out that Algeria was embraced in what is known as "Metropolitan France" in 1863. It sends representatives to the chamber of deputies and the national assembly who in turn bow to the will of both houses and transmit majority decisions to their officials at home.

British Objection

Britain's objection to the French plan stems from a quite understandable British feeling that the Mediterranean is a British obligation pure and simple.

Certainly the defense of Gibralter, Malta, Alexandria and Suez was a job heriocally undertaken alone by the Royal Navy and Air Force and Britain has no desire to be obligated to any other nation in this sphere.

Yet a certain degree of national sovereignty already has been abandoned in the Western European Union, whose defense committee has a French admiral in top place on the board of naval strategy.

Many thousands of tons of good French bottoms stand by for Allied use along with top-flight officers and crews whose courage and fighting skill never have been questioned. The question of putting American money to work in restoration of this important arm of Democratic defense on the high seas may very soon arise.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TEACHING FARM CHILD SEX FACTS

On the farm where there are animals that produce young, the "facts of life" may be revealed normally and naturally.

Years ago it was not considered polite to say bull, ram, boar or stallion. Today these names are used freely on the air and in farm literature. It would be funny today to hear anyone say male animal for bull.

Simple Principles

Through the 4-H clubs, girls as well as boys from ten or twelve upwards raise calves, pigs, lambs and other animals. They study the simple principles of inheritance, know all about the mating and birth processes of animals and may normally witness such.

In a very matter-of-fact way they learn that for different animals the gestation period (time for growing in the mother animal's body) is different in length—pig, 120 days, sheep, 150; goat, 151, cow,283; horse, 346.

Any farm child who may see animals of the field and wood will discover that the gestation period of some of them is surprisingly short —opossum, 11 days; mouse and rat, 22; rabbit, 30; cat and dog, 63. He may be interested also to learn that the baby of the seal, camel and elephant grows in its mother's body 365, 395 and 600 days, respectively. To the child knowing some such facts,knowledge that the gestation period of the human baby is 280 days will be interesting but wholesome information.

High Moral Value

Many children, even very young ones, not on the farm, who have pets which bring forth young, know when the pet mother is pregnant. This knowledge can be of high moral value, giving the child a good reason to be very kind and tender to the expectant mother pet.

Most children soon observe that animals differ in the number of babies born at the same time. The farm boy or girl may absorb this information earlier. The usual number of young at a time for familiar animals are: opossum, 18; mouse and rat, 10; rabbit, 6 to 8; cat, 2 to 6; dog, 4 to 6; pig, 10 sheep, 1 to 2; cow, 1; horse, 1; seal, 1; elephant,1.

A child soon observes that human beings are born one at a time, though there sometimes are twins, even larger groups.

Newborn Animals

Any farm child may observe that the infants of farm animals walk and find their food practically at once after birth. The boy or girl may, on going to the pasture field, find a new calf and this calf may walk to the barn with its mother.

Now the human infant couldn't walk so far or fast for several years. He may not even walk at all till a year or more of age.

Wise parents help the child observe that the brute father takes no responsibility fr the babies and children or for the mother's comfort or well-being; that we humans can think and plan and aspire toward purposes and ideals; that we live on a very much higher plane; that, therefore, we need to discipline ourselves and show great regard for every other person, especially by the boy toward the girl, the man toward the woman; that as human beings we have worked out certain rules for bringing forth young, therefore, for mating; that these rules require marriage; that when two persons marry they pledge to each other and in public to be each other's mate only and to love and honor each other as persons. Thus they lift themselves to a much higher level. Such desirable attitudes can best develop, of course, in a family atmosphere of understanding, companionship and family love. In my bulletin, "Undesirable Sex Practices in Children," appears a list of books meant to be helpful to parents, to be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

If I were rich most of my charity would go to the aged poor.

Before I forget it, do you know the dictionary meaning of the word "charity"?

From the way I have seen it solicited, given and distributed, one would think that "charity" had something to do with condescension, annoyance, crumbs.

One would think that a charity gift is something like the leftovers from the dinner table that go into the garbage can.

"Charity" is derived from the Latin word "caritas," which means "dearness, love," and the person upon whom charity is bestowed is "carus," meaning "dear, loved."

There is nothing in my dictionary which says that the word "charity" has anything to do with tax reductions or that it is, in the lingo of Colonel Stoopnagle, something which if you don't do it marks you as a miser in your community.

Now I'll tell you why I would give most of my charity money to the aged poor if I were rich.

I spent many years of my life in New York City. Nowhere else have I seen so many lonely old people as in that city of millions.

I have seen them slinking along busy streets, jabbering to themselves.

I have watched them look into shop windows where costly furs and precious jewels were displayed, and I wish you could see the hopeless expression in their faded eyes.

Next to one of those jewelry shops on upper Broadway, there is the branch store of a chain bakery. In that branch store they sell nothing but stale bread and cakes and cookies that are too old for the regular trade.

That store is a haven for the aged poor of the district, the old folks who can't afford fresh bread, fresh cookies, fresh cakes any longer—and some day may not even be able to buy the stuff that you and I would scorn.

I am all for doing a lot for the youngsters.

In them lies America's future. Among the kids in an orphanage may be a president of tomorrow.

Rock Of Ages

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Fearful Of Spoils Politics

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Nothing succeeds like success. The Democratic National committee has rarely, if ever, seen such a clamor for tickets to a Jackson Day dinner as this year when the Democratic treasury will be enriched by perhaps $300,000 here in Washington alone.

In the fine flush of victory certain things are happening that worry more thoughtful Democrats assembled for the Jackson Day rally. They are fearful of an alliance between old-fashioned spoils politics and the lobby-lawyer, fixit industry in the capital.

Chairman Howard McGrath of the Democratic committee has moved out of his spacious office at headquarters and turned it over to the new executive vice chairman, William M. Boyle Jr. Besides his job as senator, McGrath has extensive business interests in Rhode Island and the objective is to turn the actual work of the committee over to Boyle.

This includes the all-important function of dispensing patronage. It could well be a full-time job.

Tremendous Advantage

But Boyle will continue to run his own law office in Washington and that is one reason for the concern. Anyone with the power officially to allocate Democratic patronage would have a tremendous advantage in walking into a government department as a lawyer to do a service for a client.

A dinner was given in Boyle's honor the other evening. Most of the members of the cabinet were present, including Attorney General Tom C. Clark and several of his top assistants.

Present also were Boyle's associates in his law firm. One of them is Daniel J. Hanlon of Boston. Hanlon, who was close to Mayor James J. Curley, was an attorney in the Bureau of Internal Revenue from 1933 to 1938.

It was a pleasant get-together with none of the solemn speeches that blight so many Washington dinners. And if any important official present had any doubt about the identity of Boyle and his law partners, they were there on display.

Boyle, who worked hard for the President in the fall campaign, came up through the Pendergast school of political organization. During part of President Truman's service as a senator, he was his assistant and later he worked for Robert E. Hannegan when Hannegan became Democratic national chairman.

Come Up Hard Way

Most of us are too likely to scoff at the professional politician while we neglect our own political responsibilities. That is not the point here. Professionals who have come up the hard way are essential in any effective political organization.

The point is that Boyle does not receive a salary from the national committee, his income deriving from his law practice in Washington where a good word spoken to a friend is often more precious than pearls and rubies. Boyle says he is careful to avoid what is called around here the "influence busi-

They Say

SAN FRANCISCO.—Dr. Homer P. Rainey, president of Stephens college, Columbia, Mo. — "Some people warn us that we'll lose the fight against Soviet ideas unless we employ Soviet methods of repression. This is equivalent to telling us that democracy can save itself from being murdered only by committing suicide."

NEW YORK.—Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of the Methodist church—"What is needed is the honest proclamation and practice of religious liberty upon the part of all churches. Religious liberty means freedom for Roman Catholics in Hungary and also freedom for Protestants in Spain, in Columbia and the Argentine."

LAKE SUCCESS — Aubrey S. Eban, Israeli representative to the United Nations—"It is clear from this experience (Holy Land armistice) that the organs of the United Nations can make their most effective contribution by the use of their good offices to the parties in direct negotiations with the sole objective of securing their full agreement."

LAKE SUCCESS.—Christopher P. Mayhew, British undersecretary of state "The purpose of Marshall aid is to set us (England) free from dependence on America. We have not the slightest intention of modifying our economic, our social or our political plan in order to qualify for aid."

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

(By International News Service)

Mr. Truman's $100-a-plate speech won't sizzle as long as his two dollar ad libs of Tuesday night.

The president still is getting reaction to those words spoken in anger . . . yet with a sob in them for Drew Pearson.

But it seems so odd . . . President Auriol so grateful for Pearson's "Friendship Train" and Truman so critical of his "merry go round."

In fact Harry has set out to prove that 50 million Frenchmen can be wrong about Pearson.

But I liked the way he absolved columnists and commentators and is taking the rap for his own appointments.

Anyway I think it was nice of Dewey to wire Pearson "Welcome Brother."

SPRING HOUSE CLEANING

Do you hold a grudge against anyone?
If you do how about a good cleaning?
If it's on your mind and you want to atone
Toss it away with the rubbish this Spring.

Stored away in the attic of your mind
May be some forgotten poison dust,
So if you would have a mind clean and kind
Toss it out with the rubbish in disgust.

Now worries that nag and add confusion
Should have a bit of cleaning from within,
And a great heave-ho to the air and sun,
And a fling with the rubbish as a sin.

Then if you're in a rut and can't get out,
Call on your friend the conscience-cleaner,
And house clean complete within and without
And arrange again with things that wear.

By PAUL GALLICO

Were you also fascinated by the recent news out of Jacksonville, Florida, that all of a sudden one day in the downtown section all the nylon stockings disintegrated on the legs of the ladies wearing them?

This, of course, is the ultimate vengeance of the silkworm, that miracle of nature who practically has been put out of business by the brilliance and ingenuity of Man; qualities, I must confess, which are beginning to weary me a little. I could bear it if we weren't just so doggone smart.

I accept this emotion as a sign of age and know that my sympathies with the lowly worm will awaken no echo in feminine bosoms, for nylon has brought fine leg casings within the reach of all.

I Am Forced To Wonder

But when I think of the silkworm, working its little heart out year after year, spinning its gossamer thread to make the beautiful, shimmery stuff, loved and valued down through the ages as silk, and then along comes smart-aleck Man, who mixes up a couple of chemicals in a test-tube, and zingo, he's got something just as good, or even better, I am forced to wonder.

This is old-man thinking, longing for the good old days when things were reasonably simple, when the air was not filled with flying machines, when the insistent voice of the telephone was not heard and all the vast complications of modern life were as yet undreamed of. I wouldn't really like it if I had it, that is to say if the clock were turned back to another century, but it pleases me to think I would. And when occasionally, man's super-brashness is turned back upon himself, as in the Jacksonville phenomenon, it gives me a chuckle.

The implications of l'affaire Jacksonville are, of course, myriad and all equally delightful. For nylon thread naturally is not confined to stockings alone. It is used in the manufacture of girdles, brassieres, underwear, and I assume, eventually, if not already, there will be nylon frocks on the market.

The contemplation of a world in which any time there is a happy combination of the fumes of sulphuric and hydrochloric acid gases and the wind in the right direction, the denizens of any given district may suddenly find themselves in the altogether is definitely inspiring.

Unilaterally Embarrassing

I would not wish to see our lady-folk thus unilaterally embarrassed, but it is only a question of time before we also run the sheep and the lamb out of business, dispense with the cotton plant and make men's clothing also out of coal, air, or silicates, compounded in the laboratory and all happily subject to attacks by vapors that will bring about sudden and dramatic changes in the chemical formulas with results similar to Jacksonville.

It seems to me that large areas of humans suddenly stripped of the airs and pretensions that are donned with clothes, might be salutory for the human race. Remove the uniform from the General, and he is a naked, hairless frog like the rest of us. Disintegrate the trappings of the stuffed shirt business men, playboys and men about town and they would look just as silly as the day they were born. Sillier. Evaporate the casings of the too, too dignified dowager, the puffed up debutante and the prideful matron, and what have you got? It takes real dignity to be able to walk around without any clothes on and we would soon find out who is who in our community.

Seems To Be Clear Warning

Jacksonville, and other communities where it now develops the same calamity has struck, seems to me to be a clear warning which I hope we will continue to ignore as I am all in favor of the larger disaster which I have sketched.

It would teach us for one thing to look after the state of our bodies and take a little pride in the shape of our figures and the state of our muscles. Clothes cover a multitude of horrors, the sagging paunch, the mottled unhealthy skin, the bulging hips, the flabby biceps. If we all could come to realize that through the blessings of modern science we might at any time stand revealed for what we are beneath the wrappings, the health of the nation might rise beyond all expectations.

TALK WITH A YOUNGSTER

You do not like your teachers and the school room you abhor?
You refuse to learn your lessons?
Well that's happened oft
before.
This world is full of failures who had fancied, in their turn,
It was just to please the teachers
they were sent to school to learn.

You ask them and they'll tell you,
as they loiter on the street,
Once they thought the trick was clever if a teacher they could cheat,
But they all discvover later, at some common dreary post,
By the cunning which they practiced 'twas themselves
they'd cheated most.

So the teacher doesn't like you?
Well, I'll tell you nor would I
If I did my best to help you, and you wouldn't even try.
If you scorned my every effort
and my teaching seemed to spurn,
I should better like the pupils who showed willingness to learn

Hints On Etiquette

If you are a house guest, at a college fraternity house or in a private home, don't show disappointment at anything, or, worst of all, compare the house party with others at which you have been a guest. The popular house guest is delighted with everything and does her or his part to make the party a success.

The World and the Mud Puddles

ON THE SIDE

An intelligent looking, but somewhat seedy, individual haltingly crept into the editorial sanctum of a metropolitan newspaper one day last week. He looked as though he had been wrung through a wringer.

"Maybe I should have gone to my doctor, or maybe to the county court," he said, "but I thought maybe you could tell me if I am going crazy."

Some of the reporters surrounded him and asked him to unfold.

"Well, he said, "I dreamed two nights in a row that taxes were going down — local taxes, state taxes, federal taxes. I woke up feeling so good that I got suspicious. Then I read the papers . . . What kind of meals and rooms do you get at these institutions, anyhow?"

President Truman initiated a sensible practice at one of the inaugural receptions when he bypassed the customary handshaking with the multitude, limiting that courtesy to a "token" shake with Vice President Barkley on behalf of all the guests. Candidates running for office, or successful candidates, appreciate the physical punishment suffered due to the American enthusiasm for exchanging handshakes.

Mr. Truman has set a precedent which should save candidates, particularly the winner, a lot of grief.

A real diplomat, we are told, is a husband who can buy his wife a satisfactory Christmas gift at a price he can afford to pay.

It might be a great deal better world if people kept on believing in Santa Claus after they were six years old.

JOBS UPON A TIME

JIMMY CONZELMAN, who recently resigned as head coach of the Chicago Cardinals professional football team to go into the advertising field, was born in St. Louis, an Irish kid with a German name. His father's name was O'Connor. After he died Jim's mother married a man named Conzelman. Jimmy, liking his stepfather, took his name. Conzelman started his career as a newsboy, then was a banjo-player. After he graduated from Washington university, where he played the ukulele, he rounded up his own orchestra and was doing well until along came World War I. He enlisted in the navy, was middleweight boxing champion at Great Lakes training naval school, and also played football. Conzelman later tried being a poet and an actor, and then went back to Washington as football coach. He was pro coach of the year in 1947.

Advance estimates by the United States Bureau of Mines indicate that 100,000,000 gross tons of iron ore will have been mined during 1948—a peacetime record.

LaSALLE-NYU SUFFER DEFEATS

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—(INS)—The hopes of LaSalle College and New York University for a bid to the National Invitation Basketball Tourney were at a low ebb today as a result of unexpected defeats suffered at Madison Square Garden last night.

Manhattan, trounced by LaSalle by 30 points in Philadelphia only two weeks ago, tripped up the Explorers 62 to 53.

Gerry Calabrese, the game's high scorer with 20 points, led St. John's to victory over N.Y.U. He was aided and abetted by Dick McGuire, captain of the Redmen, who continued his sensational playing.

PALMER FAVORED TO WIN TOURNEY

HARLINGEN, Tex., Feb. 25.—(INS)—Chunky Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., was favored to win the $10,000 Rio Grande Valley open as 135 golfers teed off today over the Harlingen municipal course.

Missing from the entry list was Slammin' Sammy Snead of White Sulphur Springs, N. C., but officials were hopeful he would be on the firing line before the last man drove down the first fairway.

Jerome Davis of the Chicago Cards made the longest punt return of the National Football league 1948 season when he lugged one back 70 yards t a touchdown against New York.

Chicago White Sox Are Seeking Scarborough Or Marchildon

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—The Chicago White Sox, busier than a small parts salesman all winter long and dealing in approximately similar material, are still in there striving.

Latest news from the sub-basement of the American league is that general manager Frank Lane of the pale stockings has made definite overtures in the direction of Washington and the Philadelphia Athletics.

Want Pitcher

Although Lane would not say what Sox players were involved, he was known to have offered a pair of them to the Senators—plus money, if need be—for Ray Scarborough, who chalked up 15 triumphs and was tagged for eight defeats with the Washingtons last year. A record like that is not to be scorned, as Lane knows too well. If Scarborough could do 15-8 for the Senators, who finished seventh, what uncharted heights might he attain with the White Sox, who finished eighth?

Meanwhile, Lane has hung two players out as bait for the Philadelphia Athletics' likewise-talented pitcher, Canadian-born Phil Marchildon.

Whether the two players offered to Philadelphia resembled the two players offered to Washington was not disclosed by the Sox, but if one of them was Don Kolloway in either or each instance, no one would be amazed.

Kolloway, a second baseman who has also turned up at first and third for the Sox at times, is in alleged demand throughout the league because of his utility value.

The White Sox, though, are pretty well set at second with the dashing Cass Michaels, even if he hasn't signed his 1949 contract yet. He is not unique in that sense. Kolloway hasn't signed either.

Lane, for some time, was hopeful of sending Kolloway to Detroit in exchange for a pitcher. But Billy Evans, the Tigers' general manager, nixed those goings-on, and the Sox previously had been shut out of dealings with the St. Louis Browns.

What has happened to the Sox' youth movement in their quest for the 30-year-old Scarborough and the 33-year-old Marchildon is not entirely apparent, but thunder or flood, they always can fall back on their shortstop, Luke Appling. He is 40 or better, and, sportingly speaking, the youngest man in the crowd.

New Yorkers Leading ABC

ATLANTIC CITY, Feb. 25.—(INS)—The American Bowling and Billiard Corporation squad, of New York, treated the spectators to the best example of competitive team bowling so far in the 13-day-old 46th annual American Bowling Congress, and took over the lead in the five-man event with a potent 2968 series last night.

A 1000-average team in the Metropolitan major league, the New Yorkers lived up to their advance clippings, bowling games of 922, 1019 and 1025—the first team in the tournament to roll two 1000 games in the five-man event.

Spectators Thrilled

Spectators received thrill after thrill as the new leaders overcame a 84-pin deficit by which they trailed the Joe's Bar squad, of Cleveland, bowling on the adjoining alley after the second game.

The Joe's Bar squad took over third place in the team event with a 2868 total, including a 1049 second game which is the highest team game rolled so far.

After the second game, Joe's Bar needed only an 866 game to tie for the lead while the New York team was 930 pins short of a tie for first. But while the Cleveland squad slipped badly to 861, the New Yorkers came up with their 1025 game.

Rickey Knappi paced the New York team to victory with a 167, 208, 237, while Sid Baum hit the wood for 191, 203 and 206. Tony Sparando, one of the best bowlers in the east with a 203 average in the last ten ABC tournaments, anchored the team with 191, 199, 204.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

CARL A. ROGAN, P.O. Box 386, PITTSBURGH, has written Paul W. Fombelle, businessman and hunter, a letter stating he feels Mr. Fombelle, accidentally, or purposely misinterpreted his recent letter, adding: "I am inclined to agree with you 100 percent on one thing—that there is a necessity for an account of the 'Button' bucks killed during each doe season." Further, Mr. Rogan says: "I do agree that a doe season is not necessary in some counties, but very few." He says this is pointed out by farmers who claim deer is ruining their crops. He adds that a campaign of feeding deer is now being carried out. "Your statement that we should carry on a greater feeding and planting program meets with the approval of sportsmen and the Game Commission," Mr. Rogan writes, and explained he did not in any way imply that, 107 hunters who oppose a doe season per the ballot case in New Castle, were the persons who killed illegal deer. "Also note, I said work 'with the Game Commission', not 'for (as you imply I said. There is a great difference. I am against any outdoors writer that would work for the Game Commission. But I do believe the writer should get the commission's view, the sportsman's ideas, then add his. These three should be combined in a story. I'm sure the Game Commission would welcome any suggestion you make." Mr. Rogan asks Mr. Fombelle how he knows the commission overestimated the deer herd and says it isn't trying to make fools out of the sportsmen. He says: "I doubt if there is an out-doors writer, including myself, that is against a doe season; the commission thinks we should have one, and the State Federation of Sportsmen recently voted to let the commission decide the question."

SERVICE TO SPORTSMEN

Accompanying a copy of the letter to Mr. Fombelle, was one as follows:

Pittsburgh 30, P.O. Box 386, February 22, 1949

Mr. Ed Fritz,
Here & There in Sports'Land
Dear Ed:

Enclosed is a copy of a letter I wrote in answer to Mr. Fombelle's dated Feb. 15, and printed in The News yesterday, Feb. 21.

If you so desire, you may use it in a future column. I think my argument is clear enough, but feel sure Mr. Fombelle has either intentionally or accidentally misinterpreted my exact statements.

And, by the way, in my humble opinion, The News is contributing a great service to the sportsmen of Pennsylvania by carrying on discussions of this sort, and of the many other articles written for Here & There readers. Keep it up. If I can be of any help just yell.

I will very shortly send you a copy of "Our Deer Problem" which has been cut.

With very best regards, I am
Sincerely

(Signed) CARL A. ROGAN.

WHAT THEY SAY

Sam Haycock: "I think Billy Pozza would defeat Elkins Brothers. I saw Freddy Schott defeat Rizieri Ronzi at Akron. However, I pick Ronzi to defeat Art Williams here, March 2."

George Rigby: "If Elkins Brothers would hit Billy Pozza—Good Night!"

Dent Shields: "I believe Billy Pozza will beat Brothers, if they box."

Neil Williams: "At our camp near Ward's ranch, there is great need of browse for deer. When a fire sweeps the forest, fire-weed grows the first year, and briar, the second. Then comes blackberry and other bushes and, later, browse."

George Chip: "My success as a pugilist was due to the fact that, I obeyed every instruction my manager, the late Jimmie Dime gave me. I had so much confidence in his word, he had me believing I could defeat anyone with whom I was matched."

Lank Warnock: "Game cocks are trained, in some respects, the same as a fighter. They do 'road-work' on a tread, miniature gloves are attached to their feet, and their work against each other, reminds one of sparring. Some cocks are so 'ornery', they'll fly against and break your leg." (No mains are held in this district anymore because they are banned by law, plus alertness of authorities.)

Percy White: "Local sportsmen will go to a point near Phillipsburg, March 6, to watch pilots drop corn, provided by sportsmen, to wild game."

Lloyd McKinnon, who heads the Chiefs, a new organization with 400 members: "The Chiefs will have a baseball team (not the Mid-Atlantic Chiefs) this season."

Billy Mongiello, manager of the Chiefs, Mid-Atlantic league: "We will start training about April 15, at Flaherty Field."

AAC May Expand For 1950 Season

Dallas, Texas Business Men Interested In Entering Professional Football

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—The All-America Football conference will expand once again to eight teams in 1950 if its new piece of reincarnation, the team called the Chicago Hornets, proves even mildly successful in '49.

A group of businessmen from a city not yet introduced to professional football—presumably Dallas—already has requested a franchise in the AAC.

Seven-Team League

What is more, the request was said to have been made during the recent "survival meeting" of the AAC in Chicago, at which time the All-America, far from considering petitions for new membership, was popularly supposed to be readying its own collapse.

Instead, as everyone knows, the AAC announced it would continue in 1949, but merged its Brooklyn and New York franchises to become a seven-team league. To ever-hopeful citizens in the rival National Football league, this was taken as an initial step towards total failure. So it may come as something of a shock that it was only the element of time which prevented "City X" from obtaining an All-America franchise in 1949.

Not Enough Time

The delegation seeking to get into the AAC appears to have been informed that there was not enough time between now and the start of football practice to set up an entirely new franchise, that reasoning, from all indications, was correct.

Although the Chicago Hornets actually are a new franchise, the important spadework—a nucleus of Chicago players and a place to play—were already there. About 30 members of the defunct Rockets have been held over on the Hornet roster. To this have been added 27 names from the Brooklyn roster as an outgrowth of the Dodgers' merger with New York.

If, with the new setup, the All-America can lick its Chicago problem, it will then feel free to expand for 1950—proof that when peace comes to professional football, it will be on a equitable two-league baseball-type basis.

The Duquesne team is a puzzler. It certainly isn't great because great clubs don't make the elementary mistakes the Dukes do. They coast when they're ahead, kick away sizable leads—particularly against Arizona, Akron and Loyola, and are awfully spotty at the foul line.

Selecting Site For Army-Navy Tussle

WEST POINT, N. Y., Feb. 25.—(INS)—The site of the 1949 Army-Navy football classic may be announced today, with Philadelphia expected to get the prize again.

New York, Cleveland and Chicago also are bidding for the service game. However, Lieut. Col. Orrin C. Krueger, graduate manager of athletics at West Point, said today:

"It doesn't look as if those other cities are advisable."

Krueger planned to telephone Cap. H. H. Caldwell, Navy's director of athletics, on the subject today. He intimated an agreement will be reached.

REFEREE WOULD JUST REFEREE

HARRISBURG, Feb. 25.—(INS)—Boxing referees in Pennsylvania would lose their power to cast deciding ballots in ring contests should the legislature adopt a bill introduced in the House Wednesday by Rep. Edward Duffy, Jr., (D) Philadelphia.

He proposed adding another judge to the present two-member panel and confining the referee's duties to assuring compliance with rules.

SHORT SPORTS

When Veeck talks of getting busy, he talks about the thing he does best. Busy is the name for Bill. It is customary these days to call him baseball's best showman. I'm not at all sure that he isn't also the game's best salesman.

Wally Triplett, veteran of four campaigns at Penn State, next fall will play professional football for the Detroit Lions of the National league. Coach Bob Higgins rates Triplett one of the best defensive halfbacks he ever coached.

Leland E. Maines, Lehigh soccer goalie, Rutherford, N. J., is president of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity and serves on the sports staff of the student newspaper.

When Lehigh and Brown meet on the gridiron October 22 it will be the resumption of a rivalry dating back to 1896. Brown leads in the series 4-1.

The World Champion Cleveland Indians set nine attendance records last season, including new home and road totals.

World's Sweetest Job, Tasting Candy

PHILADELPHIA.—(INS)—How would you like to have the "sweetest" job in the world?

If you're a youngster, you'd probably regard this job as an ecestatic dream.

If you're a lorie-counter, you'd regard it as a nightmare.

But in Philadelphia there are people — men and women — who make a career of eating candy.

They actually eat chocolates all day long—and get paid for it.

Tempting, Toothsome Array

Each morning these candy-inspectors roll up their sleeves, and wade into an array of creams, nougats and other sweets, consuming perhaps as much as a pound a day.

The group meets every morning in the company's sixth floor conference room. Before them as they sit down at the table are large wooden trays, each containing large chunks of caramel and other uncoated candy centers, and finished, chocolate-enclosed morsels.

At these daily meetings—and also at other intervals during the day—the inspectors test the candy for shape, weight, color, size—and taste.

Most of the testers report that the constant munching doesn't affect their figures.

Doesn't Boost Weight

Says Miss Elizabeth H. Wicks, a chocolate-coating supervisor:

"I eat about half a pound every day, though I make a vow every morning to eat less. However, it hasn't had any effect on my weight or appetite during the past 12 years."

Miss Wicks is on the slim side; as is Mrs. Eleanor DeVadetzsky, a chemist and member of the tasting panel, who agrees with her colleague that the candy-tasting hasn't piled pounds on her.

County School Superintendents Plan Sessions

Will Assemble At Penn State Three Days Next Week For Conference

Pennsylvania county superintendents of schools will discuss their role of the future of mid-winter conference to be held at the Pennsylvania State college Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

In an informal workshop session the superintendents will discuss ways in which they can better serve the schools of the state and discuss problems arising out of the tendency for consolidation of school districts.

John C. Syling and R. F. Conway, county superintendent and assistant superintendent will represent Lawrence county at the conference.

E. A. Quackenbush, director, Bureau of School Administration, Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction, will explain possible applications to Pennsylvania. Quackenbush will outline new legislation that has a bearing on the problems at the final session on Wednesday.

LOOKING AT LIFE

Youth is Hope. Youth is Promise. Youth is Conquest.

But there is no hope, no promise, no conquest for the aged poor.

There is only despair, neglect, decay.

The forgotten poor are truly the vanquished, depending on the crumbs that fall from others' tables.

In John, XXI, 18, it is written: "When thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not."

If I were rich, not an old man, not an old woman, within my means would be carried "whither thou wouldest not."

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Grandma's Common Sense

It isn't uncommon to hear someone say about a new book on bringing up children or a child-study group, "Why do we need such new-fangled ideas? After all, what's wrong with common sense like grandma used to have?"

To be sure, some people do acquire wisdom from life experience. My 88-year-old grandmother is one of them. But I know, as I am sure you do, many another person whose "common sense" is made up of a lot of misinformation and prejudice. Someone has said that much of the sound information we have regarding children and families is organized common sense. Of course, it's more than that, but there's a good deal in the idea.

In other words, not too many of us can count for sure on developing common sense through our own experience alone. If we are wise, we will make use of the experiences of friends and neighbors as well as our own that we have accumulated. It is most important, however, not to accept either new or old ideas uncritically. Neighbors, friends, and relatives may have some very queer notions about human behavior. But so do some of the "experts." The safest course is to check ideas and practices with our own experience and with those of parents in whom we have confidence.

Y Father And Sons Banquet Tonight

Rev. Robt. H. Mayo To Make Principal Address During Program Of Evening

Dave Gatrall, Y. M. C. A. program director, today announced that plans are complete for the annual father and sons banquet at the "Y" tonight.

Arrangements have been made to serve more than 85 persons and a program lined up that should be interesting for both the young and old.

The program includes a community sing led by Dave Gatrall, with Milton Wineberg at the piano. Harold Pears will ask the invocation and John Milton Thompson will introduce the toastmaster, John Boyle. Y. M. C. A. General Secretary R. L. Meermans is to give the speech of welcome. Tim Foster will make a toast to the fathers and Howard Foster will make the toast to the sons. The main speaker of the evening is Rev. Robert H. Mayo of the First U. P. church.

James Pears, assistant athletic director, will present several swimming awards that the boys have earned this year.

A recreation program in the boys' department lobby and a swim follow the speaking part of the program.

ness," taking only legitimate cases at law.

But, granted the noblest intentions and the highest ideals, this would seem to be a difficult position to maintain. The actual day-to-day direction of the national committee should be in the hands of a full-time expert who knows politics and the country. To get a good man who would give all his allegiance and capacity to the job, he should be paid a sufficient salary, certainly not less than $25,000.

The need for a well-paid executive, divorced as nearly as possible from outside temptations and pressures, applies particularly to the party in power. The Republicans on the outside looking in can worry along perhaps with Rep. Hugh Scott.

Collect Huge Fees

President Roosevelt had been in office less than a year when his attention was called to the fact that lawyer members of the Democratic National committee had moved in on Washington to collect huge fees for pulling favors out of government departments. He expressed strong opposition to this practice and there were some resignations from the committee.

No one would be naive enough to say that this put an end to the influence industry in Washington. The busy fixers found other channels. But it did end what had threatened to become a legalized alliance between the Democratic committee and the enormously profitable influence industry.

The Truman administration cannot afford anything even resembling that kind of alliance. A party that professes to represent the aspirations of the average man cannot afford to yield to the ordinary temptations of political power. To do so will be to reduce the victory of last November to the weight and significance of a bad hangover.

Opposes Return Of Fritz Kuhn To United States

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(INS)—Rep. Celler (D) N. Y., chairman of the House Judiciary committee, warned today that he will "raise merry hell" if Fritz Kuhn, former bund leader, is ever permitted to re-enter this country.

Kuhn was released from prison by a German court earlier this week and announced his intention of returning to the United States and regaining his citizenship.

Celler, whose committee is in charge of immigration and naturalization matters, asserted that the State department "wouldn't dare consider" allowing the one-time head of the German-American Bund to re-enter the United States.

He termed Kuhn "an arrant knave" and condemned his announcement in Germany as "an act of unmitigated arrogance."

Women Voters Hear Of Child Welfare

Problems of dependent and neglected children of Beaver county were presented and defined in a very informative and interesting manner at the League of Women Voters' meeting Wednesday in the parlor of the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Mary Bolder, secretary of child welfare in our neighboring county, was introduced and brought an enlightening word picture of how the program operates there.

For some time several local organizations have lent their support towards securing such a program to augment the work now being done in Lawrence county in connection with unfortunate children.

Among the large audience present were members of the Ministerial association, various women's organizations and county officials. From the lively question and answer period following the discourse it was evident that there is considerable interest in the problem.

A short business meeting followed the program and the group adjourned to meet, March 23, at the same place.

The three states with the highest average rainfall are Alabama, Louisana, and Mississippi. Those with the lowest are Arizona, Nevada, and Idoho.

Norway Testing Air Defenses

LONDON, Feb. 25.—(INS)—The London Daily Express reported today that Nurway has started air maneuvers to test her defenses against a surprise air attack.

In an Oslo dispatch the newspaper said that the four-day exercise will include civil defense units, the Norwegian airforce and the anti-aircraft command.

The maneuvers, which the Daily Express said are named "Operation Saturn," will feature jet and conventional fighter planes furnished by Great Britain.

Van Zandt Will Deliver Address

Congressman And Veteran Of Two Wars Will Discuss Veterans Legislation

JAMES E. VAN ZANDT

Local war veterans and their friends will have an opportunity of hearing an authority on veterans affairs and a rapid-fire speaker here on Saturday evening, March 12, at 6:30 o'clock, when Congressman James E. Van Zandt of Altoona, Pa., will appear at a dinner meeting in the Cathedral under the auspices of the United Veterans Men's club.

Van Zandt, who is known to millions in the United States as "Jimmie" because of the fact that he has been the only man since World War I to succeed himself twice as commander of America's largest group of overseas fighting men, the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

He was re-elected to congress in November, 1948, for his fifth term, and is serving on the house committee on armed services and the joint congressional committee on atomic energy, as well as other important committees.

He will speak here on state and federal bonus insurance legislation, with which he is most familiar. Invitations are being extended by the United Veterans Men's club to all service organizations and to all veterans in general to hear Van Zandt's address.

The commmittee in charge of arrangements is composed of Ralph B. Hayes, chairman; James F. Staats, Fred R. Hughes, Ben L. Ellesco and Edward J. Yerage.

Mr. Van Zandt will be presented to the audience by Register and Recorder Orville Potter, who is a personal friend of Mr. Van Zandt.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 25—They're putting the finger on June Haver.

The dire deed is not being perpetrated by a gangster. And the diminutive blonde doll certainly is not in the bad graces of studio bigwigs."

June merely is the willing victim of finger-putter Marion McKinstry, a violinist who is trying to teach June the fine art of bowing and fingering a fiddle for "Oh, You Beautiful Doll."

You might be surprised to learn that June once was a child musical prodigy. For three years handrunning she knocked off annual musical contests in the city of Cincinnati, Ohio, and she was the youngest competitor in the classics.

At the ripe old age of seven she even played the Haydn "Surprise Symphony" under Eugene Gossens' Baton with the Cincinnati symphony orchestra.

Learning To Fiddle

But pounding a piano keyboard and flicking a fiddle bow are two different and distinct things.

So for her current role in the 20th Century-Fox technicolor epic, June works out daily with Miss McKinistry so she can get credibly through three Fred Fisher numbers—"I Want You To Want Me," "Come, Josephine, In My Flying Machine" and "Daddy, Dear Old Daddy."

And each night June works out two more hours with her violin. But she admits that Jascha Heifetz hasn't a thing to worry about.

Miss McKinstry, one of Hollywood's most noted violin instructors, insists that June is an amazingly apt pupil.

Has Amazing Talent

The pretty, 28-year-old violin teacher claims her 21-year-old pupil has missed her calling. She wistfully wished June weren't a movie star so she could really concentrate on an eight-hour-a-day violin practice schedule and prepare for a concert debut.

"June has amazing talent," she said. "When I was given the chore of teaching her to play three numbers and heard she'd never had a violin in her hand before, I thought they were crazy. Even when they explained how well she played piano.

"But she astonished me. She has the bouncing bow of the Spiccato movement of 'I Want You To Want Me' perfectly. The strumming of 'Daddy, Dear Old Daddy,' was easy for her. The only difficulty June has had is with the fast and furious fingering of 'Come, Josephine, In My Flying Machine.'

Has Perfect Pitch

"With a few more weeks practice June will work up the necessary fingertip callouses and strength for that, too. She's naturally musical, has perfect pitch, and is so conscientious I'm sure she could attain concert stature in half the time most pupils do."

And all the "Oh, You Beautiful Doll" star has to say was:

"Jack Benny's scratching of 'Love In Bloom' sounds like a masterpiece compared to my catgut efforts!"

Runaway Freight Car Crashes Home

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25.—(INS)—It wasn't an auto, truck or bus that came crashing into a Northside Pittsburgh home—but a railroad freight car.

The car went out of control on the Williams Lumber Co. incline Thursday and crashed into the home of A. R. Chestnut 25 feet from the track.

Two persons in the house at the time were uninjured.

Police reported the kitchen, including a sink, stove, refrigerator, dishes and other furniture was demolished. The foundation of the house, which was shoved up against another house, was cracked.

Appearance Contest Is On At West Side

School Children Being Checked For Clean Hands, Face, Teeth, Combed Hair, Etc.

Boys and girls who attend the West Side grade school are arising just a few minutes earlier these fine spring like mornings in order that they might have more time to make themselves a little neater. The reason for the extra effort is due to an appearance contest being conducted in the school with the first three grades competing against the last three.

Daily, Principal Glenn McCracken checks the individual classes of the West Side building to learn which class is the neatest. Among the items checked are: Clean hands, clean face, clean teeth, well combed hair, shined shoes and clothing appearance. The contest started on Tuesday and will continue for two weeks.

The boys club of the school, directed by Robert M. Cowher, heard an interesting talk this afternoon by Victor Wagner, local blind entertainer who told the young men about his seeing eye dog which leads him about the city. The club meets after school hours. The group consists of 45 members who meet at the school and once a week at the Y. M. C. A. The officers of the club include: President, Eddie Smolnick; vice president, James Campbell; secretary, Robert Hites; treasurer, Robert Richel; program chairman, Frank Johnson. Recently a boxing match was sponsored to buy athletic equipment for the boys.

Plans are underway for an Easter program to be conducted in the school prior to the dismissal for the vacation period. An excellent Valentine program was conducted in the school on February 11.

Washington Day Dinner Is Held

Legion Of Honor Commemorates Event By Honoring Consistory Officers

Honoring the officers of the coordinate bodies of the Valley of New Castle Consistory AASR, the Legion of Honor had its annual Washington's birthday dinner in the Cathedral Thursday evening.

Commander Arthur H. Lewis presented C. C. Sweesy, general chairman of the event, who in turn introduced Register and Recorder Orville Potter, the toastmaster of the evening.

Commander Lewis introduced the officers of the Legion of Honor and Toastmaster Potter introduced the officers of the coordinate bodies. John H. Templeton, first lieutenant commander, responded in the absence of Commander in Chief Merle Raisley, who was unable to be present for the occasion. Past Commanders in Chief Ill. John E. White, John E. Elliott and Welty O. Rugh were special guests.

Rev. James A. Gaiser, pastor of the First Methodist church, was the principal speaker, speaking on the status of the nation which George Washington helped to found, and of the many problems that confront all real Americans who are endeavoring to perpetuate the high ideals that General Washington stood for.

In Connecticut it is against the law to sell pickles unless they bounce.

SAVED HER FROM DROWNING

"TOMMY BOY" is a hero to the Fillmore family of Chicago, especially to Beth Ellen, 2, who admires him for saving her from drowning. The Boston terrier's barking attracted his mistress, Miss Leona Blazick, to Beth's 5-year-old twin brothers, David and Michael, who were crying outside her home. With aid of another couple Miss Blazick lowered herself down a 15-foot snow-covered incline where she got Beth out of danger from Chicago river. (International Soundphoto)

HOMEMAKERS CAN VARY BASIC FOODS

The reputation of a good cook is not built so much on fancy dishes as in her light fluffy biscuits, tender cakes, smooth sauces, and other basic foods. Day-by-day cooking for a family require skillful use of leftovers and plentiful foods to keep within the budget. However, from several basic recipes, hundreds of tasty food variations can be worked out.

A wise cook learns to make good sauce, biscuits, muffins, plain cake, French dressing, and other foundation recipes. Only then, can she use her imagination to develop variations from which she has on hand.

A basic white sauce is good for dozens of recipes. A bit of leftover cheese added to the sauce will dressup the dinner vegetable. To perk up leftover vegtables scallop them with cheese and top with bread crumbs. Chopped hard-cooked eggs and lemon juice combined with white sauce make an excellent toping for fish. Use mushrooms, onion, parsley, and pimento for other variations.

Baking powder biscuits also may be varied by the addition of grated cheese, chopped nuts, orange rind, Roquefort cheese, or chives.

Tiny biscuit cinnamon rolls are a special treat. A meat roll made of chopped leftover meat and biscuits can be rolled up like a jelly roll. Served with a good sauce this is a change from ordinary hash.

Give variety to muffins by adding crumbled bacon, dried fruits, or berries. Leftover cooked vegetables may be marinated in a well-seasoned, homeade French dressing and served as salad.

Simply "warming up" leftover may result in drab meals. Using leftovers in an interesting way will make each meal a pleasure to the family and an achievement for the cook.

GOOD CULTURAL METHODS KEY TO HIGH CORN YIELD

Good cultural methods, more than than any other factor, produced the top yields in the 1948 five-acre corn contests sponsored by the Pennsylvania Crop Improvement Association with the cooperation of the Agricultural Extenanalysis of the records.

The biggest crop—174.5 bushels of dry shelled corn grown in lower Chester county—was produced on old alfalfa sod top-dressed nearly every winter with manure and re-inforced with 500 pounds of superphosphate.

In addition, the farmer plowed down 800 pound of 0-12-12 and put on 8 loads of re-inforced manure, per acre, for the corn. Because of a poor first stand, the field was replanted June 15 with medium-early hybrid. The fall was late and the corn was dry enough to crib when husked November 1.

The corn was dropped 10 inches apart in 36-inch rows, but the final stand had a 13-inch spacing for 13,900 stalks per acre. Ears averaged .85 pound. Theoretically, the stand was not thick enough for the fertility of the field and the abundant moisture of 1948 since half-pound ears are the desired goal for maximum production.

Of the nine men who grew over 120 bushels per acre, six had clover or alfalfa sod to plow and one broke an old pasture sod. Seven applied manure, in four cases re-inforced with phosphate. Four plowed down fertilizer, but only two of these turned under enough nitrogen to be of much benefit. All used fertilizer in the planter. The average stalk count was 14,700 per acre and the average dry ear weight, .65 pound.

STRONG FAMILIES MAKE STRONGEST COMMUNITIES

It may be only a game of "hearts" around the dining room table,or in summertime a picnic supper in the back yard, but if it brings the family together for an hour or two of relaxation and fun a double purpose will have been served. Such pastimes help to keep the family a close-knit unit and—equally important—that strong families are the foremost essential for strong communities.

An increasing number of activities outside the home for all age groups, plus good roads and the autmobile, tend to split up the family into individual units. The result is that home becomes less and less the center of things and more and more a place for "rest and refueling" before starting out again.

Remember that children in the home are human beings and are not playthings to be picked up and discarded on mere whim, but are human beings and are in the most important stage of their life development.

EAT GREEN, YELLOW VEGETABLES TO BUILD BODY RESISTANCE

Important green and yellow vegetables are one of the food groups neglected in the meals of many American families today. These vegetables, supplying generous amounts of vitamin A which builds resistance to colds and other infections, are needed for health and well-being. A person getting a good daily supply of vitamin A is better able to resist illness than one who does not.

There is a variety of green and yellow vegetables from which to choose. They include green cabbage, broccoli, carrots, kale, leaf lettuce, green asparagus, snap beans, green lima beans, collards, peas, green peppers, pumpkin, spinach, yellow squash and sweet potatoes. Homemakers are urged to consider this group when planning a garden.

There are many ways to serve these healthful foods. Tossed green salads, fit into any meal. Cooked green or yellow vegetables add color and flavor to brighten a meal.

Of course, food is not like medicine—it does not cure. It takes time to build good health with proper food, but the habit of serving green and yellow vegetables daily will benefit a family in the long run.

PLAN INTERESTS FOR CONVALESCENT CHILDREN

Keeping the convalescent child in bed and happy at the same time is often quite a problem for homemakers, but there are several solutions to the problem.

The child needs to be kept warm and quiet, and should also be supplied with simple playthings to keep him happy. A youngster, if propped up in bed, should have a warm sweater to cover his arms, shoulders, and chest because chilling often occurs when the child begins to move around.

Parents are urged to consider the child's age and interests when choosing his playthings. Puzzles are fascinating to a child of any age, provided they are geared to his development. A very simple puzzle would not have more than three or four cut-out places with one piece to fit into each recess.

Puzzles can be made at home with a jigsaw or even a coping saw. Suitable designs to use in making a puzzle include a ball, boat, car, house, cup, airplane, dog cat, or any other familiar shape. The most enjoyable puzzles have shapes which mean something to the child. When a small child becomes quick at working a puzzle, cut the inserts into smaller pieces. Simple jigsaw puzzles will keep the older child occupied for some time.

Paper, crayons, and encouragement to draw anything he remembers will help an ill child pass many happy hours. If he is older, he may enjoy having a still life arrangement set up for him to draw. Other amusements are musical instruments, toys, or real ones, and books of all kinds and sizes.

When the child is almost completely well he may be bundled in a blanket and placed in a comfortable chair close to where his mother is working. This change of atmosphere will keep him contented and happy.

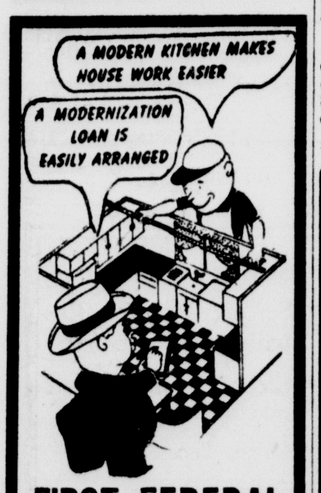

Color blindness is about 20 times more common in men than women.

Service Star Legion Washington Dinner

Program Presented During Evening; Rev. Shields Is Speaker

Members of the Service Star Legion No. 176 held a Washington's birthday dinner in the green room of the YWCA. Tables were decorated in the patriotic motif, with a large crystal cherry tree as a centerpiece. Two large bouquets of flowers were the compliments of two local florists.

The dinner, which was well attended, was opened with the singing of "America", followed by the invocation, given by Rev. Owen W. Shields.

As the the following officers, representing various organizations of this district, were introduced, patriotic songs were sung in their honor. Officers introduced as special guests were: American Legion auxiliary president, Mrs. Ethel Murphey; VFW auxiliary No. 522 president, Mrs. Georgiana Walsh; VFW auxiliary No. 315 president, Mrs. Isabel McKee; Gold Star Mothers president, Mrs. Merritt Reynolds; Marine Corps League auxiliary president, Mrs. Esther Martin; past state department president of VFW, Mrs. Evelyn Woods; national first vice president of Service Star Legion, Mrs. Ida Suber; Service Star Legion No. 176 president, Mrs. Della Missey. Rev. and Mrs. Owen W. Shields were also special guests.

Rev. Shields spoke on racial prejudice and Service Officer Frank Sargent spoke in favor of veterans in hospitals and on the compensation coming to the wives and mothers of veterans.

The following program was presented: Jimmy Suber played several accordion selections; Arlene Gifford gave a reading, "To Be Like Washington", after which Maxine Slovonsky did several dance numbers. Mrs. Nancy Jones acted as toastmistress and the meeting was closed by the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner". Accompanist for the evening was Mrs. Mae Hammond.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Constance Bennett is generally considered the shrewdest business woman who ever starred on the screen. She has made almost as much in outside ventures as she did when she was one f the highest-salaried actresses in Hollywood.

"I don't know why Connie works so hard," said a friend. "After all, she can't take it with her."

"If Connie can't take it with her," replied one of Miss Bennett's sisters grimly, "she won't go."

A long-time inmate of an insane asylum was pronounced cured by the examining board and came to bid the director goodbye before faring into the outside world. "What are your plans?" asked the director.

"I haven't made up my mind," confided the ex-patient. "I may resume my medical practice. I've also been thinking of becoming a newspaper reporter. Then, on the other hand, I may be a tea-kettle."

Would Give Full Facts On Bikini Atom Bomb Tests

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(INS)—Rep. Holifield (D) Calif., a member of the joint Senate-House Atomic Energy committee, recommended Thursday that Congress "demand" the "full facts of the Bikini atom bomb tests."

Holifield, an official observer at the mid-Pacific tests, urged that the portion of the report of the joint chiefs of staff which "applied the destructive effects of the bombs he laid bare before the American public."

The congressman charged in the House that the American public has been lulled into a state of false security by the belief that the United States is the sole possessor of the A-bomb.

Holifield said that Defense Secretary Forrestal "has preferred not to worry us with the bothersome details."

He said that if the report is not published soon, "then I recommend that the Congress establish its own investigation into the reasons why this vital information is being withheld."

General Motors Reduces Prices

DETROIT, Feb. 25. — (INS) — General Motors cut its prices $10 to $40 today on all its passenger cars and on its Chevrolet trucks.

GM President Charles E. Wilson said the reductions were effective immediately and were formulated to "pass along to consumers the savings resulted from both the downward adjustment of wage and salary payments and the lowered cost of certain material items."

The action coincided with GM's announcement that it was adjusting downward its cost-of-living allowance paid to its 341,000 eligible hourly-rate and salary employes.

Coroner's Jury Charges Murder

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25.—(INS) —A Seattle aircraft worker today was charged with murder in connection with slaying of his father-in-law in Pittsburgh last January 22.

A coroner's jury Thursday accused Meredith Neal, 49, of fatally shooting Henry S. Bepler, 67, Pittsburgh insurance man, and seriously wounding Bepler's wife, Mrs. Myrtle Bepler.

The shooting took place in the Bepler home following an argument over the custody of Neal's 15-year-old son, Noel.

Neal had flown to Pittsburgh from Seattle to arrange to take the boy, who had been living with his grandparents, back to Seattle.

FURS STOLEN

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 25. — (INS)—Police were called to an exclusive Rittenhouse Square apartment early today to investigate the theft of more than $30,000 in furs, jewels and other valuables.

Morris Feldman, a real estate broker, and his wife June, discovered their seventh floor suite had been ransacked when they returned shortly before midnight.

State Capitol

Tax Bills Are Now 'Orphans'

Recommendations Of Special Legislative Committee To "Go Begging"

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Feb. 25.—Recommendations of the special legislative committee for a streamlined tax structure for Pennsylvania evidently will go begging as far as the administration is concerned . . . Six bills to carry out the committee's recommendations were introduced in the house this week by Rep. Warner M. Depuy (R) Pike . . . They propose sweeping revisions in the state's current taxing methods and substitution of a number of new levies, headed by a two per cent sales tax on nearly all good except food . . . Although prepared at the request of the Republican-dominated 1947 General Assembly, the bills are considered "orphans" by the administration now . . . The committee was assigned to devise a "scientific and equitable" tax structure for the commonwealth and the bills purportedly are designed with that aim.

On the basis of preliminary reports of the committee, Gov. James H. Duff effectively scuttled the program's enactment when he said he opposed it "at this time" . . . At the same time, however, the governor left the way open for enactment of a sales tax in the future, and in fact, indicated that it may be necessary to finance the $500,000,000 soldier's bonus . . . Duff's tax program for the remainder of his administration already is well on its way toward enactment . . . The program, headed by a penny a gallon increase in the state gasoline levy, is scheduled to reach the Senate floor next week . . . The tax study was made at the behest of Pennsylvania industry which complained it was being taxed more heavily in this state than in others . . . Industry indicated that the tax structure also was detrimental to expansion and development of business in the commonwealth . . . The tax study committee's report has been mentioned as one reason for the falling-out between Duff and ex-Commerce Secretary Orus J. Matthews . . . Matthews headed the committee prior to his resignation January 1.

The Pennsylvania Turnpike commission's huge $30,000 display of the existing and proposed sections of the commonwealth's "superhighway" has been returned to the capitol rotunda for the information of legislators . . . Since last displayed at the capitol, the oversize relief map—showing more than two-thirds of the state—has been revised to include the turnpike's western extension to the Ohio borderline near Youngstown . . . Descriptive panels attached to the display list the toll road's history and future development . . . One panel bearing a statement by the governor describes the road as "the world's greatest and most famous superhighway."

The Keystone Bottlers' association, which leads the fight against re-enactment of the existing soft drinks tax, has mailed letters of thanks to the 18 Republican who voted against the measure in the house . . . The letter, signed by Clarence G. Stoner, president, points out that "if the boys and girls of our commonwealth and the hundreds of thousands of adult consumers were organized and vocal, I am sure you would have an expression of thanks from them, too" . . . Similar letters were sent to Democratic members of the House who opposed the bill . . .

So far legislation has not been introduced to extend civil service in state government . . . In past years, the civil service lobby toiled mightily to expand . . . The only legislation this session is a bill to clarify the status of employes in the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation and another to extend civil service to the city of Scranton.

Pope Innocent III was elected by the cardinals after the death of Celestine III, in 1198. At the time Innocent was not a priest.

Dry hands do not seem to chap so easily as wet ones do.

It is apretty good idea to be sure that the hands are dry before going out in the cold air.

A drop of glycerine rubbed into each hand seems to help to keep the chaps amay.

Power Company Employes Hear About Research

Research is responsible for more improvement in living standards in the United States than any other one thing, Larry F. Livingston, extension division manager of the DuPont company, said in a talk here to the employees of Pennsylvania Power company and their families at the Cathedral last night.

Mr. Livingston gave his audience a preview of chemical developments which are on the way from research laboratories as well as the intimate stories of the creation of such well-known things as nylon.

"There is a freedom of thought in the research behind these things," he declared. "As long as we have the freedom to follow our pursuits in the interest of the common good, nothing can stop the continued advance in this country."

Mr. Livingston had on display scores of chemical products developed by DuPont and many other companies. He demonstrated such things as nylon, polythene, 'Lucite' acrylic resin, and others, to illustrate the cooperation between big companies which produce basic materials and the small businesses which use them.

Contributing to the success of the evening were selections by the local Chapter 500 of the S. P. E. B. S. Q. S. A., directed by Dal Jones.

Strip-Tease Dancer Held For Receiving Jewel Thief's Loot

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—(INS)—A 21-year-old McKeesport, Pa., strip-tease dancer known as "Satira" was under arrest in New York today for receiving part of the loot of an allegedly insane jewel thief.

Rose Marie Sudarick (of 2517 Riverview avenue) McKeesport, Pa., is accused of receiving jewelry reportedly stolen by Jack Garin, 40, who was shot early Thursday morning while trying to escape a detective in a midtown bar.

Garin, with a superficial bullet wound in the left shoulder, is in the prison ward at Bellevue hospital. He is charged with burglarizing the Melbrooke Jewelry Co. on February 4 of $10,000 in watches and gems.

Found Picture

The McKeesport police reported that Miss Sudarick left there yesterday on a Baltimore and Ohio Train for New York. Early today Detective Samuel Bress, who arrested Garin, and Detectives John O'Neill and Leonard Golden, went to the terminal and placed her under arrest.

According to police, Miss Sudarick admitted she was Garin's girl friend, and that she had pawned a watch and four rings for him in Baltimore for $140. She has no connection, she said, with the "Satira" tried in Havana for shooting her boy friend.

Arthur J. Rees, East Washington tsreet, accompanied by his son, Spurgeon D. Rees of Pittsburgh, have returned after attending the funeral services of the former's uncle. Daniel Davies, of Washington, Pa.

Diamond Locket Representing 40 Years Service Presented To Local Insurance Man

From selling insurance door to door 40 years ago to a managerial position with over 50 employes under his supervision is the record of James E. Deegan, district manager of the Prudential Insurance Company who was honored Thursday evening at a splendid dinner meeting held at Schusters near Greenville. As a momento of the occasion the honored guest received a diamond locket.

More than 100 associates including representatives from the home office in Newark, N. J., gathered at the popular meeting place to do homage to the New Castle man, who has lived, eaten and slept with insurance since 1909.

Mr. Deegan, who resides at 125 Euclid avenue, left the Westinghouse Electric Company in 1909 to enter the insurance business starting as an agent at East Pittsburgh. Promoted to assistant district manager, the following year, he was transferred to Braddock, Pa. He served in that capacity in Youngtown, Sharon and New Castle, before becoming district manager in 1949.

The very interesting program on Thursday evening brought T. Gibson Smith, regional manager from Newark, N. J., to aid in the unusual event which was being celebrated. Speakers on the program included: Frank Goodwin of the Sharon office, H. L. McIlvenny of the local office and J. E. Mattson of Sharon. Special vocal selections were sung by Miss Mayhler of the Sharon office.

It is interesting to note that one employe Frank Goudman has been with Mr. Deegan in the New Castle office down through the years with 29 years service to his credit. In February of 1950, Mr. Deegan will retire from the insurance business and perhaps locate in Florida or California. His family includes his wife and three children, James E., Jr., Robert E. and Gloriann.

B.P.W. Plan Aid To German Women

Announcement has been made that the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., will cooperate with the American military government in an exchange program for German women. Dr. K. Frances Scott, national president of the organization, has stated that the U. S. will bring the women to this country if some group or organization will sponsor them.

The National Federation of BPW will sponsor one woman who is a business or professional woman herself. The prominent German women will be brought to this country to observe democratic principles and ideals as demonstrated in the activities of women's clubs. The woman brought to this country by the club will stay in New York at national headquarters for six weeks and then taken on a tour of club work throughout the U. S.

PROCESSIONAL FOR A HOME WEDDING

"Please outline the processional for a home wedding. My daughter plans to be married at home in the near future and her friends all seem to have different ideas as to how a wedding of this type should be handled."

Answer: When all is in readiness for the ceremony, one of the ushers (if there are ushers) should escort the bride's mother to her place in the front line of the guests, at the left, where the other members of the bride's family should join her. Another usher should take the bridegroom's mother to a corresponding place on the right, where she should be joined by her husband and the rest of the groom's relatives. The clergyman, the bridegroom and the best man then enter together from a door, preferably, near the end of the room where the ceremony will take place. The bridegroom and the best man should wait at the improvised altar for the bride to come in.

The ushers go upstairs where the bridal party waits to start the processional which forms in the upstairs hall. At the sound of the wedding march, the ushers, walking two by two come down the stairs; next come the bridesmaids (two by two); then the maid-of-honor (alone); last, the bride on the right arm of her father.

Question: When the brother of the bride is issuing announcement of her marriage should the announcements read:

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lee
announce the marriage of their
or his sister

Answer: The announcements should read their—not his—sister.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Some Observations In Stroll In New York

(By BART RICHARDS)

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—Being a "Yokel in Gotham" has many advantages.

You can ask questions, enjoy simple things and have a good time uninhibited by any large city comformity to a pattern of sophistication.

You can get a thrill riding a Staten Island ferryboat, listening to a pitchman's patter in Times Square, watching the kaleidoscopic electric signs, or just walking the streets watching the rest of the world hurrying to get some place the folks probably didn't have to go to anyway.

Ask the average New Yorker some information about Columbia university and you would probably get a generalization for an answer. A yokel asks questions in the place where you can get the right answers. So I did.

Has 49,000 Students

The total student enrollment is near 49,000, of which 18,000 are summer students. The other 31,000 are winter students but here is the surprising part of it all. Columbia college has only 2,756 students, all men. It is from Columbia college that Lou Little gets his football material and gets surprising results from such a relatively small student body.

The quadrangle of the university is a large one but a great deal of it is taken up by an area for track and field practice and tennis courts. Overlooking the quad from the west side is the Low Memorial library, now used as an administration building. On the broad steps of the building you can look across the quad and see the massive Nicholas Murray Butler library on the east end.

On the north side are Hamilton hall, Livingston hall and John Jay hall. It is in the latter hall that 19 of us are living during seminar of the American Press Institute.

On the south side are Furnald hall and the School of Journalism. There are many many other buildings of course. Law and medicine, mines and engineering, Barnard college, Teachers' college, the list is long and the buildings are numerous.

It is an amazing institution of higher learning, a "choosy" one if you please for student enrollment applications are screened carefully before admission is granted.

The only Lawrence county student I have seen on the campus is Dale Johnson of Volant, who is here for a master's degree in business administration. Dale graduated from Westminster last June.

Where Capt. Lawrence Is Buried

Ask any Lawrence county citizen the name of the man for whom the county was named and he tells you "Captain James Lawrence." But how many know where Captain Lawrence is buried?

In company with another yokel, I visited Trinity church last Sunday afternoon, located at the head of Wall street. Just inside the burial ground is a huge memorial covering the remains of Capt. Lawrence and his wife, and not far away the remains of another great American, Alexander Hamilton. Blackened by the grime of two centuries, old Trinity rears its impressive spire to the sky, surrounded on all sides by the financial institutions that represent a great deal of the nation's wealth.

Just up the street a little is the old sub-treasury upon the steps of which George Washington took the oath as president.

Crossroads of World

Times Square seems to be the crossroads of the world. At 11 o'clock at night as the theaters start emptying the square is packed with people, rich man, poor man, beggarman, thief.

It seems to be the mecca for strange characters. An evening or two ago I stood and listened to a political address. A man was making a speech asking that the people of New York make him mayor. What his party was he didn't say, he just wanted to be mayor if the people "want an honest government." As he looked out, apparently beyond the crowd he seemed earnestly trying to convince somebody.

Will Be in New Play

Rhys J. Williams, former New Castle man who has made a success in stage and screen acting, left New York for New Haven on Tuesday morning. Rhys and Thomas Mitchell and Walter Abel are in a new play which opens in New York on March 16.

According to Rhys the play is a "toughie." The plot is laid in an undertaking parlor.

And speaking of plays, there is one now playing in New York for which tickets are almost impossible to get for two months. "Death of a Salesman" is said to be the "great American play" every playwright has tried to produce. If any of you folks expect to be in New York and want to see it, order your tickets for May or June now.

State C. Of C. Decries Lack Of Information On Bonus Financing

HARRISBURG, Feb. 25.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce decried the lack of information connected with financing the 500 million dollar bonus for the state's veterans of World War II.

The chamber, which emphasized it "does not have an official policy" on the bonus question which will be posed for voters on the November ballot, said "legislative thinking on some of the fiscal problems connected with the bonus is not known at this time."

Bonus proposals, the chamber reported, have been defeated in Oregon, Nebraska, Missouri, Wisconsin and Maine.

In a special report, the state chamber pointed out that while an act of the General Assembly in 1947 established bonus scales of $15 a month for overseas duty and $10 for domestic service, the financial mechanics involved in underwriting the proposed bond issue have not been disclosed.

"In recent years the practice has been for the General Assembly to establish by law the general procedure for issuance of bonds and to authorize the governor, auditor general and treasurer to fix the terms and conditions of issue, redemption, maturity, etc.

"A bill for that purpose had not been introduced in the 1949 session when this report was prepared," the chamber stated.

An "advisory ballot" coupled with the bonus question, was suggested by the chamber to permit the electorate to express its preference for retiring the debt. In November, voters will be asked to sanction a constitutional amendment raising the commonwealth's debt limit to 500 million dollar specifically for paying the bonus.

No Financing Information

The chamber said there was no information on methods of financing principal and interest and whether new taxes would be necessary, how the bonus would be integrated with federal benefits and how contemplated expenditures for other commonwealth responsibilities would be affected by revenue requirements for payment of interest and principal on the proposed issue.

"The 1949 General Assembly can, and perhaps will, provide the answer to many of these questions before final adjournment," the chamber asserted.

"It is probably too late, of course, for the General Assembly to allow the people to decide some of these questions themselves, when they vote on the proposed constitutional amendment, although an advisory ballot still may represent a possibility.

"Regardless, it still is not too late for the 1949 General Assembly to formulate a fiscal program, conditioned upon approval of the bond issue at the November election," the chamber stated.

Will Face Highest Debt

Should the electorate approve the issue, "Pennsylvania will be faced with the highest debt in the country," the chamber added.

Fifty million dollars was authorized under a constitutional amendment approved by voters in 1934 for a bonus for World War I veterans and soldiers who had served in the Spanish-American war and those with overseas records in China, the Philippines and Guam between 1898 and 1902. Twenty-seven million dollars still is outstanding, the chamber said. No special taxes were enacted to retire the debt.

Bonus programs have been adopted, the chamber reported, in Washington, South Dakota, Iowa, Illinois, Louisiana, Michigan, Ohio, New York, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut and New Hampshire.

Maximum payments in the 13 states range from no limit in Illinoise—where a $10 a month grant for domestic duty and $15 for overseas service was authorized—down to $120 in Vermont.

Bonuses are pending in North Dakota, Minnesota and Indiana, the chamber said, while no action has been taken in Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Arkansas, Mississippi, Kentucky, North Carolina, Maryland and Delaware.

Bonus legislation was not approved in the remaining 18 states, according to the chamber.

Rubber Patent Pooling To End

AKRON, O.—(INS)—The government-sponsored patent pooling agreement in the man-made rubber field will come to an end soon.

That was the report made recently by John L. Collyer, president of the B. F. Goodrich company of Akron.

Collyer revealed that the major rubber companies and other parties to the agreement, completed soon after Pearl Harbor and commonly known as the December 1941 agreement, already have agreed on the terms of an arrangement for the return to free competition in the man-made rubber field.

The rubber company president added that it now remains only for the Canadian government to consent to the agreement.

Farm Prices Center Of Discussion By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright—1949—Publishers Financial Bureau, Incorporated

BABSON PARK, Fla., Feb. 25.—Of course, farm prices will ultimately be dependent upon supply and demand. With or without parity they are bound to sell lower. Whenever great surpluses occur in any product, black markets develop. Potatoes, which cannot be preserved, may be thrown overboard; but the public will never stand for throwing wheat, corn and other cereals overboard. The cost of living for 1949 will be less than that for 1948.

Roger W. Babson

What About Parity?

The above does not mean that the parity subsidy which the farmer now gets will be eliminated. It may automatically and gradually be decreased; but parity for farm products is here to stay. Farmers may at least feel that they are going to be taken care of as have other groups.

The government does not compel the farmer to sell at any definite price, but rather merely offers to "loan" the farmer a parity price of his product. The government calls it a "loan"; but it really is not a loan because, unlike other loans, if the value of the product goes down below the amount of the "loan", the farmer is not compelled to make up this difference. It is a unique proposition of "heads I win, tails you lose" always in favor of the farmer.

Let's Look At the Farmer

When I was a boy there were almost no government subsidies of any kind. As a result, our government which is now spending 44 billion a year, got on with less than one billion a year. The first subsidy was that of the protective tariff. This was just as much of a subsidy to manufacturers as parity support is now to the farmers. It is very difficult to get tariffs removed after they have once been put on the books. The next subsidy was given to those who would build and operate steamboats. These subsidies have constantly been increased rather than diminished. In the meantime, pension subsidies were given to Civil War veterans, then to Spanish War veterans, and later to World War veterans. These subsidies started in a small way, but here again, they have constantly increased. Labor has received a subsidy by government supporting labor unions and permitting us consumers to be assessed for increased wages.

Perhaps the greatest subsidy is that paid to unneeded government employees. To supply these and other funds income taxes were invented. It is well to remind younger readers that the normal income tax in 1913 was only 1 or 2% and the highest tax for the richest people went up to only 5%. This has gradually been increased so that the normal is now over 20% and the taxes gradually increase so that the rich people pay over 90%! Hence, the farmer is justified in asking that he likewise be taken care of as well as these useless government employees in unnecessary government bureaus.

The Farmers Future

Many talk of parity as a temporary affair, but I can assure farmers it will be just as permanent as tariffs, soldiers' pensions, labor legislation and income taxes. The parity program may be adjusted from time to time in accordance with general business conditions; but farmers can depend upon it forevermore. I forecast that from now on whatever the administration the farmer will be taken care of as he should be.

The above is one reason why I am optimistic on good farm property as insurance. Large commercial farms may be attacked as other large corporations, although they also deserve protection. I believe, however, that the small sustenance farms which are fairly near good communities are an excellent insurance. Every family should own such a sustenance farm somewhere. This does not mean to leave a good city job and go into farming as a business. I do not recommend small farming as a business, but I do recommend it as an insurance, and as a place to live and get your food, clothing and necessary shelter in case of World War III. Furthermore, as people wake up to the importance of such insurance, these farms will become more in demand and hence, should be a good investment if bought at a right price.

Senate Committee Approves Public Housing Measure

Compromise Bill Provides For 810,000 Dwelling Units In Six Years

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. — The Senate Banking committee, by a vote of 9 to 3, on Thursday approved a compromise public housing bill providing for construction of 810,000 dwelling units in six years.

The measure, which is expected to go to the Senate floor promptly, was approved after the committee rejected a proposed anti-segregation clause. This proposal, by Sens. Bricker (R) Ohio, and Cain (R) Wash., was defeated, 10 to 2.

Bricker, Cain and Sen. Robertson (D) Va., voted against the compromise bill. Sen. Capehart (R) Ind., was absent.

The Bricker-Cain proposal would have banned racial segregation in federally-subsidized projects.

Also defeated by voice vote were their proposals to limit occupancy to families earning less than $1,500 a year in cities and $1,200 in towns, and to bar local, state or federal government workers.

The committee accepted a provision that no single state may receive more than 10 per cent of the total awarded by the government for slum clearance, or in rental grants and subsidies.

Another provision approved stipulates that a city may contribute 20 per cent of the cost of a project and then tax it—as an alternative to payment to cities of 10 per cent of the income in lieu of taxes.

Slashes His Wife To Death, Then Ends Own Life

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 25.—(INS)—Authorities today probed the hospital release of a south Philadelphian who slashed his wife to death in a sudden rage and then fatally wounded himself with one of the two kitchen knives he had used.

Police said Louis Bernstein, 40, was still alive when they reached the couple's home in response to an alarm sounded by neighbors. Bleeding profusely from a deep gash in his neck, he rushed at two officers with a knife, but was felled by a bullet.

The charge struck him in the elbow, and he was rushed to a hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival from loss of blood from the neck wound.

Bernstein's sister-in-law, Eva Beer, told detectives he had been released last Friday from Philadelphia General hospital where he had spent a week in the psychiatric ward.

"We didn't think he was ready to be discharged," she said. "We were afraid something might happen."

The body of his wife, Betty, 37, an attractive brunette, was found on the living room floor. Police judged from the blood stains throughout the couple's first floor apartment, that she had been attacked first in the kitchen by her husband, who pursued her through three more rooms, slashing away, until she finally succumbed.

The striped hyena, a solitary and cowardly animal, feeds mainly on carrion, but occasionally attacks sheep, goats and dogs.

One of the latest inventions is an harmonica that is played with the fingers instead of the tongue. It is reported. It uses brass reeds, has a true harmonica tone, plays two full scales in the key of C and there is only one hole to draw through.

George Washington was the first President to veto a bill by Congress, this being a bill providing for the apportionment of representatives among the several states according to the first enumeration, Washington believed this to be unconstitutional.

Cost-Of-Living Drop Brings Cut In G.M. Wages

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(INS)—A drop in the government's cost-of-living index for the fourth straight month today brought a forthcoming two-cent hourly wage cut for 270,000 General Motors employes.

The Bureau of Labor statistics in its monthly report said retail prices declined three-tenths per cent between mid-December and mid-January but are still 1.2 per cent higher than a year ago.

The General Motors wage scale, under a contract which became operative last June 1 with the CIO United Auto Workers Union, is tied to the government's cost-of-living index.

Rev. McFarland Will Not Leave Pastorate

Many Improvements Made At Second Baptist Church Under Present Pastor's Leadership

Rev. J. L. McFarland, pastor of Second Baptist church, who tendered his resignation to the congregation of the church two weeks ago, has reconsidered and will remain as pastor of the church. Obstacles which led to his resignation have been removed and a vote of confidence was given Rev. McFarland at a congregational meeting on Wednesday evening.

Continued harmony and cooperation in the church has been assured for the coming days, it was learned at the meeting. Looking back over the past few months and years, during Rev. McFarland's most successful ministry here, the parsonage of the church was completely renovated at considerable cost, the church was redecorated, a new heating system was installed and other improvements made.

The church, according to Rev. McFarland, is on a self-sustaining basis and plans are under way for the future betterment of the church. Rev. McFarland has been quite active in many organizations in the city and is presently vice president of the New Castle Ministerial Association.

Builders Complete Plans For Dinner

Members of New Castle Chapter, No. One, Order of The Builders, completed plans for the annual mothers and fathers banquet, at their meeting in The Cathedral, Wednesday evening.

The dinner will take place in the main dining room of The Cathedral on Wednesday evening, March 2, at 6:30 o'clck, when Rosey Rowswell, radio artist will be the speaker. Dinner reservations must be made by Saturday evening, February 26, it was announced by Master Builder Paul Gibson.

George Washington's first inaugural was held in New York City; his second was in Philadelphia, which was also the scene of John Adams' inaugural.

LEND LEASE -- WORKING GIRL STYLE

MARY OGLIANITZA (left), Bayonne, N. J., lamp plant worker, and Ada Fishburn of Spennymore, England, shown together in London, will swap jobs and homes for a month. It's Mary's idea and she's even tossing in a letter of introduction to Frank Wagner, her boy friend. The rest is up to Ada—who leaves for the United States March 2—and Frank. (International Soundphoto)

IN THE OPEN

The tangy aroma of wood smoke hung in the air, ambrosial redolence of hundreds of brush fires burning brightly across the countryside. The countryman reveled in this nostalgic perfume and knew that landsmen everywhere were busy throwing off the shackles of the winter bondage. Two white-winged kites appeared above the hills, with the inevitable small boys tethered fast to the other end of the invisible halter cord.

In the parking lot hard by the market place a game of knuckledown marbles was in full swing, with all the trappings of mid-April. The 55-degree weather brought out ball bats and an odd assortment of "mitts" as grimy hands renewed the ectasy of scrub baseball in a soggy pasture lot by the roadside.

Call Of Killdeer

Out of the skies above the valley came suddenly the wild ringing flight call of the killdeer. The countryman ran out to welcome back this nervous citizen, who patrols the pastures and the mudflats so efficiently, when an advance guard of red-winged blackbirds came boldly up the valley. They settled in the sycamores by the creek for a "jam" session, and made the welkin ring with social cheer and jubilee before they took off for the next stop on their northward trek.

A faint mist was gathering as the countryman walked out on the high ridge and looked out across the timbered valley. An open area to the left had been overrun by a warm brown blanket of brome grass. The countryman rigged a seat at the edge of the bluff and lazed away the better part of an hour.

A great hawk soared across above the trees, a crow or two came by to investigate, and the occasional drumming of a woodpecker echoed up from the timber. The woods below seemed to stir in fitful slumber as the lengthening days pulled at the covers, but there was yet no trace of the luminous green halo which veils the timberland in its first blushing response to the advances of the ardent sun.

The countryman next wandered through an area set aside for training hunting dogs and found himself in the midst of a bedlam of yelping beagles. One hysterical chorus far up the hillside seemed headed his way, so he halted to await developments. Sure enough, the harassed cottontail suddenly bounded out into the pathway not twenty feet distant, then doubled sharply back at an oblique tangent and veered back up the hill through the brambles.

Hue And Cry

Soon the hue and cry came rolling down as a trio of eager beagles belled on the hot trail. The dogs trailed magnificently until they reached the point where the bunny had doubled. Here they overshot completely, fumbled badly as they bustled around where I stood, and finally took off in full cry back along the hillside trail I had followed.

By this time the mist had given way to a definite sprinkle and the countryman made good use of the hunting coat buttoned high under his chin. A short traverse across the hillside led to the skunk cabbage swale where the hoods were all well out of the muck, and the odd blossoms were entertaining whatever insect visitors would dare the weather. The high octane whine of a busy honeybee revealed one of these hard workers moving about over the swale, but she was apparently not too much interested in the cabbage blooms.

Cut Walking Stick

The countryman stopped to cut out a walking stick from a small ailanthus grove which had found footing in a dense thicket of wild apple trees. A large gray bird slipped noiselessly out of a nearby tree and flew ahead a few yards, halting just beyond good identification range. The countryman forgot the ailanthus cane and set out in stealthy pursuit.

The big bird was probably an owl, for its flight was as noiseless as one of the big nocturnal moths. It refused to stay put long enough for a good close look, but never flew more than a few hundred feet each time it took wing. The countryman pursued it in a great circle through the thicket, the thorny brush knocking off his cap many times during the procedure, and finally gave up when the bird flapped over a rise and out of sight.

A small group of the sparrows known as pine siskins flew overhead as the countryman walked out to the roadway. The characteristic flight call of this bird is unmistakable. The rain fell more heavily as the day advanced, and soon the woodlands were a dripping, sodden retreat, attractive only to the beagles who were still coursing the whole area. That evening a large band of male robins dropped by on their way through from the South. From now on, no matter what rear guard action the retreating winter fights, there will be never a dull moment in the open.

Calendar Tea Is Much Enjoyed

Women Of The Eagles Have Unusual Social Event At Club House

Women of the Eagles of New Castle held one of their most unique and successful events when approximately 150 persons attended and thoroughly enjoyed the Calendar Tea held in the Eagles club Tuesday evening. Each table was decorated beautifully, representing the months of the year.

The table of January, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Edna Ricer, who was assisted by Mrs. Walter Pilch, brought in the New Year complete with hats and noisemakers.

February, with Mrs. Henry Navarra, chairlady assisted by Mrs. Clara Tate and Mrs. Frances Eckert, represented St. Valentine's Day

March, with Mrs. Alvin Herberg, chairlady, assisted by Mrs. Sue DeRobbio, Mrs. Clarence McCune and Mrs. James Herberg, was decordated in the motif of St. Patrick's Day.

April, with Mrs. Samuel Jackson as chairlady, assisted by Mrs. Samuel Jackson, Jr., represented Easter.

May, under the supervision of Mrs. Elgin McConnell, depicted graduation, the Map pole and May queen.

The highlight of the tables was achieved with the appointments at the June table, which was a complete wedding. Miniature dolls were beautifully dressed as members of the wedding party with the bride in white satin, etc. This was completed with a beautiful wedding cake.

Mrs. Arlis Crum was chairlady and was assisted by Mrs. Katherine Ross, Mrs. James Hook and Mrs. George Keck.

July, with Mrs. Charles King in charge, showed a Fourth of July celebration.

August, as vacation month, was carried out with a seashore scent, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Dorothy Heckart, assisted by Mrs. Clara Jameson and Mrs. Susan Oberleitner.

September used a "Back to School" theme complete with miniature dolls with books going back to the little red schoolhouse, with Miss Mary Lou McConnell in charge.

October showed Hallowe'en, Mrs. Ellis McCracken as chairlady.

November was most unique, showing a complete Thanksgiving dinner with the complete menu depicted in soap, colored and shaped like food. Mrs. Katherine Williams was chairlady.

The final table was December, which showed the Christmas celebration, with Mrs. Elsie Pugh in charge, assisted by Mrs. Emma Tate.

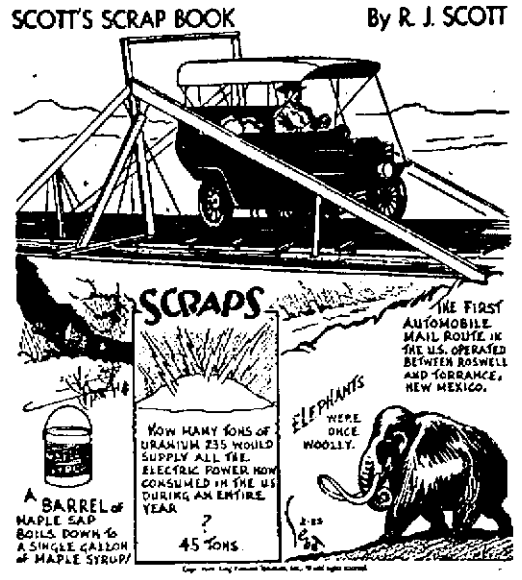

A program was present with Miss Janet Navarra acting as mistress of ceremonies. She introduced the Floyd Sisters, singer of Western songs. Mary Ann Conti and Anna DeCaprio were featured as dancers and several members of the Eagles auxiliary present the final note of the program. "Chatter," a reading, was given by Mrs. Henry Navarra and a skit, "The Better City Campaign," was presented by Mrs. Samuel Jackson, Mrs. Elgin McConnell, Mrs. Clara Jameson, Mrs. Katherine Crum and Mrs. Mabel Herberg.

Door prizes were awarded to Mrs. William Jacinski, Miss Janet Navarra, Mrs. Elsie Stanley and Peter Reno.

The next regular meeting will be March 1.

Colder Process Is Main Secret Of Phipps Find

U. S. A. — "The Readers Digest," most widely read magazine in the world, had this to say about "COLD RUBBER".

"If luck is with you, next time you buy a tire for your car you'll get more than you expect for your money. This year something like three out of 100 purchasers will receive a "surprise package" tire".

Dean Phipps Stores states that "why trust to luck?" Cold Rubber tires can now be purchased at their stores. Cold Rubber gives a user mileage far beyond anything tire engineers thought possible. The evidence is overwhelming.

Church Attendance Included During Pre-Easter Contest

Annual pre-Easter Sunday school attendance contest which gets under way Sunday in the city and county will show much keen competition among the 126 schools that are participating for the eight-week period.

The New Castle Superintendent's Council and the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, who are jointly sponsoring the contest, relea..d today the basis for figuring the percentage points during the progress of the contest.

The contest opens Sunday, February 27 and closes Sunday, April 17. The enrollment is based on that reported to the Sabbath School Association for 1948.

Scholar attendance means 100 points including organized class officers which is determined by the percentage of attendance each Sunday. For example, if the enrollment on January 23 was 150 and the attendance was 90, the school is awarded 60 points. The 90 scholars present represent three-fifths of the enrollment. Multiplying this by 100 for each scholar, the points total 60.

In the teacher and officer attendance portion, 100 points is given for each teacher or officer and the points are determined by the percentage of attendance each Sunday. If the enrollment in this division is 15 and 12 are present, multiply four-fifth or 80 per cent of the 100, which gives 80 points.

In church attendance, 100 points is given for attendance. This is determined by the percentage of attendance at the morning service of the number of Sunday school members enrolled. If the enrollment is 165 and 66 attend church, the percentage of those attending is multiplied by 100 and the result is 40.

A school with the above figures would receive 180 points for that particular Sunday.

Awards for the contest are to be presented to the schools on the Sunday following the close of the contest.

Annual pre-Easter Sunday school attendance contest which gets under way Sunday in the city and county will show much keen competition among the 126 schools that are participating for the eight-week period.

The New Castle Superintendent's Council and the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, who are jointly sponsoring the contest, released today the basis for figuring the percentage points during the progress of the contest.

The contest opens Sunday, February 27 and closes Sunday, April 17. The enrollment is based on that reported to the Sabbath School Association for 1948.

Scholar attendance means 100 points including organized class officers which is determined by the percentage of attendance each Sunday. For example, if the enrollment on January 23 was 150 and the attendance was 90, the school is awarded 60 points. The 90 scholars present represent three-fifths of the enrollment. Multiplying this by 100 for each scholar, the points total 60.

In the teacher and officer attendance portion, 100 points is given for each teacher or officer and the points are determined by the percentage of attendance each Sunday. If the enrollment in this division is 15 and 12 are present, multiply four-fifth or 80 per cent of the 100, which gives 80 points.

In church attendance, 100 points is given for attendance. This is determined by the percentage of attendance at the morning service of the number of Sunday school members enrolled. If the enrollment is 165 and 66 attend church, the percentage of those attending is multiplied by 100 and the result is 40.

A school with the above figures would receive 180 points for that particular Sunday.

Awards for the contest are to be presented to the schools on the Sunday following the close of the contest.

State C. Of C. Decries Lack Of Information On Bonus Financing

HARRISBURG, Feb. 25.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce decried the lack of information connected with financing the 500 million dollar bonus for the state's veterans of World War II.

The chamber, which emphasized it "does not have an official policy" on the bonus question which will be posed for voters on the November ballot, said "legislative thinki on some of the fiscal problems connected with the bonus is not known at this time."

Bonus proposals, the chamber reported, have been defeated in Oregon, Nebraska, Missouri, Wisconsin and Maine.

In a special report, the state chamber pointed out that while an act of the General Assembly in 1947 established bonus scales of $15 a month for overseas duty and $10 for domestic service, the financial mechanics involved in underwriting the proposed bond issue have not been disclosed.

"In recent years the practice has been for the General Assembly to establis by law the general procedure for issuance of bonds and to authorize the governor, auditor general and treasurer to fix the terms and conditions of issue, redemption, maturity, etc.

"A bill for that purpose had not been introduced in the 1949 session when this report was prepared," the chamber stated.

An "advisory ballot" coupled with the bonus question, was suggested by the chamber to permit the electorate to express its preference for retiring the debt. In November, voters will be asked to sanction a constitutional amendment raising the commonwealth's debt limit to 500 million dollar specifically for paying the bonus.

No Financing Information

The chamber said there was no information on methods of financing principal and interest and whether new taxes would be necessary, how the bonus would be integrated with federal benefits and how contemplated expenditures for other commonwealth responsibilities would be affected by revenue requirements for payment of interest d principal on the proposed sue.

"The 1949 General Assembly can, and perhaps will, provide the answer to many of these questions before final adjournment," the chamber asserted.

"It is probably too late, of course, for the General Assembly to allow the people to decide some of these questions themselves, when they vote on the proposed constitutional amendment, although an advisory ballot still may represent a possibility.

"Regardless, it still is not too late for the 1949 General Assembly to formulate a fiscal program, conditioned upon approval of the bond issue at the November election," the chamber stated.

Will Face Highest Debt

Should the electorate approve the issue, "Pennsylvania will be faced with the highest debt in the country," the chamber added.

Fifty million dollars was authorized under a constitutional amendment approved by voters in 1934 for a bonus for World War I veterans and soldiers who had served in the Spanish-American war and those with overseas records in China, the Philippines and Guam between 1898 and 1902. Twenty-seven million dollars still is outstanding, the chamber said. No special taxes were enacted to retire the debt.

Bonus programs have been adopted, the chamber reported, in Washington, South Dakota, Iowa, Illinois, Louisiana, Michigan, Ohio, New York, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut and New Hampshire.

Maximum payments in the 13 states range from no limit in Illinoise—where a $10 a month grant for domestic duty and $15 for overseas service was authorized—down to $120 in Vermont.

Bonuses are pending in North Dakota, Minnesota and Indiana, the chamber said, while no action has been taken in Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Arkansas, Mississippi, Kentucky, North Carolina, Maryland and Delaware.

Bonus legislation was not approved in the remaining 18 states, according to the chamber.

Rubber Patent Pooling To End

AKRON, O.—(INS)—The government-sponsored patent pooling agreement in the man-made rubber field will come to an end soon.

That was the report made recently by John L. Collyer, president of the B. F. Goodrich company of Akron.

Collyer revealed that the major rubber companies and other parties to the agreement, completed soon after Pearl Harbor and commonly known as the December 1941 agreement, already have agreed on the terms of an arrangement for the return to free competition in the man-made rubber field.

The rubber company president added that it now remains only for the Canadian government to consent to the agreement.

Some Observations In Stroll In New York

(By BART RICHARDS)

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Being a "Yokel in Gotham" has many advantages.

You can ask questions, enjoy simple things and have a good time uninhibited by any large city comformity to a pattern of sophistication.

You can get a thrill riding a Staten Island ferryboat, listening to a pitchman's patter in Times Square, watching the kaleidoscopic electric signs, or just walking the streets watching the rest of the world hurrying to get some place the folks probably didn't have to go to anyway.

Ask the average New Yorker some information about Columbia university and you would probably get a generalization for an answer. A yokel asks questions in the place where you can get the right answers. So I did.

Has 49,000 Students

The total student enrollment is near 49,000, of which 18,000 are summer students. The other 31,000 are winter students but here is the surprising part of it all. Columbia college has only 2,756 students, all men. It is from Columbia college that Lou Little gets his football material and gets surprising results from such a relatively small student body.

The quadrangle of the university is a large one but a great deal of it is taken up by an area for track and field practice and tennis courts. Overlooking the quad from the west side is the Low Memorial library, now used as an administration building. On the broad steps of the building you can look across the quad and see the massive Nicholas Murray Butler library on the east end.

On the north side are Hamilton hall, Livingston hall and John Jay hall. It is in the latter hall that 19 of us are living during seminar of the American Press Institute.

On the south side are Furnald hall and the School of Journalism. There are many many other buildings of course. Law and medicine, mines and engineering. Barnard college, Teachers' college, the list is long and the buildings are numerous.

It is an amazing institution of higher learning, a "choosy" one if you please for student enrollment applications are screened carefully before admission is granted.

The only Lawrence county student I have seen on the campus is Dale Johnson of Volant, who is here for a master's degree in business administration. Dale graduated from Westminster last June.

Where Capt. Lawrence Is Buried

Ask any Lawrence county citizen the name of the man for whom the county was named and he tells you "Captain James Lawrence." But how many know where Captain Lawrence is buried?

In company with another yokel, I visited Trinity church last Sunday afternoon, located at the head of Wall street. Just inside the burial ground is a huge memorial covering the remains of Capt. Lawrence and his wife, and not far away the remains of another great American, Alexander Hamilton. Blackened by the grime of two centuries, old Trinity rears its impressive spire to the sky, surrounded on all sides by the financial institutions that represent a great deal of the nation's wealth.

Just up the street a little is the old sub-treasury upon the steps of which George Washington took the oath as president.

Crossroads of World

Times Square seems to be the crossroads of the world. At 11 o'clock at night as the theaters start emptying the square is packed with people, rich man, poor man, beggarman, thief.

It seems to be the mecca for strange characters. An evening or two ago I stood and listened to a political address. A man was maka speech asking that the people of New York make him mayor. What his party was he didn't say, he just wanted to be mayor if the people "want an honest government." As he looked out, apparently beyond the crowd he seemed earnestly trying to convince somebody.

Will Be in New Play

Rhys I. Williams, former New Castle man who has made a success in stage and screen acting, left New York for New Haven on Tuesday morning. Rhys and Thomas Mitchell and Walter Abel are in a new play which opens in New York on March 16.

According to Rhys the play is a "toughie." The plot is laid in an undertaking parlor.

And speaking of plays, there is one now playing in New York for which tickets are almost impossible to get for two months. "Death of a Salesman" is said to be the "great American play" every playwright has tried to produce. If any of you folks expect to be in New York and want to see it, order your tickets for May or June now.

Rev. McFarland Will Not Leave Pastorate

Many Improvements Made At Second Baptist Church Under Present Pastor's Leadership

Rev. J. L. McFarland, pastor of Second Baptist church, who tendered his resignation to the congregation of the church two weeks ago, has reconsidered and will remain as pastor of the church. Obstacles which led to his resignation have been removed and a vote of confidence was given Rev. McFarland at a congregational meeting on Wednesday evening.

Continued harmony and cooperation in the church has been assured for the coming days, it was learned at the meeting. Looking back over the past few months and years, during Rev. McFarland's most successful ministry here, the parsonage of the church was completely renovated at considerable cost, the church was redecorated a new heating system was installed and other improvements made.

IN THE OPEN

The tangy aroma of wood smoke hung in the air, ambrosial redolence of hundreds of brush fires burning brightly across the countryside. The countryman reveled in this nostalgic perfume and knew that landsmen everywhere were busy throwing off the shackles of the winter bondage. Two white-winged kites appeared above the hills, with the inevitable small boys tethered fast to the other end of the invisible halter cord.

In the parking lot hard by the market place a game of knuckledown marbles was in full swing, with all the trappings of mid-April. The 55-degree weather brought out ball bats and an odd assortment of "mitts" as grimy hands renewed the ecstasy of scrub baseball in a soggy pasture lot by the roadside.

Call Of Killdeer

Out of the skies above the valley came suddenly the wild ringing flight call of the killdeer. The countryman ran out to welcome back this nervous citizen, who patrols the pastures and the mudflats so efficiently, when an advance guard of red-winged blackbirds came boldly up the valley. They settled in the sycamores by the creek for a "jam" session, and made the welkin ring with social cheer and jubilee before they took off for the next stop on their northward trek.

A faint mist was gathering as the countryman walked out on the high ridge and looked out across the timbered valley. An open area to the left had been overrun by a warm brown blanket of brome grass. The countryman rigged a seat at the edge of the bluff and lared away the better part of an hour.

A great hawk soared across above the trees, a crow or two came by to investigate, and the occasional drumming of a woodpecker echoed up from the timber. The woods below seemed to stir in fitful slumber as the lengthening days pulled at the covers, but there was yet no trace of the luminous green halo which veils the timberland in its first blushing response to the advances of the ardent sun.

The countryman next wandered through an area set aside for training hunting dogs and found himself in the midst of a bedlam of yelping beagles. One hysterical chorus far up the hillside seemed headed his way, so he halted to await developments. Sure enough, the harassed cottontail suddenly bounded out into the pathway not twenty feet distant, then doubled sharply back at an oblique tangent and veered back up the hill through the brambles.

Hue And Cry

Soon the hue and cry came rolling down as a trio of eager beagles belled on the hot trail. The dogs trailed magnificently until they reached the point where the bunny had doubled. Here they overshot completely, fumbled badly as they hustled around where I stood, and finally took off in full cry back along the hillside trail I had followed.

By this time the mist had given way to a definite sprinkle and the countryman made good use of the hunting coat buttoned high under his chin. A short traverse across the hillside led to the skunk cabbage swale where the hoods were all well out of the muck, and the odd blossoms were entertaining whatever insect visitors would dare the weather. The high octane whine of a busy honeybee revealed one of these hard workers moving about over the swale, but she was apparently not too much interested in the cabbage blooms.

Cut Walking Stick

The countryman stopped to cut out a walking stick from a small ailanthus grove which had found footing in a dense thicket of wild apple trees. A large gray bird slipped noiselessly out of a nearby tree and flew ahead a few yards, halting just beyond good identification range. The countryman forgot the ailanthus cane and set out in stealthy pursuit.

The big bird was probably an owl, for its flight was as noiseless as one of the big nocturnal moths. It refused to stay put long enough for a good close look, but never flew more than a few hundred feet each time it took wing. The countryman pursued it in a great circle through the thicket, the thorny brush knocking off his cap many times during the procedure, and finally gave up when the bird flapped over a rise and out of sight.

A small group of the sparrows known as pine siskins flew overhead as the countryman walked out to the roadway. The characteristic flight call of this bird is unmistakable. The rain fell more heavily as the day advanced, and soon the woodlands were a dripping, sodden retreat, attractive only to the beagles who were still coursing the whole area. That evening a large band of male robins dropped by on their way through from the South. From now on, no matter what rear guard action the retreating winter fights, there will be never a dull moment in the open.

Farm Prices Center Of Discussion By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright—1949—Publishers Financial Bureau, Incorporated

BABSON PARK, Fla., Feb. 25.—Of course, farm prices will ultimately be dependent upon supply and demand. With or without parity they are bound to sell lower. Whenever great surpluses occur in any product, black markets develop. Potatoes, which cannot be preserved, may be thrown overboard; but the public will never stand for throwing wheat, corn and other cereals overboard. The cost of living for 1949 will be less than that for 1948.

Roger W. Babson

What About Parity?

The above does not mean that the parity subsidy which the farmer now gets will be eliminated. It may automatically and gradually be decreased; but parity for farm products is here to stay. Farmers may at least feel that they are going to be taken care of as have other groups.

The government does not compel the farmer to sell at any definite price, but rather merely offers to "loan" the farmer a parity price of his product. The government calls it a "loan"; but it really is not a loan because, unlike other loans, if the value of the product goes down below the amount of the "loan", the farmer is not compelled to make up this difference. It is a unique proposition of "heads I win, tails you lose" always in favor of the farmer.

Let's Look At the Farmer

When I was a boy there were almost no government subsidies of any kind. As a result, our government which is now spending 44 billion a year, got on with less than one billion a year. The first subsidy was that of the protective tariff. This was just as much of a subsidy to manufacturers as parity support is now to the farmers. It is very difficult to get tariffs removed after they have once been put on the books. The next subsidy was given to those who would build and operate steamboats. These subsidies have constantly been increased rather than diminished. In the meantime, pension subsidies were given to Civil War veterans, then to Spanish War veterans, and later to World War veterans. These subsidies started in a small way, but here again, they have constantly increased. Labor has received a subsidy by government supporting labor unions and permitting us consumers to be assessed for increased wages.

Perhaps the greatest subsidy is that paid to unneeded government employees. To supply these and other funds income taxes were invented. It is well to remind younger readers that the normal income tax in 1913 was only 1 or 2% and the highest tax for the richest people went up to only 5%. This has gradually been increased so that the normal is now over 20% and the taxes gradually increase so that the rich people pay over 90%! Hence, the farmer is justified in asking that he likewise be taken care of as well as these useless government employees in unnecessary government bureaus.

The Farmers Future

Many talk of parity as a temporary affair, but I can assure farmers it will be just as permanent as tariffs, soldiers' pensions, labor legislation and income taxes. The parity program may be adjusted from time to time in accordance with general business conditions; but farmers can depend upon it forevermore. I forecast that from now on whatever the administration the farmer will be taken care of as he should be.

The above is one reason why I am optimistic on good farm property as insurance. Large commercial farms may be attacked as other large corporations, although they also deserve protection. I believe, however, that the small sustenance farms which are fairly near good communities are an excellent insurance. Every family should own such a sustenance farm somewhere. This does not mean to leave a good city job and go into farming as a business. I do not recommend small farming as a business, but I do recommend it as an insurance, and as a place to live and get your food, clothing and necessary shelter in case of World War III. Furthermore, as people wake up to the importance of such insurance, these farms will become more in demand and hence, should be a good investment if bought at a right price.

Senate Committee Approves Public Housing Measure

Compromise Bill Provides For 810,000 Dwelling Units In Six Years

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. — The Senate Banking committee, by a vote of 9 to 3, on Thursday approved a compromise public housing bill providing for construction of 810,000 dwelling units in six years.

The measure, which is expected to go to the Senate floor promptly, was approved after the committee rejected a proposed anti-segregation clause. This proposal, by Sens. Bricker (R) Ohio, and Cain (R) Wash., was defeated, 10 to 2.

Bricker, Cain and Sen. Robertson (D) Va., voted against the compromise bill. Sen. Capehart (R) Ind., was absent.

The Bricker-Cain proposal would have banned racial segregation in federally-subsidized projects.

Also defeated by voice vote were their proposals to limit occupany to families earning less than $1,500 a year in cities and $1,200 in towns, and to bar local, state or federal government workers.

The committee accepted a provision that no single state may receive more than 10 per cent of the total awarded by the government for slum clearance, or in rental grants and subsidies.

Another provision approved stipulates that a city may contribute 20 per cent of the cost of a project and then tax it—as an alternative to payment to cities of 10 per cent of the income in lieu of taxes.

Slashes His Wife To Death, Then Ends Own Life

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 25. — (INS) — Authorities today probed the hospital release of a south Philadelphian who slashed his wife to death in a sudden rage and then fatally wounded himself with one of the two kitchen knives he had used.

Police said Louis Bernstein, 40, was still alive when they reached the couple's home in response to an alarm sounded by neighbors. Bleeding profusely from a deep gash in his neck, he rushed at two officers with a knife, but was felled by a bullet.

The charge struck him in the elbow, and he was rushed to a hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival from loss of blood from the neck wound.

Bernstein's sister-in-law, Eva Beer, told detectives he had been released last Friday from Philadelphia General hospital where he had spent a week in the psychiatric ward.

"We didn't think he was ready to be discharged," she said. "We were afraid something might happen."

The body of his wife, Betty, 37, an attractive brunette, was found on the living room floor. Police judged from the blood stains throughout the couple's first floor apartment, that she had been attacked first in the kitchen by her husband, who pursued her through three more rooms, slashing away, until she finally succumbed.

The striped hyena, a solitary and cowardly animal, feeds mainly on carrion, but occasionally attacks sheep, goats and dogs.

One of the latest inventions is an harmonica that is played with the fingers instead of the tongue, it is reported. It uses brass reeds, has a true harmonica tone, plays two full scales in the key of C, and there is only one hole to draw through.

George Washington was the first President to veto a bill by Congress, this being a bill providing for the apportionment of representatives among the several states according to the first enumeration, Washington believed this to be unconstitutional.

Cost-Of-Living Drop Brings Cut In G.M. Wages

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(INS)—A drop in the government's cost-of-living index for the fourth straight month today brought a forthcoming two-cent hourly wage cut for 270,000 General Motors employes.

The Bureau of Labor statistics in its monthly report said retail prices declined three-tenths per cent between mid-December and mid-January but are still 1.2 per cent higher than a year ago.

The General Motors wage scale, under a contract which became operative last June 1 with the CIO United Auto Workers Union, is tied to the government's cost-of-living index.

Power Company Employes Hear About Research

Research is responsible for more improvement in living standards in the United States than any other one thing, Larry F. Livingston, extension division manager of the DuPont company, said in a talk here to the employees of Pennsylvania Power company and their families at the Cathedral last night.

Mr. Livingston gave his audience a preview of chemical developments which are on the way from research laboratories as well as the intimate stories of the creation of such well-known things as nylon.

"There is a freedom of thought in the research behind these things," he declared. "As long as we have the freedom to follow our pursuits in the interest of the common good, nothing can stop the continued advance in this country."

Mr. Livingston had on display scores of chemical products developed by DuPont and many other companies. He demonstrated such things as nylon, polythene, 'Lucite' acrylic resin, and others, to illustrate the cooperation between big companies which produce basic materials and the small businesses which use them.

Contributing to the success of the evening were selections by the local Chapter 500 of the S. P. E. B. S. Q. S. A., directed by Dai Jones.

PROCESSIONAL FOR A HOME WEDDING

"Please outline the processional for a home wedding. My daughter plans to be married at home in the near future and her friends all seem to have different ideas as to how a wedding of this type should be handled."

Answer: When all is in readiness for the ceremony, one of the ushers (if there are ushers) should escort the bride's mother to her place in the front line of the guests, at the left, where the other members of the bride's family should join her. Another usher should take the bridegroom's mother to a corresponding place on the right, where she should be joined by her husband and the rest of the groom's relatives. The clergyman, the bridegroom and the best man then enter together from a door, preferably, near the end of the room where the ceremony will take place. The bridegroom and the best man should wait at the improvised altar for the bride to come in.

The ushers go upstairs where the bridal party waits to start the processional which forms in the upstairs hall. At the sound of the wedding march, the ushers, walking two by two come down the stairs; next come the bridesmaids (two by two); then the maid-of-honor (alone); last, the bride on the right arm of her father.

Question: When the brother of the bride is issuing announcement of her marriage should the announcements read:

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lee
announce the marriage of their
or his sister

Answer: The announcements should read their—not his—sister.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Strip-Tease Dancer Held For Receiving Jewel Thief's Loot

Rose Marie Sudarick (of 2517 Riverview avenue) McKeesport, Pa., is accused of receiving jewelry reportedly stolen by Jack Garin, 40, who was shot early Thursday morning while trying to escape a detective in a midtown bar.

Garin, with a superficial bullet wound in the left shoulder, is in the prison ward at Bellevue hospital. He is charged with burglarizing the Melbrooke Jewelry Co. on February 4 of $10,000 in watches and gems.

The McKeesport police reported that Miss Sudarick left there yesterday on a Baltimore and Ohio Train for New York. Early today Detective Samuel Bress, who arrested Garin, and Detectives John O'Neill and Leonard Golden, went to the terminal and placed her under arrest.

According to police, Miss Sudarick admitted she was Garin's girl friend, and that she had pawned a watch and four rings for him in Baltimore for $140. She has no connection, she said, with the "Satira" tried in Havana for shooting her boy friend.

Diamond Locket Representing 40 Years Service Presented To Local Insurance Man

From selling insurance door to door 40 years ago to a managerial position with over 50 employes under his supervision is the record of James E. Deegan, district manager of the Prudential Insurance Company who was honored Thursday evening at a splendid dinner meeting held at Schusters near Greenville. As a momento of the occasion the honored guest received a diamond locket.

More than 100 associates including representatives from the home office in Newark, N. J., gathered at the popular meeting place to do homage to the New Castle man, who has lived, eaten and slept with insurance since 1909.

Mr. Deegan, who resides at 125 Euclid avenue, left the Westinghouse Electric Company in 1909 to enter the insurance business starting as an agent at East Pittsburgh. Promoted to assistant district manager, the following year, he was transferred to Braddock, Pa. He served in that capacity in Youngstown, Sharon and New Castle, before becoming district manager in 1949.

The very interesting program on Thursday evening brought T. Gibson Smith, regional manager from Newark, N. J., to aid in the unusual event which was being celebrated. Speakers on the program included: Frank Goodwin of the Sharon office, H. L. McIlvenny of the local office and J. E. Mattson of Sharon. Special vocal selections were sung by Miss Mayhler of the Sharon office.

It is interesting to note that one employe Frank Goodman has been with Mr. Deegan in the New Castle office down through the years with 29 years service to his credit. In February of 1950, Mr. Deegan will retire from the insurance business and perhaps locate in Florida or California. His family includes his wife and three children, James E., Jr., Robert E. and Gloriann.

B.P.W. Plan Aid To German Women

Announcement has been made that the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., will cooperate with the American military government in an exchange program for German women. Dr. K. Frances Scott, national president of the organization, has stated that the U. S. will bring the women to this country if some group or organization will sponsor them.

The National Federation of BPW will sponsor one woman who is a business or professional woman herself. The prominent German women will be brought to this country to observe democratic principles and ideals as demonstrated in the activities of women's clubs. The woman brought to this country by the club will stay in New York at national headquarters for six weeks and then taken on a tour of club work throughout the U. S.

Grand Auxiliary Charter Is Draped

Members of the Grand International Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers met in the green room of the YWCA on Thursday afternoon with a good attendance.

During the business session, in charge of Mrs. C. A. Probst, preparations were made regarding the ritualistic work for the inspection to take place in the near future. The charter was draped for a departed sister.

Review Shenango Tax Assessments

Commissioners Go Over Assessments Which Had Been Protested

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE HILL

Sitting as a court of appeals and board of review the county commissioners again went over tax assessments in Shenango township which had been appealed and made a final adjustment. After hearing preliminary appeals last week the commissioners went to the scent and viewed the properties.

Most of those who complained against the raise in assessments charged that there were inequalities and Assessor Henry M. Badger was called in to assist in making adjustments.

DOG TAG SALE GROWS

Recent arrests of dog owners who had failed to secure licenses for their canines has caused the sale of dog tags to spurt with the result that the figure as of Thursday stood at 8,384. This, however, is about 3,000 less than in 1949, revealing that there are still a large number of dog owners who have failed to comply with the law. The number of licenses sold last year was over 11,000.

Prosecutions are expected to continue throughout the county the dog law enforcement agent, Howard McLure, has warned.

FILES DAMAGE SUIT

An action in tresspass has been filed by John Hajec of R. D. 1, Wampum, against Louis Sabo of Ellport in which damages in the sum of $315 are sought as the result of a collision on Route 422 four miles east of New Castle in which Hajec charges Sabo was negligent.

NO MARRIAGE LICENSES

Not a single marriage license had been issued up to noon, Thursday, which is unusual. Evidently most young folks feel this is a poor time of the year to get married.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Constance Bennett is generally considered the shrewdest business woman who ever starred on the screen. She has made almost as much in outside ventures as she did when she was one f the highest-salaried actresses in Hollywood.

"I don't know why Connie works so hard," said a friend. "After all, she can't take it with her."

"If Connie can't take it with her," replied one of Miss Bennett's sisters grimly, "she won't go."

A long-time inmate of an insane asylum was pronounced cured by the examining board and came to bid the director goodbye before faring into the outside world. 'What are your plans?" asked the director.

"I haven't made up my mind," confided the ex-patient. "I may resume my medical practice. I've also been thinking of becoming a newspaper reporter. Then, on the other hand, I may be a tea-kettle."

Would Give Full Facts On Bikini Atom Bomb Tests

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(INS)—Rep. Holifield (D) Calif., a member of the joint Senate-House Atomic Energy committee, recommended Thursday that Congress "demand" the "full facts of the Bikini atom bomb tests."

Holifield, an official observer at the mid-Pacific tests, urged that the portion of the report of the joint chiefs of staff which "applied the destructive effects of the bombs be laid bare before the American public."

The congressman charged in the House that the American public has been lulled into a state of false security by the belief that the United States is the sole possessor of the A-bomb.

Holifield said that Defense Secretary Forrestal "has preferred not to worry us with the bothersome details."

He said that if the report is not published soon, "then I recommend that the Congress establish its own investigation into the reasons why this vital information is being withheld."

General Motors Reduces Prices

DETROIT, Feb. 25. — (INS) — General Motors cut its prices $10 to $40 today on all its passenger cars and on its Chevrolet trucks.

GM President Charles E. Wilson said the reductions were effective immediately and were formulated to "pass along to consumers the savings resulted from both the downward adjustment of wage and salary payments and the lowered cost of certain material items."

The action coincided with GM's announcement that it was adjusting downward its cost-of-living allowance paid to its 341,000 eligible hourly-rate and salary employes.

Coroner's Jury Charges Murder

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25.—(INS) —A Seattle aircraft worker today was charged with murder in connection with slaying of his father-in-law in Pittsburgh last January 22.

A coroner's jury Thursday accused Meredith Neal, 49, of fatally shooting Henry S. Bepler, 67, Pittsburgh insurance man, and seriously wounding Bepler's wife, Mrs. Myrtle Bepler.

The shooting took place in the Bepler home following an argument over the custody of Neal's 15-year-old son, Noel.

Neal had flown to Pittsburgh from Seattle to arrange to take the boy, who had been living with his grandparents, back to Seattle.

FURS STOLEN

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 25. — (INS)—Police were called to an exclusive Rittenhouse Square apartment early today to investigate the theft of more than $30,000 in furs, jewels and other valuables.

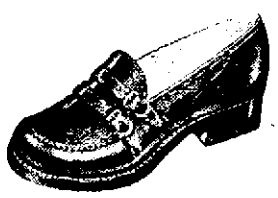

Morris Feldman, a real estate broker, and his wife June, discovered their seventh floor suite had been ransacked when they returned shortly before midnight.

As of January, 1947, the U. S. Census Bureau and the Bureau of Agricultural Economics announced that 27,550,000 persons were living on farms.

Tax Bills Are Now 'Orphans'

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Feb 25.—Recommendations of the special legislative committee for a streamlined tax structure for Pennsylvania evidently will go begging as far as the administration is concerned . . . Six bills to carry out the committee's recommendations were introduced in the house this week by Rep. Warner M. Depue (R) Pike . . . They propose sweeping revisions in the state's current taxing methods and substitution of a number of new levies, headed by a two per cent sales tax on nearly all good except food . . . Although prepared at the request of the Republican-dominated 1947 General Assembly, the bills are considered "orphans" by the administration now . . . The committee was assigned to devise a "scientific and equitable" tax structure for the commonwealth and the bills purportedly are designed with that aim.

On the basis of preliminary reports of the committee, Gov. James H. Duff effectively scuttled the program's enactment when he said he opposed it "at this time" . . . At the same time, however, the governor left the way open for enactment of a sales tax in the future, and in fact, indicated that it may be necessary to finance the $500,000,000 soldier's bonus . . . Duff's tax program for the remainder of his administration already is well on its way toward enactment . . . The program, headed by a penny a gallon increase in the state gasoline levy, is scheduled to reach the Senate floor next week . . . The tax study was made at the behest of Pennsylvania industry which complained it was being taxed more heavily in this state than in others . . . Industry indicated that the tax structure also was detrimental to expansion and development of business in the commonwealth . . . The tax study committee's report has been mentioned as one reason for the falling-out between Duff and ex-Commerce Secretary Orus J. Matthews . . . Matthews headed the committee prior to his resignation January 1.

The Pennsylvania Turnpike commission's huge $30,000 display of the existing and proposed sections of the commonwealth's "superhighway" has been returned to the capitol rotunda for the information of legislators . . . Since last displayed at the capitol, the oversize relief map—showing more than two-thirds of the state—has been revised to include the turnpike's western extension to the Ohio borderline near Youngstown . . . Descriptive panels attached to the display list the toll road's history and future development . . . One panel bearing a statement by the governor describes the road as "the world's greatest and most famous superhighway."

The Keystone Bottlers' association, which leads the fight against re-enactment of the existing soft drinks tax, has mailed letters of thanks to the 18 Republican who voted against the measure in the house . . . The letter, signed by Clarence G. Stoner, president, points out that "if the boys and girls of our commonwealth and the hundreds of thousands of adult consumers were organized and vocal, I am sure you would have an expression of thanks from them, too" . . . Similar letters were sent to Democratic members of the House who opposed the bill . . .

So far legislation has not been introduced to extend civil service in state government . . . In past years, the civil service lobby toiled mightily to expand . . . The only legislation this session is a bill to clarify the status of employes in the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation and another to extend civil service to the city of Scranton.

Pope Innocent III was elected by the cardinals after the death of Celestine III, in 1198. At the time Innocent was not a priest.

'Passable'

EXPLAINING that "my equipment's passable," blond movie actress Marilyn Maxwell is starting a 10,000-mile tour of one-night personal appearances which she says she will use in her search for a husband. Her plaint about Hollywood men is that all are married, party boys or confirmed bachelors. (International)

SMOOTH HANDS

When winter comes, hands begin to get rough sometimes. Chapped hands are not very comfortable.

Dry hands do not seem to chap so easily as wet ones do.

It is aprettty good idea to be sure that the hands are dry before going out in the cold air.

A drop of glycerine rubbed into each hand seems to help to keep the chaps amay.

Some of the girls do not want to keep the chaps away. That is a good thing for the chaps.

New Wilmington Contributions Are Announced: Other News Of College Town

(Special to The News)

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 25—They're putting the finger on June Haver.

The dire deed is not being perpetrated by a gangster. And the diminutive blonde doll certainly is not in the bad graces of studio bigwigs.

June merely is the willing victim of finger-putter Marion McKinstry, a violinist who is trying to teach June the fine art of bowing and fingering a fiddle for "Oh, You Beautiful Doll."

You might be surprised to learn that June once was a child musical prodigy. For three years handrunning she knocked off annual musical contests in the city of Cincinnati, Ohio, and she was the youngest competitor in the classics.

At the ripe old age of seven she even played the Haydn "Surprise Symphony" under Eugene Goossens' Baton with the Cincinnati symphony orchestra.

Learning To Fiddle

But pounding a piano keyboard and flicking a fiddle bow are two different and distinct things.

So for her current role in the 20th Century-Fox technicolor epic, June works out daily with Miss McKinistry so she can get credibly through three Fred Fisher numbers—"I Want You To Want Me," "Come, Josephine, In My Flying Machine" and "Daddy, Dear Old Daddy."

And each night June works out two more hours with her violin. But she admits that Jascha Heifetz hasn't a thing to worry about.

Miss McKinstry, one of Hollywood's most noted violin instructors, insists that June is an amazingly apt pupil.

Has Amazing Talent

The pretty, 28-year-old violin teacher claims her 21-year-old pupil has missed her calling. She wistfully wished June weren't a movie star so she could really concentrate on an eight-hour-a-day violin practice schedule and prepare for a concert debut.

"June has amazing talent," she said. "When I was given the chore of teaching her to play three numbers and heard she'd never had a violin in her hand before, I thought they were crazy. Even when they explained how well she played piano.

"But she astonished me. She has the bouncing bow of the Spiccato movement of 'I Want You To Want Me' perfectly. The strumming of 'Daddy, Dear Old Daddy,' was easy for her. The only difficulty June has had is with the fast and furious fingering of 'Come, Josephine, In My Flying Machine.'

Has Perfect Pitch

"With a few more weeks practice June will work up the necessary fingertip callouses and strength for that, too. She's naturally musical, has perfect pitch, and is so conscientious I'm sure she could attain concert stature in half the time most pupils do."

And all the "Oh, You Beautiful Doll" star has to say was:

"Jack Benny's scratching of 'Love In Bloom' sounds like a masterpiece compared to my cat-gut efforts!"

Runaway Freight Car Crashes Home

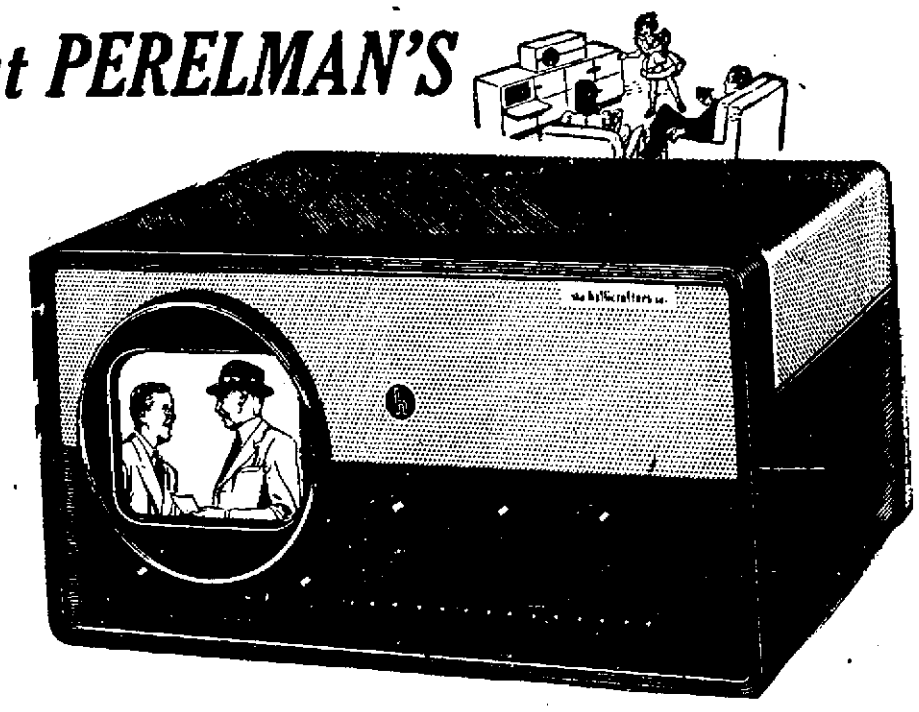

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25.—(INS)—It wasn't an auto, truck or bus that came crashing into a Northside Pittsburgh home—but a railroad freight car.

The car went out of control on the Williams Lumber Co. incline Thursday and crashed into the home of A. R. Chestnut 25 feet from the track.

Two persons in the house at the time were uninjured.

Police reported the kitchen, including a sink, stove, refrigerator, dishes and other furniture was demolished. The foundation of the house, which was shoved up against another house, was cracked.

Appearance Contest Is On At West Side

School Children Being Checked For Clean Hands, Face, Teeth, Combed Hair, Etc.

Boys and girls who attend the West Side grade school are arising just a few minutes earlier these fine spring like mornings in order that they might have more time to make themselves a little neater. The reason for the extra effort is due to an appearance contest being conducted in the school with the first three grades competing against the last three.

Daily, Principal Glean McCracken checks the individual classes of the West Side building to learn which class is the neatest. Among the items checked are: Clean hands, clean face, clean teeth, well combed hair, shined shoes and clothing appearance. The contest started on Tuesday and will continue for two weeks.

The boys club of the school, directed by Robert M. Cowher, heard an interesting talk this afternoon by Victor Wagner, local blind entertainer who told the young men about his seeing eye dog which leads him about the city. The club meets after school hours. The group consists of 45 members who meet at the school and once a week at the Y. M. C. A. The officers of the club include: President, Eddie Smolnick; vice president, James Campbell; secretary, Robert Hites; treasurer, Robert Richel; program chairman, Frank Johnson. Recently a boxing match was sponsored to buy athletic equipment for the boys.

Plans are underway for an Easter program to be conducted in the school prior to the dismissal for the vacation period. An excellent Valentine program was conducted in the school on February 11.

Washington Day Dinner Is Held

Legion Of Honor Commemorates Event By Honoring Consistory Officers

Honoring the officers of the coordinate bodies of the Valley of New Castle Consistory AASR, the Legion of Honor had its annual Washington's birthday dinner in the Cathedral Thursday evening.

Commander Arthur H. Lewis presented C. C. Sweesy, general chairman of the event, who in turn introduced Register and Recorder Orville Potter, the toastmaster of the evening.

Commander Lewis introduced the officers of the Legion of Honor and Toastmaster Potter introduced the officers of the coordinate bodies. John H. Templeton, first lieutenant commander, responded in the absence of Commander in Chief Merle Raisley, who was unable to be present for the occasion. Past Commanders in Chief Ill. John E. White, John E. Elliott and Welty O. Rugh were special guests.

Rev. James A. Galser, pastor of the First Methodist church, was the principal speaker, speaking on the status of the nation which George Washington helped to found, and of the many problems that confront all real Americans who are endeavoring to perpetuate the high ideals that General Washington stood for.

In Connecticut it is against the law to sell pickles unless they bounce.

SAVED HER FROM DROWNING

"TOMMY BOY" is a hero to the Fillmore family of Chicago, especially to Beth Ellen, 2, who admires him for saving her from drowning. The Boston terrier's barking attracted his mistress, Miss Leona Bisnick, to Beth's 5-year-old twin brothers, David and Michael, who were crying outside her home. With aid of another couple Miss Bisnick lowered herself down a 15-foot snow-covered incline where she got Beth out of danger from Chicago river. (International Soundphoto)

HOMEMAKERS CAN VARY BASIC FOODS

The reputation of a good cook is not built so much on fancy dishes as in her light fluffy biscuits, tender cakes, smooth sauces, and other basic foods. Day-by-day cooking for a family require skillful use of leftovers and plentiful foods to keep within the budget. However, from several basic recipes, hundreds of tasty food variations can be worked out.

A wise cook learns to make good sauce, biscuits, muffins, plain cake, French dressing, and other foundation recipes. Only then, can she use her imagination to develop variations from which she has on hand.

A basic white sauce is good for dozens of recipes. A bit of leftover cheese added to the sauce will dressup the dinner vegetable. To perk up leftover vegtables scallop them with cheese and top with bread crumbs. Chopped hard-cooked eggs and lemon juice combined with white sauce make an excellent toping for fish. Use mushrooms, onion, parsley, and pimento for other variations.

Baking powder biscuits also may be varied by the addition of grated cheese, chopped nuts, orange rind, Roquefort cheese, or chives.

Tiny biscuit cinnamon rolls are a special treat. A meat roll made of chopped leftover meat and biscuits can be rolled up like a jelly roll. Served with a good sauce this is a change from ordinary hash.

Give variety to muffins by adding crumbled bacon, dried fruits, or berries. Leftover cooked vegetables may be marinated in a well-seasoned, homeade French dressing and served as salad.

Simply "warming up" leftover may result in drab meals. Using leftovers in an interesting way will make each meal a pleasure to the family and an achievement for the cook.

GOOD CULTURAL METHODS KEY TO HIGH CORN YIELD

Good cultural methods, more than than any other factor, produced the top yields in the 1948 five-acre corn contests sponsored by the Pennsylvania Crop Improvement Association with the cooperation of the Agricultural Extension analysts of the records.

The biggest crop—174.5 bushels of dry shelled corn grown in Lower Chester county—was produced on old alfalfa sod top-dressed nearly every winter with manure and re-inforced with 500 pounds of superphosphate.

In addition, the farmer plowed down 800 pound of 0-12-12 and put on 8 loads of re-inforced manure, per acre, for the corn. Because of a poor first stand, the field was replanted June 15 with medium-early hybrid. The fall was late and the corn was dry enough to crib when husked November 1.

The corn was dropped 10 inches apart in 36-inch rows, but the final stand had a 13-inch spacing for 13,900 stalks per acre. Ears averaged 85 pound. Theoretically, the stand was not thick enough for the fertility of the field and the abundant moisture of 1948 since half-pound ears are the desired goal for maximum production.

Of the nine men who grew over 120 bushels per acre, six had clover or alfalfa sod to plow and one broke an old pasture sod. Seven applied manure, in four cases re-inforced with phosphate. Four plowed down fertilizer, but only two of these turned under enough nitrogen to be of much benefit. All used fertilizer in the planter. The average stalk count was 14,700 per acre and the average dry ear weight, .65 pound.

STRONG FAMILIES MAKE STRONGEST COMMUNITIES

It may be only a game of "hearts" around the dining room table,or in summertime a picnic supper in the back yard, but if it brings the family together for an hour or two of relaxation and fun a double purpose will have been served. Such pastimes help to keep the family a close-knit unit and—equally important—that strong families are the foremost essential for strong communities.

An increasing number of activities outside the home for all age groups, plus good roads and the automobile, tend to split up the family into individual units. The result is that home becomes less and less the center of things and more and more a place for "rest and refueling" before starting out again.

Remember that children in the home are human beings and are not playthings to be picked up and discarded on mere whim, but are human beings and are in the most important stage of their life development.

EAT GREEN, YELLOW VEGETABLES TO BUILD BODY RESISTANCE

Important green and yellow vegetables are one of the food groups neglected in the meals of many American families today. These vegetables, supplying generous amounts of vitamin A which builds resistance to colds and other infections, are needed for health and well-being. A person getting a good daily supply of vitamin A is better able to resist illness than one who does not.

There is a variety of green and yellow vegetables from which to choose. They include green cabbage, broccoli, carrots, kale, leaf lettuce, green asparagus, snap beans, green lima beans, collards, peas, green peppers, pumpkin, spinach, yellow squash and sweet potatoes. Homemakers are urged to consider this group when planning a garden.

There are many ways to serve these healthful foods. Tossed green salads, fit into any meal. Cooked green or yellow vegetables add color and flavor to brighten a meal.

Of course, food is not like medicine—it does not cure. It takes time to build good health with proper food, but the habit of serving green and yellow vegetables daily will benefit a family in the long run.

PLAN INTERESTS FOR CONVALESCENT CHILDREN

Keeping the convalescent child in bed and happy at the same time is often quite a problem for homemakers, but there are several solutions to the problem.

The child needs to be kept warm and quiet, and should also be supplied with simple playthings to keep him happy. A youngster, if propped up in bed, should have a warm sweater to cover his arms, shoulders, and chest because chilling often occurs when the child begins to move around.

Parents are urged to consider the child's age and interests when choosing his playthings. Puzzles are fascinating to a child of any age, provided they are geared to his development. A very simple puzzle would not have more than three or four cut-out places with one piece to fit into each recess.

Puzzles can be made at home with a jigsaw or even a coping saw. Suitable designs to use in making a puzzle include a ball, boat, car, house, cup, airplane, dog cat, or any other familiar shape. The most enjoyable puzzles have shapes which mean something to the child. When a small child becomes quick at working a puzzle, cut the inserts into smaller pieces. Simple jigsaw puzzles will keep the older child occupied for some time.

Paper, crayons, and encouragement to draw anything he remembers will help an ill child pass many happy hours. If he is older, he may enjoy having a still life arrangement set up for him to draw. Other amusements are musical instruments, toys, or real ones, and books of all kinds and sizes.

When the child is almost completely well he may be bundled in a blanket and placed in a comfortable chair close to where his mother is working. This change of atmosphere will keep him contented and happy.

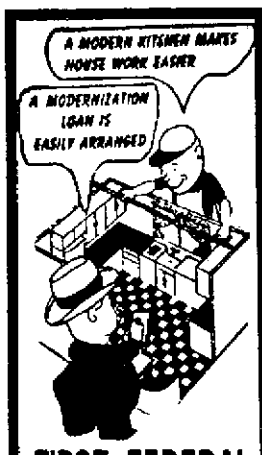

Color blindness is about 20 times more common in men than women.

BREACH OF PRINCIPLE

It has not been revealed whether something more than usual was bothering Senator Claude Pepper, Florida's gift to the United States Senate, when Ira Mosher, former president of the National Association of Manufacturers, was testifying before the Senate Labor Committee. Nor has he explained his outrageous statement that "it was the poor people whose sons went to the battlefield, and a lot of manufacturers' sons who stayed home and got rich.'

Mr. Mosher, it happens, lost three members of his family during the war. Later, the Senator tried to ease the situation by stating that he had only made a generalization. This, of course, only served to compound his indiscretion.

By coincidence, on the same day, a naval officer, Capt. Ross A. Dierdoff, was relieved of duty and reprimanded officially for making a derogatory remark about Senator Harley M. Kilgore of West Virginia. According to news accounts, the Senator had made a slurring remark about the Captain's superior officer, and the Captain's rejoiner was that Senator Kilgore was a "politician not fit for the Admiral to wipe his shoes on." To anyone knowing service traditions, it is obvious that the Captain dug his own grave as far as his Navy future was concerned.

The obvious generalization here is that Senators can and do indulge in shocking lapses of propriety, and get away with it. That is not the spirit of congressional immunity, but that is what it has come to mean. The naval officer needs no defense, nor does Mr. Mosher.

But it does seem that the two Senators have left themselves open to charge of an unforgivable breach of principle. It's something that should be viewed with resentment and dismay.

SIAMESE KITE

Georgraphical outline of Siam, with its hulking upper section, and its long trailing tail that slants down toward the Indies, makes it look for all the world like a kite. Now the winds of politics and ideologies are making it act like one.

It is the only free country, outside of Burma, in the southeast Asia but it has the misfortune to be bounded on the south and east by European colonial possessions. Communists for years have been making political hay in these countries by urging the natives to revolt against their "exploiters." Since the victory of the red general, Mao Tse-Tung, in the north, the red star in Burma, Malaya and French Indo-China has been on the ascendant. It is Siam's hard luck to be in the middle.

Siam's Premier Songgram has now declared a state of emergency and closed the border between his country and Malaya because of communist pressure. Indications are that he has as much to worry about within the country as without. Of the estimated 2,000,000 Chinese in Siam, half are said to be communist sympathizers. Bangkok, the capital, has long been considered by the British to be the point from which the communist drive in southeast Asia has been directed.

They consider it significant that the only Russian legation in the whole area bounded on the north by China, and on the west by India, is at Bangkok.

Meanwhile, Premier Songgram and 20-year-old King Phumiphon watch nervously while the winds increase in intensity. The storm may come from the east, where the Indo-Chinese rebel leader, Ho Chi Minh, is reported to have joined forces wtih Generalissimo Mao—or from Malaya, or from Burma. The kite rides uneasily. At any time it may fall.

UNDIGNIFIED, UNWORTHY

Says the Philadelphia Inquirer:

The startling language employed by President Truman to indicate his feelings toward a radio commentator may have been a slip of the tongue, but it represents a grave lack of judgment and a resentment of criticism definitely not in keeping with high public office.

Some people will sympathize with the President's impatience toward critics who tell him how to run his office, whom to fire and whom to keep among his top associates. But being President entails exposure to criticism and any President can benefit on occasion if his reaction to criticism, whatever its source, is not warped by emotion.

As for the barracks-room language Mr. Truman used, it was shockingly undignified and unworthy of the Presidency. Addressed to a relatively small gathering, it was nevertheless certain to be disseminated to the country, and to the world. Mr. Truman appeared to forget that he is President, that this casual vulgarity would give offense to millions of American citizens and arouse puzzlement among foreign peoples unacquainted with the coarser phases of the American idiom.

It is possible that by now Mr. Truman regrets his error. For his own good and the Nation's, he should remember that the critics are sometimes right, and, right or wrong, he should not allow them to make the President of the United States forget himself and the dignity of his office.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

For the first time since its tragic eclipse in the second world war, the French fleet emerges as a vast potential in world peace and security today.

In a move that may presage a new era in shipbuilding and reconstruction, France put forward the virtues and values of her most important strategic areas in Algeria as integral segments of the western defense area that should be written into the North Atlantic pact.

They are the North African cities of Algiers, Oran and Constantine, all bases of vast importance in the last war and still of great tactical value in the construction of a closely-knit fabric of western protection against aggression.

Algiers and Oran are fine ports and Constantine, a magnificent ancient city situated on a high plateau, is ringed around with airfields.

Defense Bases

Defense bases such as these, along with Toulon, Marseille and Casablanca lost much of their importance when so much of the French fleet was scuttled in 1942 to keep it from falling into German hands and other important units destroyed or damaged by Allied fire.

Recurrent financial crises have prevented the French government from carrying out the rebuilding and new construction that has been planned.

But the blueprints are there, not only to complete work on the damaged battleships Richelieu and Jean Bart but to build new component parts of a highly mobile fleet which would diminish Britain's heavy duties in the Mediterranean in event of emergency.

Many military observers see a lamentable short-sightedness in allowing the French fleet to lie fallow in any degree particularly as so many of its units are comparatively modern and were subjected to little or no battle use before being put out of action.

She has a fine aircraft carrier, the Arromanches, formerly the British Colossus, and another 18-000 tonner on the ways when funds are available for building. She has many smaller escort carriers and auxiliaries.

Many Destroyers

Perhaps most important and in view of the difficult lessons of convoy learned the hard way during the war, France possesses many destroyers, frigates and sloops which are invaluable.

There is reason to believe that the sudden bid for North African participation in the Atlantic pact definitely is a prelude to a request for United States financial assistance in fleet refurbishment.

On traditional grounds, Great Britain opposes Algerian memberships on the grounds this means extension of the pact to "colonial" areas.

This is disputed by the French, who point out that Algeria was embraced in what is known as "Metropolitan France" in 1863. It sends representatives to the chamber of deputies and the national assembly who in turn bow to the will of both houses and transmit majority decisions to their officials at home.

British Objection

Britain's objection to the French plan stems from a quite understandable British feeling that the Mediterranean is a British obligation pure and simple.

Certainly the defense of Gibralter, Malta, Alexandria and Suez was a job heroically undertaken alone by the Royal Navy and Air Force and Britain has no desire to be obligated to any other nation in this sphere.

Yet a certain degree of national sovereignty already has been abandoned in the Western European Union, whose defense committee has a French admiral in top place on the board of naval strategy.

Many thousands of tons of good French bottoms stand by for Allied use along with top-flight officers and crews whose courage and fighting skill never have been questioned. The question of putting American money to work in restoration of this important arm of Democratic defense on the high seas may very soon arise.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TEACHING FARM CHILD SEX FACTS

On the farm where there are animals that produce young, the "facts of life" may be revealed normally and naturally.

Years ago it was not considered polite to say bull, ram, boar or stallion. Today these names are used freely on the air and in farm literature. It would be funny today to hear anyone say male animal for bull.

Simple Principles

Through the 4-H clubs, girls as well as boys from ten or twelve upwards raise calves, pigs, lambs and other animals. They study the simple principles of inheritance, know all about the mating and birth processes of animals and may normally witness such.

In a very matter-of-fact way they learn that for different animals the gestation period (time for growing in the mother animal's body) is different in length—pig, 120 days, sheep, 150; goat, 151, cow,283; horse, 346.

Any farm child who may see animals of the field and wood will discover that the gestation period of some of them is surprisingly short—opossum, 11 days; mouse and rat, 22; rabbit, 30; cat and dog, 63. He may be interested also to learn that the baby of the seal, camel and elephant grows in its mother's body 365, 395 and 600 days, respectively. To the child knowing some such facts,knowledge that the gestation period of the human baby is 280 days will be interesting but wholesome information.

High Moral Value

Many children, even very young ones, not on the farm, who have pets which bring forth young, know when the pet mother is pregnant. This knowledge can be of high moral value, giving the child a good reason to be very kind and tender to the expectant mother pet.

Most children soon observe that animals differ in the number of babies born at the same time. The farm boy or girl may absorb this information earlier. The usual number of young at a time for familiar animals are: opossum, 18; mouse and rat, 10; rabbit, 6 to 8; cat, 2 to 6; dog, 4 to 6; pig, 10 sheep, 1 to 2, cow, 1; horse, 1; seal, 1; elephant,1.

A child soon observes that human beings are born one at a time, though there sometimes are twins, even larger groups.

Newborn Animals

Any farm child may observe that the infants of farm animals walk and find their food practically at once after birth. The boy or girl may, on going to the pasture field, find a new calf and this calf may walk to the barn with its mother.

Now the human infant couldn't walk so far or fast for several years. He may not even walk at all till a year or more of age.

Wise parents help the child observe that the brute father takes no responsibility fr the babies and children or for the mother's comfort or well-being; that we humans can think and plan and aspire toward purposes and ideals; that we live on a very much higher plane; that, therefore, we need to discipline ourselves and show great regard for every other person, especially by the boy toward the girl, the man toward the woman; that as human beings we have worked out certain rules for bringing forth young, therefore, for mating; that these rules require marriage; that when two persons marry they pledge to each other and in public to be each other's mate only and to love and honor each other as persons. Thus they lift themselves to a much higher level. Such desirable attitudes can best develop, of course, in a family atmosphere of understanding, companionship and family love. In my bulletin, "Undesirable Sex Practices in Children," appears a list of books meant to be helpful to parents, to be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

If I were rich most of my charity would go to the aged poor.

Before I forget it, do you know the dictionary meaning of the word "charity"?

From the way I have seen it solicited, given and distributed, one would think that "charity" had something to do with condescension, annoyance, crumbs.

One would think that a charity gift is something like the leftovers from the dinner table that go into the garbage can.

"Charity" is derived from the Latin word "caritas," which means "dearness, love," and the person upon whom charity is bestowed is "carus," meaning "dear, loved."

There is nothing in my dictionary which says that the word "charity" has anything to do with tax reductions or that it is, in the lingo of Colonel Stoopnagle, something which if you don't do it marks you as a miser in your community.

Now I'll tell you why I would give most of my charity money to the aged poor if I were rich.

I spent many years of my life in New York City. Nowhere else have I seen so many lonely old people as in that city of millions.

I have seen them slinking along busy streets, jabbering to themselves.

I have watched them look into shop windows where costly furs and precious jewels were displayed, and I wish you could see the hopeless expression in their faded eyes.

Next to one of those jewelry shops on upper Broadway, there is the branch store of a chain bakery. In that branch store they sell nothing but stale bread and cakes and cookies that are too old for the regular trade.

That store is a haven for the aged poor of the district, the old folks who can't afford fresh bread, fresh cookies, fresh cakes any longer—and some day may not even be able to buy the stuff that you and I would scorn.

I am all for doing a lot for the youngsters.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

(By International News Service)

Mr. Truman's $100-a-plate speech won't sizzle as long as his two dollar ad libs of Tuesday night.

The president still is getting reaction to those words spoken in anger . . . yet with a sob in them for Drew Pearson.

But it seems so odd . . . President Auriol so grateful for Pearson's "Friendship Train" and Truman so critical of his "merry go round."

In fact Harry has set out to prove that 50 million Frenchmen can be wrong about Pearson.

But I liked the way he absolved columnists and commentators and is taking the rap for his own appointments.

Anyway I think it was nice of Dewey to wire Pearson "Welcome Brother."

But it was only right he should . . . Pearson elected him in October.

From Me To You

SPRING HOUSE CLEANING

Do you hold a grudge against anyone?
If you do how about a good cleaning?
If it's on your mind and you want to atone
Toss it away with the rubbish this Spring.

Stored away in the attic of your mind
May be some forgotten poison dust,
So if you would have a mind clean and kind
Toss it out with the rubbish in disgust.

Now worries that nag and add confusion
Should have a bit of cleaning from within,
And a great heave-ho to the air and sun.
And a fling with the rubbish as a sin

Then if you're in a rut and can't get out,
Call on your friend the conscience-cleaner.
And house clean complete within and without
And arrange again with things that wear.

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Fearful Of Spoils Politics

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Nothing succeeds like success. The Democratic National committee has rarely, if ever, seen such a clamor for tickets to a Jackson Day dinner as this year when the Democratic treasury will be enriched by perhaps $300,000 here in Washington alone.

In the fine flush of victory certain things are happening that worry more thoughtful Democrats assembled for the Jackson Day rally. They are fearful of an alliance between old-fashioned spoils politics and the lobby-lawyer, fix-it industry in the capital.

Chairman Howard McGrath of the Democratic committee has moved out of his spacious office at headquarters and turned it over to the new executive vice chairman, William M. Boyle Jr. Besides his job as senator, McGrath has extensive business interests in Rhode Island and the objective is to turn the actual work of the committee over to Boyle.

This includes the all-important function of dispensing patronage. It could well be a full-time job.

Tremendous Advantage

But Boyle will continue to run his own law office in Washington and that is one reason for the concern. Anyone with the power officially to allocate Democratic patronage would have a tremendous advantage in walking into a government department as a lawyer to do a service for a client.

A dinner was given in Boyle's honor the other evening. Most of the members of the cabinet were present, including Attorney General Tom C. Clark and several of his top assistants.

Present also were Boyle's associates in his law firm. One of them is Daniel J. Hanlon of Boston. Hanlon, who was close to Mayor James J. Curley, was an attorney in the Bureau of Internal Revenue from 1933 to 1938.

It was a pleasant get-together with none of the solemn speeches that blight so many Washington dinners. And if any important official present had any doubt about the identity of Boyle and his law partners, they were there on display.

Boyle, who worked hard for the President in the fall campaign, came up through the Pendergast school of political organization. During part of President Truman's service as a senator, he was his assistant and later he worked for Robert E. Hannegan when Hannegan became Democratic national chairman.

Come Up Hard Way

Most of us are too likely to scoff at the professional politician while we neglect our own political responsibilities. That is not the point here. Professionals who have come up the hard way are essential in any effective political organization.

The point is that Boyle does not receive a salary from the national committee, his income deriving from his law practice in Washington where a good word spoken to a friend is often more precious than pearls and rubies. Boyle says he is careful to avoid what is called around here the "influence busi-

They Say

SAN FRANCISCO.—Dr. Homer P. Rainey, president of Stephens college, Columbia, Mo.—"Some people warn us that we'll lose the fight against Soviet ideas unless we employ Soviet methods of repression. This is equivalent to telling us that democracy can save itself from being murdered only by committing suicide."

NEW YORK.—Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of the Methodist church—"What is needed is the honest proclamation and practice of religious liberty upon the part of all churches. Religious liberty means freedom for Roman Catholics in Hungary and also freedom for Protestants in Spain, in Columbia and the Argentine."

LAKE SUCCESS—Aubrey S. Eban, Israeli representative to the United Nations—"It is clear from this experience (Holy Land armistice) that the organs of the United Nations can make their most effective contribution by the use of their good offices to the parties in direct negotiations with the sole objective of securing their full agreement."

LAKE SUCCESS.—Christopher P. Mayhew, British undersecretary of state "The purpose of Marshall aid is to set us (England) free from dependence on America. We have not the slightest intention of modifying our economic, our social or our political plan in order to qualify for aid."

JOBS UPON A TIME

JIMMY CONZELMAN, who recently resigned as head coach of the Chicago Cardinals professional football team to go into the advertising field, was born in St. Louis, an Irish kid with a German name. His father's name was O'Connor. After he died Jim's mother married a man named Conzelman. Jimmy, liking his stepfather, took his name. Conzelman started his career as a newsboy, then was a banjo-player. After he graduated from Washington university, where he played the ukulele, he rounded up his own orchestra and was doing well until along came World War I. He enlisted in the navy, was middleweight boxing champion at Great Lakes training naval school, and also played football. Conzelman later tried being a poet and an actor, and then went back to Washington as football coach. He was pro coach of the year in 1947.

Advance estimates by the United States Bureau of Mines indicate that 100,000,000 gross tons of iron ore will have been mined during 1948—a peacetime record.

Disintegration Forebodings

By PAUL GALLICO

Were you also fascinated by the recent news out of Jacksonville, Florida, that all of a sudden one day in the downtown section all the nylon stockings disintegrated on the legs of the ladies wearing them?

This, of course, is the ultimate vengeance of the silkworm, that miracle of nature who practically has been put out of business by the brilliance and ingenuity of Man; qualities, I must confess, which are beginning to weary me a little. I could bear it if we weren't just so doggone smart.

I accept this emotion as a sign of age and know that my sympathies with the lowly worm will awaken no echo in feminine bosoms. For nylon has brought fine leg casings within the reach of all.

I Am Forced To Wonder

But when I think of the silkworm, working its little heart out year after year, spinning its gossamer thread to make the beautiful, shimmery stuff, loved and valued down through the ages as silk, and then along comes smart-aleck Man, who mixes up a couple of chemicals in a test-tube, and zingo, he's got something just as good, or even better, I am forced to wonder.

This is old-man thinking, longing for the good old days when things were reasonably simple, when the air was not filled with flying machines, when the insistent voice of the telephone was not heard and all the vast complications of modern life were as yet undreamed of. I wouldn't really like it if I had it, that is to say if the clock were turned back to another century, but it pleases me to think I would. And when occasionally, man's super-brashness is turned back upon himself, as in the Jacksonville phenomenon, it gives me a chuckle.

The implications of l'affaire Jacksonville are, of course, myriad and all equally delightful. For nylon thread naturally is not confined to stockings alone. It is used in the manufacture of girdles, brassieres, underwear, and I assume, eventually, if not already, there will be nylon frocks on the market.

The contemplation of a world in which any time there is a happy combination of the fumes of sulphuric and hydrochloric acid gases and the wind in the right direction, the denizens of any given district may suddenly find themselves in the altogether is definitely inspiring.

Unilaterally Embarrassing

I would not wish to see our lady-folk thus unilaterally embarrassed, but it is only a question of time before we also run the sheep and the lamb out of business, dispense with the cotton plant and make men's clothing also out of coal, air, or silicates, compounded in the laboratory and all happily subject to attacks by vapors that will bring about sudden and dramatic changes in the chemical formulas with results similar to Jacksonville.

It seems to me that large areas of humans suddenly stripped of the airs and pretensions that are donned with clothes, might be salutory for the human race. Remove the uniform from the General, and he is a naked; hairless frog like the rest of us. Disintegrate the trappings of the stuffed shirt business men, playboys and men about town and they would look just as silly as the day they were born. Sillier. Evaporate the casings of the too, too dignified dowager, the puffed up debutante and the prideful matron, and what have you got? It takes real dignity to be able to walk around without any clothes on and we would soon find out who is who in our community.

Seems To Be Clear Warning

Jacksonville, and other communities where it now develops the same calamity has struck, seems to me to be a clear warning which I hope we will continue to ignore as I am all in favor of the larger disaster which I have sketched.

It would teach us for one thing to look after the state of our bodies and take a little pride in the shape of our figures and the state of our muscles. Clothes cover a multitude of horrors, the sagging paunch, the mottled unhealthy skin, the bulging hips, the flabby biceps. If we all could come to realize that through the blessings of modern science we might at any time stand revealed for what we are beneath the wrappings, the health of the nation might rise beyond all expectations.

State Police Say:

The rules for safe driving under adverse weather and road conditions are simple: adjust speeds to prevailing conditions, slow down well in advance of curves and intersections, follow other vehicles at safe distances (we suggest one car length for every ten miles of speed), apply brakes lightly and intermittently and signal intentions of stopping and turning. Just Folks

TALK WITH A YOUNGSTER

You do not like your teachers and the school room you abhor?
You refuse to learn your lessons?
Well that's happened oft
before.
This world is full of failures who had fancied, in their turn,
It was just to please the teachers
they were sent to school to learn.

You ask them and they'll tell you,
as they loiter on the street,
Once they thought the trick was clever if a teacher they could cheat,
But they all discovver later, at some common dreary post,
By the cunning which they practiced 'twas themselves
they'd cheated most.

So the teacher doesn't like you?
Well, I'll tell you nor would I
If I did my best to help you, and you wouldn't even try.
If you scorned my every effort
and my teaching seemed to spurn,
I should better like the pupils who showed willingness to learn

Hints On Etiquette

If you are a house guest, at a college fraternity house or in a private home, don't show disappointment at anything, or, worst of all, compare the house party with others at which you have been a guest. The popular house guest is delighted with everything and does her or his part to make the party a success.

The World and the Mud Puddles

ON THE SIDE

An intelligent looking, but somewhat seedy, individual haltingly crept into the editorial sanctum of a metropolitan newspaper one day last week. He looked as though he had been wrung through a wringer.

"Maybe I should have gone to my doctor, or maybe to the county court," he said, "but I thought maybe you could tell me if I am going crazy."

Some of the reporters surrounded him and asked him to unfold.

"Well, he said, "I dreamed two nights in a row that taxes were going down—local taxes, state taxes, federal taxes. I woke up feeling so good that I got suspicious. Then I read the papers . . . What kind of meals and rooms do you get at these institutions, anyhow?"

President Truman initiated a sensible practice at one of the inaugural receptions when he bypassed the customary handshaking with the multitude, limiting that courtesy to a "token" shake with Vice President Barkley on behalf of all the guests. Candidates running for office, or successful candidates, appreciate the physical punishment suffered due to the American enthusiasm for exchanging handshakes.

Mr. Truman has set a precedent which should save candidates, particularly the winner, a lot of grief.

A real diplomat, we are told, is a husband who can buy his wife a satisfactory Christmas gift at a price he can afford to pay.

It might be a great deal better world if people kept on believing in Santa Claus after they were six years old.

BIBLE THOUGHT

Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full.—John 16:24.

Titans Ready For Struggle With Pitt Five At Farrell

The Farrell High school gym will be the scene of the outstanding collegiate cage game in the tri-state area Saturday night when Westminster meets Pitt. The contest is technically a home game for the Titans but this will be the fourth time the game has been played on the spacious Farrell court.

Indications are that 1,000 of Westminster's 1200 students will make the 14 mile trip to Farrell. The game has become a highlight for the Titans. A special fleet of buses will convey the students.

Planning Strategy

Coach Grover C. Washabaugh is bearing down on his team to get ready for Pitt. He has not divulged what strategy he will use in an effort to stop Pitt's famed figure eight offense. The Titans simply jammed up the arena around the foul line in the first game at Pitt, February 12. The strategy paid off until the last five minutes when the Pittites reverted to a fast break. They overcame a five point deficit to win by a nine point margin.

The contest is certain to be splashed with color. It was in the Westminster tilt at Pittsburgh that Carlson had Bimbo Cecconi climb on the shoulders of a big center to work a pivot play. There is always a possibility that Pitt will sit in back court if the Titans clog up the foul line area which leave the figure eight with no place to unwind. Three times the Skyscraper boys threatened this in the first meeting.

Undecided On Lineup

Washabaugh has not definitely decided what lineup he will start but it seems certain that Dick Fuhrer, 6-ft. 1-in. husky from East Brady will start at forward. Fuhrer looked good against Pitt in the first game and this won him a starting berth in the last three tilts.

A development in the Thiel game Tuesday night may have crystallized Coach Grover C. Washabaugh's contemplated plan of adopting the two-platoon system which W.J. is using successfully.

New Team Clicks

After removing his regulars in the third quarter, Washabaugh had a team on the floor which was composed of Ed. Halas, center; Clyde Shaffer and Johnny Abraham, forwards, and Pat King and Harry Abraham, guards. This quintet rolled up 27 points against Thiel and worked smoothly together. Halas and King, both 6-ft. 3-in., supplied the necessary height and the others furnished the speed.

If the Titans continue their habit of acquiring personals early in the ball game, it would not be surprising if Washabaugh gives the above named quintet a chance to show against a really tough opponent. Four of the above named boys are freshmen while Shaffer is a junior.

Mehalic and Jacobs will officiate.

He's Still Hoping

MICKEY OWEN, former major league catcher who was suspended with several others when he jumped to the Mexican league two years ago, works out with the bar bells in a Springfield, Mo., gym, hoping to get back in baseball soon. Owen told newsmen he "hopes Gardella loses his suit against baseball." (International)

PULASKIS TRIM EPWORTH 89-55

Led by young Frank Presnar, former Union High star, the K. Pulaskis banged the Epworth team of the church league for an 89-55 defeat at the K. P. hall last night. Presnar in his first game with the Pulaskis since ending his high school career scored 18 points.

Joey Danish with 16, Ryczaz with 15 and Louie Plonka with 14 were winners. Morgan, Wainio and Stokes led the Epworths. The Pulaskis led at the half 34 to 32, and made a runaway of the game in the final two periods.

Sunday the Pulaskis will play a strong team as yet not announced, according to Al Gonet, newly elected president of the Pulaski Sports club.

It will no doubt be a crackerjack ball game Saturday and will pack the East Brook High gym to capacity.

DeJohn Battles Mead In Garden

The Morella Dairy Bar will take on the Pitt gridders at 8:15 o'clock. In the preliminary game the Shenango "Y" clashes with the Ecclesian club in what should be a great game.

Galaxy of Stars

Youth is Hope. Youth is Promise. Youth is Conquest.

But there is no hope, no promise, no conquest for the aged poor.

There is only despair, neglect, decay.

The forgotten poor are truly the vanquished, depending on the crumbs that fall from others' tables.

In John, XXI, 18, it is written:

"When thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not."

If I were rich, not an old man, not an old woman, within my means would be carried "whither thou wouldest not."

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Grandma's Common Sense

It isn't uncommon to hear someone say about a new book on bringing up children or a child-study group, "Why do we need such new-fangled ideas? After all, what's wrong with common sense like grandma used to have?"

To be sure, some people do acquire wisdom from life experience. My 88-year-old grandmother is one of them. But I know, as I am sure you do, many another person whose "common sense" is made up of a lot of misinformation and prejudice. Someone has said that much of the sound information we have regarding children and families is organized common sense. Of course, it's more than that, but there's a good deal in the idea.

In other words, not too many of us can count for sure on developing common sense through our own experience alone. If we are wise, we will make use of the experiences of friends and neighbors as well as our own that we have accumulated. It is most important, however, not to accept either new or old ideas uncritically. Neighbors, friends, and relatives may have some very queer notions about human behavior. But so do some of the "experts." The safest course is to check ideas and practices with our own experience and with those of parents in whom we have confidence.

Youth Rally At No. 2 Mine Church

Mercer County Local Youth Rally will convene at 7:45 o'clock this evening in the Drake Gospel Tabernacle at No. 2 Mine, near Leesburg. The program will be of a special nature in that it will be a missionary rally, with Rev. Glenn Harvey of Gabon, Africa, as speaker.

Y Father And Sons Banquet Tonight

Rev. Robt. H. Mayo To Make Principal Address During Program Of Evening

Dave Gatrall, Y. M. C. A. program director, today announced that plans are complete for the annual father and sons banquet at the "Y" tonight.

Arrangements have been made to serve more than 85 persons and a program line up that should be interesting for both the young and old.

The program includes a community sing led by Dave Gatrall, with Milton Wineberg at the piano. Harold Pears will ask the invocation and John Milton Thompson will introduce the toastmaster, John Boyle. Y. M. C. A. General Secretary R. L. Meermans is to give the speech of welcome. Tim Foster will make a toast to the fathers and Howard Foster will make the toast to the sons. The main speaker of the evening is Rev. Robert H. Mayo of the First U. P. church.

James Pears, assistant athletic director, will present several swimming awards that the boys have earned this year.

A recreation program in the boys' department lobby and a swim follow the speaking part of the program.

ness," taking only legitimate cases at law.

But, granted the noblest intentions and the highest ideals, this would seem to be a difficult position to maintain. The actual day-to-day direction of the national committee should be in the hands of a full-time expert who knows politics and the country. To get a good man who would give all his allegiance and capacity to the job, he should be paid a sufficient salary, certainly not less than $25,000.

The need for a well-paid executive, divorced as nearly as possible from outside temptations and pressures, applies particularly to the party in power. The Republicans on the outside looking in can worry along perhaps with Rep. Hugh Scott.

Collect Huge Fees

President Roosevelt had been in office less than a year when his attention was called to the fact that lawyer members of the Democratic National committee had moved in on Washington to collect huge fees for pulling favors out of government departments. He expressed strong opposition to this practice and there were some resignations from the committee.

No one would be naive enough to say that this put an end to the influence industry in Washington. The busy fixers found other channels. But it did end what had threatened to become a legalized alliance between the Democratic committee and the enormously profitable influence industry.

The Truman administration cannot afford anything even resembling that kind of alliance. A party that professes to represent the aspirations of the average man cannot afford to yield to the ordinary temptations of political power. To do so will be to reduce the victory of last November to the weight and significance of a bad hangover.

State Auditor General G. Harold Wagner has approved payments of $2,070,237.19 to cities, boroughs and first class districts in the commonwealth. The money represents the quarterly distribution out of the $20,000,000 appropriation from the Motor License Fund as provided by the 1947 Legislature.

Use of the funds by local governments is limited to street, road and bridge construction and maintenance. Allocations are made on a road mileage basis.

The amount allocated to Lawrence are:

New Castle, $7,708.91; Bessemer, $348.25; Ellport, $602.67; Ellwood City, $2,397.13; Enon Valley, $154.78; Volant, $64.81; Wampum, $224.43; Big Beaver, $557.51; Hickory, $630.09; Little Beaver, $782.10; Neshannock, $798.17; Perry, $667.90; Plain Grove, $670.66; Pulaski, $1,022; Scott, $612.71; Taylor, $301.30; Union, $659.07; Washington, $563.03; Wayne, $701.02; Wilmington, $720.34.

Opposes Return Of Fritz Kuhn To United States

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(INS)—Rep. Celler (D) N. Y., chairman of the House Judiciary committee, warned today that he will "raise merry hell" if Fritz Kuhn, former bund leader, is ever permitted to re-enter this country.

Kuhn was released from prison by a German court earlier this week and announced his intention of returning to the United States and regaining his citizenship.

Celler, whose committee is in charge of immigration and naturalization matters, asserted that the State department "wouldn't dare consider" allowing the one-time head of the German-American Bund to re-enter the United States.

He termed Kuhn "an arrant knave" and condemned his announcement in Germany as "an act of unmitigated arrogance."

Women Voters Hear Of Child Welfare

Problems of dependent and neglected children of Lawrence county were presented and defined in a very informative and interesting manner at the League of Women Voters' meeting Wednesday in the parlor of the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Mary B. [illegible]elder, secretary of child welfare in our neighboring county, was introduced and brought an enlightening word picture of how the program operates there.

For some time several local organizations have lent their support towards securing such a program to augment the work now being done in Lawrence county in connection with unfortunate children.

Among the large audience present were members of the Ministerial association, various women's organizations and county officials. From the lively question and answer period following the discourse it was evident that there is considerable interest in the problem.

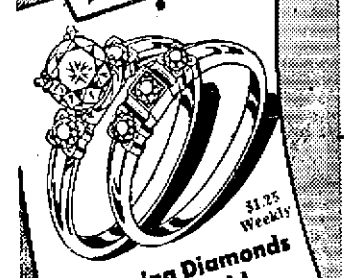

A short business meeting followed the program and the group adjourned to meet March 23, at the same place.

The three states with the highest average rainfall are Alabama, Louisiana, and Mississippi. Those with the lowest are Arizona, Nevada, and Idoho.

Chicago White Sox Are Seeking Scarborough Or Marchildon

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—The Chicago White Sox, busier than a small parts salesman all winter long and dealing in approximately similar material, are still in there striving.

Latest news from the sub-basement of the American league is that general manager Frank Lane of the pale stockings has made definite overtures in the direction of Washington and the Philadelphia Athletics.

Want Pitcher

Although Lane would not say what Sox players were involved, he was known to have offered a pair of them to the Senators—plus money, if need be—for Ray Scarborough, who chalked up 15 triumphs and was tagged for eight defeats with the Washingtons last year. A record like that is not to be scorned, as Lane knows too well. If Scarborough could do 15-8 for the Senators, who finished seventh, what uncharted heights might he attain with the White Sox, who finished eighth?

Meanwhile, Lane has hung two players out as bait for the Philadelphia Athletics' likewise-talented pitcher, Canadian-born Phil Marchildon.

Whether the two players offered to Philadelphia resembled the two players offered to Washington was not disclosed by the Sox, but if one of them was Don Kolloway in either or each instance, no one would be amazed.

Kolloway, a second baseman who has also turned up at first and third for the Sox at times, is in alleged demand throughout the league because of his utility value.

The White Sox, though, are pretty well set at second with the dashing Cass Michaels, even if he hasn't signed his 1949 contract yet. He is not unique in that sense. Kolloway hasn't signed either.

Lane, for some time, was hopeful of sending Kolloway to Detroit in exchange for a pitcher. But Billy Evans, the Tigers' general manager, nixed those goings-on, and the Sox previously had been shut out of dealings with the St. Louis Browns.

What has happened to the Sox' youth movement in their quest for the 30-year-old Scarborough and the 33-year-old Marchildon is not entirely apparent, but thunder or flood, they always can fall back on their shortstop, Luke Appling. He is 40 or better, and, sportingly speaking, the youngest man in the crowd.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

CARL A. ROGAN, P.O. Box 386, PITTSBURGH, has written Paul W. Fombelle, businessman and hunter, a letter stating he feels Mr. Fombelle, accidentally, or purposely misinterpreted his recent letter, adding: "I am inclined to agree with you 100 percent on one thing—that there is a necessity for an account of the 'Button' bucks killed during each doe season." Further, Mr. Rogan says: "I do agree that a doe season is not necessary in some counties, but very few." He says this is pointed out by farmers who claim deer is ruining their crops. He adds that a campaign of feeding deer is now being carried out. "Your statement that we should carry on a greater feeding and planting program meets with the approval of sportsmen and the Game Commission," Mr. Rogan writes, and explained he did not in any way imply that, 107 hunters who oppose a doe season per the ballot case in New Castle, were the persons who killed illegal deer. "Also note, I said work 'with the Game Commission', not 'for (as you imply I said. There is a great difference. I am against any outdoors writer that would work for the Game Commission. But I do believe the writer should get the commission's view, the sportsman's ideas, then add his. These three should be combined in a story. I'm sure the Game Commission would welcome any suggestion you make." Mr. Rogan asks Mr. Fombelle how he knows the commission overestimated the deer herd and says it isn't trying to make fools out of the sportsmen. He says: "I doubt if there is an out-doors writer, including myself, that is against a doe season; the commission thinks we should have one, and the State Federation of Sportsmen recently voted to let the commission decide the question."

SERVICE TO SPORTSMEN

Accompanying a copy of the letter to Mr. Fombelle, was one as follows:

Pittsburgh 30, P.O. Box 386, February 22, 1949

Mr. Ed Fritz,
Here & There in Sports'land
Dear Ed:

Enclosed is a copy of a letter I wrote in answer to Mr. Fombelle's dated Feb. 15, and printed in The News yesterday, Feb. 21.

If you so desire, you may use it in a future column. I think my argument is clear enough, but feel sure Mr. Fombelle has either intentionally or accidentally misinterpreted my exact statements.

And, by the way, in my humble opinion, The News is contributing a great service to the sportsmen of Pennsylvania by carrying on discussions of this sort, and of the many other articles written for Here & There readers. Keep it up. If I can be of any help just yell.

I will very shortly send you a copy of "Our Deer Problem" which has been cut.

With very best regards, I am
Sincerely

(Signed) CARL A. ROGAN.

WHAT THEY SAY

Sam Haycock: "I think Billy Pozza would defeat Elkins Brothers. I saw Freddy Schott defeat Rizieri Ronzi at Akron. However, I pick Ronzi to defeat Art Williams here, March 2."

George Rigby: "If Elkins Brothers would hit Billy Pozza—Good Night!"

Dent Shields: "I believe Billy Pozza will beat Brothers, if they box."

Neil Williams: "At our camp near Ward's ranch, there is great need of browse for deer. When a fire sweeps the forest, fire-weed grows the first year, and briar, the second. Then comes blackberry and other bushes and, later, browse."

George Chip: "My success as a pugilist was due to the fact that, I obeyed every instruction my manager, the late Jimmie Dime gave me. I had so much confidence in his word, he had me believing I could defeat anyone with whom I was matched."

Lank Warnock: "Game cocks are trained, in some respects, the same as a fighter. They do 'road-work' on a tread, miniature gloves are attached to their feet, and their work against each other, reminds one of sparring. Some cocks are so 'ornery', they'll fly against and break your leg." (No mains are held in this district anymore because they are banned by law, plus alertness of authorities.)

Percy White: "Local sportsmen will go to a point near Phillipsburg, March 6, to watch pilots drop corn, provided by sportsmen, to wild game."

Lloyd McKinnon, who heads the Chiefs, a new organization with 400 members: "The Chiefs will have a baseball team (not the Mid-Atlantic Chiefs) this season."

Billy Mongiello, manager of the Chiefs, Mid-Atlantic league: "We will start training about April 15, at Flaherty Field."

LaSALLE-NYU SUFFER DEFEATS

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—(INS)—The hopes of LaSalle College and New York University for a bid to the National Invitation Basketball Tourney were at a low ebb today as a result of unexpected defeats suffered at Madison Square Garden last night.

Manhattan, trounced by LaSalle by 30 points in Philadelphia only two weeks ago, tripped up the Explorers 62 to 53.

PALMER FAVORED TO WIN TOURNEY

HARLINGEN, Tex., Feb. 25.—(INS)—Chunky Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., was favored to win the $10,000 Rio Grande Valley open as 135 golfers teed off today over the Harlingen municipal course.

Missing from the entry list was Slammin' Sammy Snead of White Sulphur Springs, N. C., but officials were hopeful he would be on the firing line before the last man drove down the first fairway.

Jerome Davis of the Chicago Cards made the longest punt return of the National Football league 1948 season when he lugged one back 70 yards t a touchdown against New York.

New Yorkers Leading ABC

ATLANTIC CITY, Feb. 25.—(INS)—The American Bowling and Billiard Corporation squad, of New York, treated the spectators to the best example of competitive team bowling so far in the 13-day-old 46th annual American Bowling Congress, and took over the lead in the five-man event with a potent 2968 series last night.

A 1000-average team in the Metropolitan major league, the New Yorkers lived up to their advance clippings, bowling games of 922, 1019 and 1025—the first team in the tournament to roll two 1000 games in the five-man event.

Spectators Thrilled

Spectators received thrill after thrill as the new leaders overcame a 64-pin deficit by which they trailed the Joe's Bar squad, of Cleveland, bowling on the adjoining alley after the second game.

The Joe's Bar squad took over third place in the team event with a 2868 total, including a 1049 second game which is the highest team game rolled so far.

After the second game, Joe's Bar needed only an 866 game to toe for the lead while the New York team was 930 pins short of a tie for first. But while the Cleveland squad slipped badly to 861, the New Yorkers came up with their 1025 game.

Rickey Knappi paced the New York team to victory with a 167, 208, 237, while Sid Baum hit the wood for 191, 203 and 206. Tony Sparando, one of the best bowlers in the east with a 203 average in the last ten ABC tournaments, anchored the team with 191, 199, 204.

AAC May Expand For 1950 Season

Dallas, Texas Business Men Interested In Entering Professional Football

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—The All-America Football conference will expand once again to eight teams in 1950 if its new piece of reincarnation, the team called the Chicago Hornets, proves even mildly successful in '49.

A group of businessmen from a city not yet introduced to professional football—presumably Dallas—already has requested a franchise in the AAC.

Seven-Team League

What is more, the request was said to have been made during the recent "survival meeting" of the AAC in Chicago, at which time the All-America, far from considering petitions for new membership, was popularly supposed to be readying its own collapse.

Instead, as everyone knows, the AAC announced it would continue in 1949, but merged its Brooklyn and New York franchises to become a seven-team league. To ever-hopeful citizens in the rival National Football league, this was taken as an initial step towards total failure. So it may come as something of a shock that it was only the element of time which prevented "City X" from obtaining an All-America franchise in 1949.

Not Enough Time

The delegation seeking to get into the AAC appears to have been informed that there was not enough time between now and the start of football practice to set up an entirely new franchise, that reasoning, from all indications, was correct.

Although the Chicago Hornets actually are a new franchise, the important spadework—a nucleus of Chicago players and a place to play—were already there. About 30 members of the defunct Rockets have been held over on the Hornet roster .To this have been added 27 names from the Brooklyn roster as an outgrowth of the Dodgers' merger with New York.

If, with the new setup, the All-America can lick its Chicago problem, it will then feel free to expand for 1950—proof that when peace comes to professional football, it will be on a equitable two-league baseball-type basis.

The Duquesne team is a puzzler. It certainly isn't great because great clubs don't make the elementary mistakes the Dukes do. They coast when they're ahead, kick away sizable leads—particularly against Arizona, Akron and Loyola, and are awfully spotty at the foul line.

Selecting Site For Army-Navy Tussle

WEST POINT, N. Y., Feb. 25.—(INS)—The site of the 1949 Army-Navy football classic may be announced today, with Philadelphia expected to get the prize again.

New York, Cleveland and Chicago also are bidding for the service game. However, Lieut. Col. Orrin C. Krueger, graduate manager of athletics at West Point, said today:

"It doesn't look as if those other cities are advisable."

Krueger planned to telephone Cap. H. H. Caldwell, Navy's director of athletics, on the subject today. He intimated an agreement will be reached.

REFEREE WOULD JUST REFEREE

HARRISBURG, Feb. 25.—(INS)—Boxing referees in Pennsylvania would lose their power to cast deciding ballots in ring contests should the legislature adopt a bill introduced in the House Wednesday by Rep. Edward Duffy, Jr., (D) Philadelphia.

He proposed adding another judge to the present two-member panel and confining the referee's duties to assuring compliance with rules.

SHORT SPORTS

When Veeck talks of getting busy, he talks about the thing he does best. Busy is the name for Bill. It is customary these days to call him baseball's best showman. I'm not at all sure that he isn't also the game's best salesman.

Wally Triplett, veteran of four campaigns at Penn State, next fall will play professional football for the Detroit Lions of the National league. Coach Bob Higgins rates Triplett one of the best defensive halfbacks he ever coached.

Leland E. Maines, Lehigh soccer goalie, Rutherford, N. J., is president of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity and serves on the sports staff of the student newspaper.

When Lehigh and Brown meet on the gridiron October 22 it will be the resumption of a rivalry dating back to 1896. Brown leads in the series 4-1.

The World Champion Cleveland Indians set nine attendance records last season, including new home and road totals.

World's Sweetest Job, Tasting Candy

PHILADELPHIA.— (INS)—How would you like to have the "sweetest" job in the world?

If you're a youngster, you'd probably regard this job as an ecestatic dream.

If you're a lorie-counter, you'd regard it as a nightmare.

But in Philadelphia there are people — men and women — who make a career of eating candy.

They actually eat chocolates all day long—and get paid for it.

Tempting, Toothsome Array

Each morning these candy-inspectors roll up their sleeves, and wade into an array of creams, nougats and other sweets, consuming perhaps as much as a pound a day.

The group meets every morning in the company's sixth floor conference room. Before them as they sit down at the table are large wooden trays, each containing large chunks of caramel and other uncoated candy centers, and finished, chocolate-enclosed morsels.

At these daily meetings—and also at other intervals during the day—the inspectors test the candy for shaps, weight, color, size—and tasts.

Doesn't Boost Weight

Says Miss Elizabeth H. Wicks, a chocolate-coating supervisor:

"I eat about half a pound every day, though I make a vow every morning to eat less. However, it hasn't had any effect on my weight or appetite during the past 12 years."

Miss Wicks is on the slim side; as is Mrs. Eleanor DeVadetzsky, a chemist and member of the tasting panel, who agrees with her colleague that the candy-tasting hasn't piled pounds on her.

Burns Fatal To Seventh Ward Man

Carl D. Hutchinson Dies In Hospital Late Thursday Afternoon

Carl D. Hutchison, aged 56 years, of 406 North Liberty street, succumbed in the New Castle Hospital at 3:15 p.m., Thursday as a result of burns about the entire portion of his body, which he suffered about 9:15 a.m., Thursday, when his bed clothing caught fire from a cigaret he was smoking.

Mr. Hutchison had been paralyzed on his right side, and was also blind, as the result of a stroke suffered some months ago, and it is believed that he was unaware that the bedclothing was afire because of this condition, until he was critically burned.

A former fireman for the Pennsylvania railroad, Mr. Hutchinson was born in Polk, Pa., April 7, 1893 and had resided in New Castle for the past 26 years. He was a member of the Mahoning Methodist church and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Dorothea Barge Hutchinson; two sons, Howard P., of this city and Edward P., of Canton; one daughter, Mrs. Richard Biddle of this city, two grandchildren and two brothers, L. R. Hutchinson of Franklin, and Charles A. Hutchinson, of Warren, Pa.

The body has been removed to the W. S. Caskey funeral home, 101 West Madison avenue where funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Rev. J. L. Petrie, pastor of the Mahoning Methodist church officiating.

Burial will take place in Sandy cemetery, Polk, Pa.

Friends will be received at the funeral home anytime after 7 o'clock this evening while the family will be present from 7 to 9 tonight and 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 Saturday evening.

REAL CRUSHER

LANCASTER, Pa.—(INS)—Production of the world's largest impact stone crusher will begin this month at the New Holland Manufacturing company in Lancaster. General Manager V. R. Despard said the crusher will reduce 50-inch rock to crushed stone in one operation.

British women and girls are using more cosmetics than before the war, it is estimated—$400 a year for society women; $32 a year for girls in low-income brackets.

"1949 Economy Housing Program" and what it means to the entire community. This meeting is a part of a broad national program and will be held at The Castleton hotel, March 10. It will be an affair beginning at 12:00 noon luncheon.

Discussing the program, Oakley W. Heselbarth, Director of the Federal Housing Administration for western Pennsylvania, said:

"I can do no better than emphasize what Raymond M. Foley, Housing and Home Finance Administrator, and Franklin D. Richards, FHA Commissioner, have pointedly said many times. This is that 'the construction of safe, livable homes at prices reasonably related to the incomes and financial resources of the vast majority of the people is a national necessity.'

"We all know that private enterprise with government support can and will meet this necessity and provide new housing in the lower-priced field on a scale commensurate with the great need. It is the hope of all of us to produce lower-cost homes in a volume never before attained. Every means at the disposal of the Federal Housing Administration is directed toward this objective. But it is a task for all. When we realize that there will always be a market for lower-priced homes, we get some grasp of what a tremendous undertaking it is, and that it cannot be accomplished overnight. We must all work toward the success of this program which is not only the '1949 Economy Housing Program' but one that must be continuing for many years to come."

TRUMAN'S PROGRAM TO BE PRESENTED TO U. N.

is calculated to allay current fears in the United States that the president's program, in its immediate concept, will call for an outlay of billions of dollars and consequently future tax increases.

The Truman program is fated to run rapidly into heavy opposition by the Soviet bloc. Recent allusions to this program by Thorp immediately drew fire from both the Russian and Polish delegates.

Some U. N. observers anticipate that the bitter battle provoked between East and West by the Marshall Recovery Plan will now be extended to the president's plan.

progress of Congress he should take it up with the Democratic leaders who are in control of the program."

Sen. Wiley (R) Wis., former Senate Judiciary Chairman: "The president's thought of a post-campaign report to the nation might prove to be a two-edged sword. It would give an opportunity for the opposition to tell the facts that were not told in the last campaign."

Other comment:

Rep. Mitchner (R) Mich., member of the House Republican policy committee—"There is no reason why the president can't express his views to the country. I wonder, however, if it ever occurred to him that one could outstretch himself. Members of the Congress will reflect the sentiments of the people."

Rep. Sabath (D) Ill., chairman of the House Rules Committee—"It's a speech right from the shoulder. Without any hesitation the president reiterated the pledges and the promises made by the party. Naturally he expects Congress will carry out the wishes of the vast majority of the American people. I'm for the president's plan to take the issues to the country. When the people are informed they will go after their senators and congressmen."

PRICE DECREASE FOR SOME AUTOS IS ANNOUNCED

the March cost-of-living adjustment was an indication that prices are on the way down.

The General Motors corporation this morning announced tags on its 1949 models will be marked down $10 to $40. The announcement was made shortly after GM workers were told their wages will be cut two cents an hour because of the drop in the cost-of-living.

UAW officials welcomed the pay decrease. T. A. Johnston, assistant director of the UAW-CIO GM department, said in a prepared statement that "GM workers accept the March cost-of-living adjustment not as a 'pay cut' but as an indication that prices are on the way down."

Johnston added the union is "well aware that economic security depends on bringing about a balance between purchasing power and prices—and prices have a long way to go down."

legislative program and policies of the P. S. E. A. and urged the support of the county branch.

Delegates to the 1949 mid-west convention district and state convention were elected, with Thomas Smathers, supervising principal of the Neshannock Township schools being elected. Arthur Gibson, president, and Edwin Beatty, of the Shenango Township schools, are automatically designated as delegates, by virtue of the fact that they are the president and vice president of the county branch.

Alternates who were selected, are: Mrs. Ruth Stunkard, Mt. Jackson school; Mrs. Elizabeth Gibson, Union Township school; Mrs. Mae McConahy, East Brook, and Robert C. Eagleson, New Wilmington.

Pep singing during the evening was led by Mrs. Elizabeth Gibson, music teacher at Union High school, accompanied by Mrs. Esther Eakin, of the Harlansburg school. The invocation was given by County Superintendent of Schools, John C. Syling.

A short report was also given during the evening by J. Arthur Turek, supervising principal of the Union Township schools, who is chairman of the legislative committee of the county branch.

Special guests included: Miss Grace Dodson, president of the New Castle branch; J. Barnes Weinstein, president of the Ellwood City branch, and Paul Varnum, principal of the elementary school of Dormont, former principal of the West Pittsburg school.

and the vast majority of the people are still very friendly to the United States."

The veteran diplomat, who is a native of Erie, Pa., said he heard many Communist sympathizers in Hungary refer to the United States as an "enemy country."

Referring to the Mindszenty trial, Chapin declared:

"I don't think we can discount the use of drugs or other physical pressure on the Cardinal or his subordinates. I have no evidence he was under the influence of drugs at the trial, but there are all kinds of pressures which can be used on a man today under such a regime."

The minister whom the Communist-dominated government sought to link with the alleged Mindszenty plot to overthrow the government, recalled that he was not allowed to attend the trial, and added:

"No Hungarian speaking person I had confidence in were allowed to attend."

Chapin declared the state department will decide whether he returns to Hungary.

He refused to elaborate on what has happened in Hungary until he has had a chance to report to Washington. He said he will "give a fuller story" after he checks in with his superiors.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved husband and father, Lawrence Fontaniello, who passed away one year ago today, Feb. 25, 1948.

"Quickly and suddenly came the call, his sudden death surprised us all. It was a bitter grief, a shock severe, to part with one we loved so dear. They say time heals all sorrow and helps one to forget, but time so far has only proved how much we miss him yet. God give us strength to fight it and courage to bear the blow, but what it meant to lose him, no one will ever know."

around the country to tell the people how their government is getting on.

"If we keep the people fully informed, I am confident that they will support the Congress and the president in our fight against the special interests."

It was the "special interests" that Mr. Truman assailed time and again during his campaign which carried him criss-cross 30,000 miles of the United States on a special train.

He warned of making another such tour to arouse the people if his legislative program bogs down in Congress.

Mr. Truman delivered his main address at a $100-a-plate dinner at the Statler Hotel. Earlier, he spoke extemporaneously at the Mayflower Hotel. Six thousand Democratic leaders and workers attended the two dinners.

Soviet Schedules War Maneuvers In Airlift Lanes

BERLIN, Feb. 25.—(INS)—Soviet officials today scheduled air-to-air firing and fighting maneuvers in the airlift corridors, and drew immediate verbal protests from the U. S., Britain and France.

The Russians announced that air-to-air shooting practice would be held at "airlift altitudes" in the Buckeburg-Berlin corridor, through which most of the British transports fly.

The Soviets also scheduled fighter operations by Yak and PO-2 planes at five airfields near the western airlanes. These were also described as taking place at altitudes used by the airlift planes.

Threatens To Ask For Draft Law For Doctors, Dentists

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(INS)—Defense Secretary Forrestal threatened today to ask Congress for a draft of doctors and dentists unless more civilian medical men volunteer for military service.

Forrestal also said doctors and dentists might be held in the service "beyond their normal time" unless there are more volunteers.

He told a news conference that he has undertaken an "intensive campaign" to get volunteers from the 15,000 men who were educated as physicians and dentists during the war but did not serve in the armed services.

New York Stocks

String Of Consecutive Declining Sessions Is Ended During Morning

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—(INS)—The stock market staged a mild recovery in early dealings today, ending a string of five consecutive declining sessions.

Among the industrial issues to chalk up small fractional gains were Chrysler up ⅜ at 51⅞; U. S. Steel up ⅛ at 70½; American Woolen up ⅜ at 35⅛, and International Paper up ⅛ at 45½.

Laggards included such prominent stocks as General Motors, Union Carbide, General Electric and Anaconda which dropped fractions.

Curtiss Wright was an outstanding strong spot, opening ⅜ higher on a block of 5,000 shares and then extending its rise to 9¼ for a net gain of ½.

Rails also favored the upside after their recent prolonged sell-off.

Southern Pacific gained ¼ to 39⅝, Rock Island was up ¼ at 28½ and Southern Railway was up ⅜ at 35.

Standard Oil of New Jersey showed up best in the oils with a gain of ⅜ to 66.

The bond market ruled irregular, with rails mostly lower.

Commodities did little. Wheat gained up to ⅜, and corn was up ¼. Cotton eased 25 cents a bale.

Bulgaria Rejects American Note Of Denunciation

Abruptly Returns Diplomatic Note Handed To Bulgarian Government

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—(INS)—The State department revealed that Bulgaria abruptly rejected a United States denunciation of charges that 15 Protestant pastors conspired with American officials in "espionage and treason."

The department said that an American note replying to the charges made by the Bulgarian government was delivered in Sofia Monday.

The Bulgarian foreign office returned the note to the U.S. Legation within an hour after its delivery.

State department sources said this method of rejecting a diplomatic note is almost unprecedented.

The American note demanded the right to have U. S representatives at the trial of the ministers and reserved other rights under the Bulgarian peace treaty. It also termed the Bulgarian charges "unfounded and ludicrous."

Handed Note Back

Delivery of the note was made by Charge d'Affaires Sidney E. O'Donoghue. Within an hour, the Bulgarian foreign office summoned Raymond F. Courtney, second secretary of the U. S. Legation and handed the note back to him.

O'Donoghue's note said:

"On instructions from my government, I have the honor to refer to the published indictment against 15 Protestant pastors in Bulgaria who are charged with 'espionage, treason and currency operations' involving United States government officials formerly on duty in Bulgaria.

"Such charges are unfounded and ludicrous. My government can only consider their formulation a blatant terroristic effort. In cynical disregard of the facts, designed to intimidate the small, respected Protestant religious denominations in Bulgaria and to discredit their sincere religious leaders.

"In the circumstances, my government reserves its rights under the treaty of peace with Bulgaria and requests that facilities be made available for representatives of the United States Legation to attend the trial."

Sunday Violations Bill Is Introduced

HARRISBURG, Feb. 24.—(INS)—Stiff penalties for Sunday violations of the so-called 19th century "blue laws" were proposed today by Sen. George N. Wade (R) Cumberland.

Enactment would lay a heavy hand on the Sunday activities of pleasure-loving Pennsylvanians.

He introduced a bill, referred to the judiciary general committee, proposing to boost the $4 penalty for participation in unauthorized Sunday activities to $100 and the jail term from six days to 30 days.

In addition, Wade would include a provision allowing the commonwealth to confiscate the gross receipts of any place of amusement not specifically authorized by law.
